

top_500_summary

| | Text | PredictedSummary |
|----|--|---|
| 2 | This is a confection that has been around a few centuries. It is a light, pillowy citrus gelatin with nuts - in this case Filberts. And it is cut into tiny squares and then liberally coated with powdered sugar. And it is a tiny mouthful of heaven. Not too chewy, and very flavorful. I highly recommend this yummy treat. If you are familiar with the story of C.S. Lewis' "The Lion, The Witch, and The Wardrobe" - this is the treat that seduces Edmund into selling out his Brother and Sisters to the Witch. | This is a confection that has been around a few centuries. It is a light, pillowy citrus gelatin with nuts - in this case Filberts. Not too chewy, and very flavorful. |
| 5 | I got a wild hair for taffy and ordered this five pound bag. The taffy was all very enjoyable with many flavors: watermelon, root beer, melon, peppermint, grape, etc. My only complaint is there was a bit too much red/black licorice-flavored pieces (just not my particular favorites). Between me, my kids, and my husband, this lasted only two weeks! I would recommend this brand of taffy -- it was a delightful treat. | The taffy was all very enjoyable with many flavors: watermelon, root beer, melon, peppermint, grape, etc. My only complaint is there was a bit too much red/black licorice-flavored pieces (just not my particular favorites). Between me, my kids, and my husband, this lasted only two weeks! |
| 6 | This saltwater taffy had great flavors and was very soft and chewy. Each candy was individually wrapped well. None of the candies were stuck together, which did happen in the expensive version, Fralinger's. Would highly recommend this candy! I served it at a beach-themed party and everyone loved it! | This saltwater taffy had great flavors and was very soft and chewy. None of the candies were stuck together, which did happen in the expensive version, Fralinger's. Would highly recommend this candy! |
| 7 | This taffy is so good. It is very soft and chewy. The flavors are amazing. I would definitely recommend you buying it. Very satisfying!! | This taffy is so good. The flavors are amazing. |
| 11 | One of my boys needed to lose some weight and the other didn't. I put this food on the floor for the chubby guy, and the protein-rich, no by-product food up higher where only my skinny boy can jump. The higher food sits going stale. They both really go for this food. And my chubby boy has been losing about an ounce a week. | I put this food on the floor for the chubby guy, and the protein-rich, no by-product food up higher where only my skinny boy can jump. The higher food sits going stale. They both really go for this food. |
| 12 | My cats have been happily eating Felidae Platinum for more than two years. I just got a new bag and the shape of the food is different. They tried the new food when I first put it in their bowls and now the bowls sit full and the kitties will not touch the food. I've noticed similar reviews related to formula changes in the past. Unfortunately, I now need to find a new food that my cats will eat. | My cats have been happily eating Felidae Platinum for more than two years. They tried the new food when I first put it in their bowls and now the bowls sit full and the kitties will not touch the food. I've noticed similar reviews related to formula changes in the past. |
| 18 | Twizzlers, Strawberry my childhood favorite candy, made in Lancaster Pennsylvania by Y & S Candies, Inc. one of the oldest confectionery Firms in the United States, now a Subsidiary of the Hershey Company, the Company was established in 1845 as Young and Smylie, they also make Apple Licorice Twists, Green Color and Blue Raspberry Licorice Twists, I like them all I keep it in a dry cool place because is not recommended it to put it in the fridge. According to the Guinness Book of Records, the longest Licorice Twist ever made measured 1.200 Feet (370 M) and weighted 100 Pounds (45 Kg) and was made by Y & S Candies, Inc. This Record-Breaking Twist became a Guinness World Record on July 19, 1998. This Product is Kosher! Thank You | According to the Guinness Book of Records, the longest Licorice Twist ever made measured 1.200 Feet (370 M) and weighted 100 Pounds (45 Kg) and was made by Y & S Candies, Inc. This Product is Kosher! |
| 30 | I have never been a huge coffee fan. However, my mother purchased this little machine and talked me into trying the Latte Macciato. No Coffee Shop has a better one and I like most of the other products, too (as a usually non-coffee drinker!). The little Dolche Guesto Machine is super easy to use and prepares a really good Coffee/Latte/Cappuccino/etc in less than a minute (if water is heated up). I would recommend the Dolce Gusto to anyone. Too good for the price and I'am getting one myself! :) |). The little Dolche Guesto Machine is super easy to use and prepares a really good Coffee/Latte/Cappuccino/etc in less than a minute (if water is heated up). I have never been a huge coffee fan. I would recommend the Dolce Gusto to anyone. |

| | | |
|----|---|--|
| 32 | McCann's Instant Oatmeal is great if you must have your oatmeal but can only scrape together two or three minutes to prepare it. There is no escaping the fact, however, that even the best instant oatmeal is nowhere near as good as even a store brand of oatmeal requiring stovetop preparation. Still, the McCann's is as good as it gets for instant oatmeal. It's even better than the organic, all-natural brands I have tried. All the varieties in the McCann's variety pack taste good. It can be prepared in the microwave or by adding boiling water so it is convenient in the extreme when time is an issue. McCann's use of actual cane sugar instead of high fructose corn syrup helped me decide to buy this product. Real sugar tastes better and is not as harmful as the other stuff. One thing I do not like, though, is McCann's use of thickeners. Oats plus water plus heat should make a creamy, tasty oatmeal without the need for guar gum. But this is a convenience product. Maybe the guar gum is why, after sitting in the bowl a while, the instant McCann's becomes too thick and gluey. | There is no escaping the fact, however, that even the best instant oatmeal is nowhere near as good as even a store brand of oatmeal requiring stovetop preparation. It's even better than the organic, all-natural brands I have tried. One thing I do not like, though, is McCann's use of thickeners. Oats plus water plus heat should make a creamy, tasty oatmeal without the need for guar gum. |
| 33 | This is a good instant oatmeal from the best oatmeal brand. It uses cane sugar instead of high fructose corn syrup, so not only does it have a better sweetness, but some doctors now say that this form of sugar is better for you. Great on a cold morning when you don't have time to make McCann's Steel Cut Oats. The apple cinnamon is the best but the maple and brown sugar or the regular are good too. Plus they don't require doctoring to actually tell the three flavors apart. | The apple cinnamon is the best but the maple and brown sugar or the regular are good too. Great on a cold morning when you don't have time to make McCann's Steel Cut Oats. Plus they don't require doctoring to actually tell the three flavors apart. |
| 37 | What else do you need to know? Oatmeal, instant (make it with a half cup of low-fat milk and add raisins;nuke for 90 seconds). More expensive than Kroger store brand oatmeal and maybe a little tastier or better texture or something. It's still just oatmeal. Mmm, convenient! | What else do you need to know? Oatmeal, instant (make it with a half cup of low-fat milk and add raisins;nuke for 90 seconds). |
| 38 | I WAS VISITING MY FRIEND NATE THE OTHER MORNING FOR COFFEE , HE CAME OUT OF HIS STORAGE ROOM WITH (A PACKET OF McCANNS INSTANT IRISH OATMEAL .) HE SUGGESTED THAT I TRY IT FOR MY OWN USE ,IN MY STASH . SOMETIMES NATE DOSE NOT GIVE YOU A CHANCE TO SAY NO , SO I ENDED UP TRYING THE APPLE AND CINN . FOUND IT TO BE VERY TASTEFULL WHEN MADE WITH WATER OR POWDERED MILK . IT GOES GOOD WITH O.J. AND COFFEE AND A SLICE OF TOAST AND YOUR READY TO TAKE ON THE WORLD...OR THE DAY AT LEAST.. JERRY REITH... | HE SUGGESTED THAT I TRY IT FOR MY OWN USE ,IN MY STASH . AND COFFEE AND A SLICE OF TOAST AND YOUR READY TO TAKE ON THE WORLD...OR THE DAY AT LEAST.. JERRY REITH... IT GOES GOOD WITH O.J. |
| 41 | McCann's makes oatmeal for every oatmeal connoisseur, whether one likes it from the raw pellet state that cooks for half an hour, to the sloth addled instant, which can be done in the microwave for under three minutes. It's all good, that's for sure, and the beauty of the instant variety is that it is available in different flavors as well as regular. This variety pack allows different tastes to be explored, as well as giving you a chance to experience the difference between McCann's and other well-known oatmeals. What I personally like about McCann's is that it cooks up thicker and with more body than the top brand here in America. The Apples & Cinnamon, though, tends to be a little liquidy so you may want to experiment with the amount of water you add. In my 1300watt microwave the oatmeal cooks up in about one minute and twenty-seven seconds, so you should also watch that to get a handle on how much time and water to use. > The only bad thing -- if you can consider it a bad thing -- about this offering is that you have to buy in lot so you'll end up with six ten-count boxes. This is good if you have a whole family of oatmeal-eaters, but if you're a single person alone -- well, love oatmeal. | McCann's makes oatmeal for every oatmeal connoisseur, whether one likes it from the raw pellet state that cooks for half an hour, to the sloth addled instant, which can be done in the microwave for under three minutes. In my 1300watt microwave the oatmeal cooks up in about one minute and twenty-seven seconds, so you should also watch that to get a handle on how much time and water to use. The only bad thing -- if you can consider it a bad thing -- about this offering is that you have to buy in lot so you'll end up with six ten-count boxes. This is good if you have a whole family of oatmeal-eaters, but if you're a single person alone -- well, love oatmeal. |

| | | |
|----|---|--|
| 48 | I really like the Maple and Brown Sugar flavor. The regular is fine with brown sugar added. The Apples and Cinnamon flavor is OK. This is a very quick, easy and satisfying breakfast and I'll order this brand again, but not the variety. I'll get all Maple and Brown Sugar. | I really like the Maple and Brown Sugar flavor. The regular is fine with brown sugar added. The Apples and Cinnamon flavor is OK. |
| 52 | This wasn't in stock the last time I looked. I had to go to the Vermont Country Store in Weston to find it along with a jaw harp, Cranberry Horseradish Sauce, Fartless Black Bean Salsa, Apple Cider Jelly, Newton's Cradle Art in Motion and the staple Vermont Maple Syrup. Back to the Ass Kickin' Peanuts. They are hot. They will activate the perspiration glands behind your ears and under your arms. It requires a beverage as advertised, a glass of very cold milk, and a box of Kleenex since it will make your nose run. They look like ordinary peanuts which is already giving me ideas for work. I suspect that some people have been hitting my goodies in my absence, especially my colleague Greg. I'm going to take this to work at earliest opportunity and empty the contents of this can into an ordinary Planters Peanuts can, and then see whose crying or whose nose is running when I return. The can should be shaken to ensure the spices are evenly distributed. It is important to wash your hands after consumption and not touch the eyes. You'll go nuts over these Ass-Kickin' Peanuts. P.S. I'm not sharing the peanuts, not deliberately, and I'll probably give Greg the jaw harp for Christmas. He'll be so insulted. | They are hot. They will activate the perspiration glands behind your ears and under your arms. I'm going to take this to work at earliest opportunity and empty the contents of this can into an ordinary Planters Peanuts can, and then see whose crying or whose nose is running when I return. The can should be shaken to ensure the spices are evenly distributed. He'll be so insulted. |
| 54 | I roast at home with a stove-top popcorn popper (but I do it outside, of course). These beans (Coffee Bean Direct Green Mexican Altura) seem to be well-suited for this method. The first and second cracks are distinct, and I've roasted the beans from medium to slightly dark with great results every time. The aroma is strong and persistent. The taste is smooth, velvety, yet lively. | The first and second cracks are distinct, and I've roasted the beans from medium to slightly dark with great results every time. The aroma is strong and persistent. The taste is smooth, velvety, yet lively. |
| 57 | It is chocolate, what can I say. Great variety of everything our family loves. With a family of six it goes fast here. Perfect variety. Kit Kat, Reeses, take five and more. | With a family of six it goes fast here. Perfect variety. |
| 63 | I have used the endurolyte product for several years in both pill and powder form. Long desert rides on the dirt bike always found my camelbak water heavily laced with the endurolyte powder, not overly tasty, but quite effective, as I never got a cramp on these several hundred mile rides. Same for desert racing in the buggy, the camelbaks were always laced with the powder. Now we have the Fizz...what a great product! Firstly, its Hammer's endurolyte product so it's great, endurance athlete's the world over use their products. Second its convenient, handy tablets that dissolve in a fizz. Third it tastes great! Imagine getting a nice cool drink when your body is starving for hydration and electrolytes and rather than getting a "salty" taste, you get a refreshing lemon-lime or mango! The camelbaks always get the Fizz now. I also drop a tablet in my bottled water whenever I exercise and have a nice flavored water chock full of electrolytes. I cannot recommend this product or any hammer product highly enough. | I have used the endurolyte product for several years in both pill and powder form. I also drop a tablet in my bottled water whenever I exercise and have a nice flavored water chock full of electrolytes. Third it tastes great! I cannot recommend this product or any hammer product highly enough. |

| | | |
|----|--|--|
| 66 | For those of us on a low carb diet these little tablets are just the thing. Two years ago I started cycling again after many years but was having heart arrhythmia after longer rides in high heat. I was drinking plain water but did a little research and thought electrolytes might be the issue. Gatorade wasn't an option because it is so loaded with carbohydrates so I looked around for a low-carb alternative. The "zero carb" sports drinks didn't help so what to do? One day I ran across these at my bike shop so tried a tube of them.....voila!...problem solved!! I've shared them with two friends in particular whose problems with leg cramps were resolved while using these. These guys got it right -- they are superbly formulated and simply work..... | For those of us on a low carb diet these little tablets are just the thing. Two years ago I started cycling again after many years but was having heart arrhythmia after longer rides in high heat. The "zero carb" sports drinks didn't help so what to do? Gatorade wasn't an option because it is so loaded with carbohydrates so I looked around for a low-carb alternative. |
| 67 | I purchased the Mango flavor, and to me it doesn't take like Mango at all. There is no hint of sweetness, and unfortunately there is a hint or aftertaste almost like licorice. I've been consuming various sports nutrition products for decades, so I'm familiar and have come to like the taste of the most of the products I've tried. The mango flavor is one of the least appealing I've tasted. It's not terrible, but it's bad enough that I notice the bad taste every sip I take. | I purchased the Mango flavor, and to me it doesn't take like Mango at all. There is no hint of sweetness, and unfortunately there is a hint or aftertaste almost like licorice. It's not terrible, but it's bad enough that I notice the bad taste every sip I take. |
| 70 | These Albanese gummi bears and rings and so on are very good and tasty and high quality. The bears even have little faces. At my local candy store this type of gummi stuff (bears, rings, snakes, balls, worms, whatever) are about $10/lb. These twin packs of 4.5 or 5 pound bags is a screaming deal as far as I'm concerned. I'm probably 50 pounds deep in these friggin' things. Consumed! | At my local candy store this type of gummi stuff (bears, rings, snakes, balls, worms, whatever) are about $10/lb. The bears even have little faces. These twin packs of 4.5 or 5 pound bags is a screaming deal as far as I'm concerned. |
| 71 | Grape gummy bears are hard to find in my area. In fact pretty much anyone I talk to about grape gummy bears they think I'm lying. So I bought 10lbs... :) These bears are a little bit bigger than the other brands and have kind of sour kick, but nothing to strong. I love grape flavored candy/soda and these are pretty good. There is another company that makes grape gummy bears that are a little bit better in my opinion, but these are well worth it for the price. I like to use the gummy bears in home made Popsicles with flavored sports drink. The salt in the sports drink makes for softer popsicles, and the gummy bears are awesome frozen. They are delicious! | So I bought 10lbs... :) These bears are a little bit bigger than the other brands and have kind of sour kick, but nothing to strong. I like to use the gummy bears in home made Popsicles with flavored sports drink. They are delicious! |
| 72 | I ordered two of these and two of raspberry lattice tarts directly from FantasiCakes website for a dinner party I was hosting. It arrived fresh and intact. Very good size. I froze half for later use. I am a pastry lover and these were the best I've ever tasted. The pastry was soft, the jam was really good and the taste was great. They were gone in no time. My guests were really impressed. | Very good size. I ordered two of these and two of raspberry lattice tarts directly from FantasiCakes website for a dinner party I was hosting. They were gone in no time. |

| | | |
|----|---|---|
| 73 | Buyer Beware Please! This sweetener is not for everybody. Maltitol is an alcohol sugar and can be undigestible in the body. You will know a short time after consuming it if you are one of the unsuspecting many who cannot digest it by the extreme intestinal bloating and cramping and massive amounts of gas a person can experience. Nausea, diarrhea & headaches can also be experienced. I learned my lesson the hard way years ago when I fell in love with the sugar-free chocolates suzanne sommers used to sell. I thought I'd found sugar-free chocolate nirvana at first taste but the bliss was short lived when the terrible side effects of maltitol kicked in. The discomfort was unlike anything I had ever felt before. I blew up like a balloon and had very painful abdominal cramping. As the symptoms passed, this too was very unpleasant. Though hard for me to believe a low calorie sweetener could be the culprit, all symptoms were gone when I stopped eating the chocolate. My hunch it had something to do with the maltitol were unfortunately confirmed for me about a year later when I purchased some delicious sugar-free popcorn at my local market. The taste was amazing and while I was looking at the label wondering what could possibly make this yummy, new sugarfree treat taste so good, my heart sank when I followed the little asterisk next to sugarfree sweetener* down to the very bottom of the label and read "maltitol" in tiny little letters! Thank goodness I'd eaten only a little. I still ended up with all the same side-effects but for a much shorter duration. Some people can use maltitol to their heart's content but others, like me, can have a bad reaction to it. In case you're like me, ... it's not you ...it's the maltitol! | Buyer Beware Please! Nausea, diarrhea & headaches can also be experienced. I learned my lesson the hard way years ago when I fell in love with the sugar-free chocolates suzanne sommers used to sell. As the symptoms passed, this too was very unpleasant. Some people can use maltitol to their heart's content but others, like me, can have a bad reaction to it. |
| 76 | These looked like a perfect snack to through in with my trail mix. Unfortunately, they arrived in a solid mass of melted chocolate. I left them in my pantry for a few days, and when I opened them at room temperature they were still gooey. I through them in the fridge and I've been breaking off hunks ever since. They taste good to me, but the chocolate is all grainy after melting and then solidifying again. I won't order them online again, but if I see them in a store I would pick them up. | Unfortunately, they arrived in a solid mass of melted chocolate. I left them in my pantry for a few days, and when I opened them at room temperature they were still gooey. I won't order them online again, but if I see them in a store I would pick them up. |
| 77 | These taste really good. I have been purchasing a different brand and these are very similar in taste and texture. I agree with the other reviewer regarding ordering in the summer. There is no insulating packaging with ice packs so they will melt in warm weather like all chocolate food items. Order in cold weather and buy enough to last!!! | These taste really good. I have been purchasing a different brand and these are very similar in taste and texture. There is no insulating packaging with ice packs so they will melt in warm weather like all chocolate food items. |

| | | |
|----|--|---|
| 82 | I know the product title says Molecular Gastronomy, but don't let that scare you off. I have been looking for this for a while now, not for food science, but for something more down to earth. I use it to make my own coffee creamer. I have to have my coffee blonde and sweet - but the flavored creamers are full of the bad kinds of fat, and honestly, I hate to use manufactured "food" items. I really don't think they are good for the body. On the other hand, I hate using cold milk or cream, because I like HOT coffee. I stumbled across this on Amazon one day and got the idea of making my own creamer. I also bought low-fat (non-instant) milk powder and regular milk powder. The non-instant lowfat milk is a little sweeter and tastes fresher than regular instant low-fat milk, but does not dissolve good in cold water - which is not a problem for hot coffee. You will have to play with the ratios - I would not do just the heavy cream, it made the coffee too rich. Also, I think the powder is too expensive to just use on it's own. I like mixing 1/3 of each together. For flavoring, I bough cocoa bean powder, vanilla bean powder, and caster (superfine) sugar. I mix up small batches along with spices like cinnamon and nutmeg to make my own flavored creamers. If you wanted, you could use a fake sweetner powder instead. I make up small amounts that I store in jelly canning jars. I also use my little food chopper/food processor to blend everything, so the sugar is not heavier and sinks to the bottom. Let it settle for a bit before opening the top though. This stuff tastes WAY better than the storebought creamers and it is fun to experiment and come up with your own flavors. I am going to try using some essential oils next and see if I can get a good chocolate/orange mix. All of the ingredients I mentioned are here online. Take the time to experiment. Maybe you don't use any low-fat milk. Or don't add any flavorings. It is up to you. Also, would make great housewarming/host(ess) gifts. I am sure other molecular people will be able to tell you more of what you can do with it, and I am sure I will experiment with it in cooking - but the main reason I bought it was to make my own creamer and it worked out great. | I like mixing 1/3 of each together. For flavoring, I bough cocoa bean powder, vanilla bean powder, and caster (superfine) sugar. I use it to make my own coffee creamer. I have to have my coffee blonde and sweet - but the flavored creamers are full of the bad kinds of fat, and honestly, I hate to use manufactured "food" items. You will have to play with the ratios - I would not do just the heavy cream, it made the coffee too rich. Maybe you don't use any low-fat milk. It is up to you. |
| 84 | Awesome dog food. However, when given to my "Boston", who has severe reactions to some food ingredients; his itching increased to violent jumping out of bed at night, scratching. As soon as I changed to a different formula, the scratching stopped. So glad Natural Balance has other choices. I guess you have to try each, until you find what's best for your pet. | Awesome dog food. As soon as I changed to a different formula, the scratching stopped. I guess you have to try each, until you find what's best for your pet. |
| 86 | My dog has a ton of allergies both environmental and food. She was on a prescription dog food before we had her tested to see what allergies she has. After we got the test back, we learned she was allergic to something in the prescription brand. So I finally found this dog food and she has done so well on this! She still has her environmental triggers, but I am happy she can finally eat something I know won't cause her pain. | My dog has a ton of allergies both environmental and food. She was on a prescription dog food before we had her tested to see what allergies she has. So I finally found this dog food and she has done so well on this! |
| 88 | Natural Balance Dry Dog Food Lamb Meal and Brown Rice Recipe did wonders for my Jack Russell. She has awful food allergy's and this food was our last hope because it was the last food we could find that didn't have SOMETHING in it that she was allergic to. She has no problem eating it dry but normally I mix the Natural Balance Dry Lamb and Brown Rice with the Natural Balance Wet Lamb and Brown Rice.. she seems to like that better. We started feeding it to our other dog (a Bichon) too and she loves it. If your dog has allergy's or stomach issue.. or if you want your dog to eat better food-- this is it! You will see a difference in your pet. | Natural Balance Dry Dog Food Lamb Meal and Brown Rice Recipe did wonders for my Jack Russell. She has no problem eating it dry but normally I mix the Natural Balance Dry Lamb and Brown Rice with the Natural Balance Wet Lamb and Brown Rice.. she seems to like that better. If your dog has allergy's or stomach issue.. or if you want your dog to eat better food-- this is it! |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 89 | Great food! I love the idea of one food for all ages & breeds. It's a real convenience as well as a really good product. My 3 dogs eat less, have almost no gas, their poop is regular and a perfect consistency, what else can a mom ask for!! | It's a real convenience as well as a really good product. I love the idea of one food for all ages & breeds. |
| 93 | My golden retriever is one of the most picky dogs I've ever met. After experimenting with various types of food, I have found she loves natural balance. What I really like about natural balance is the fact that it has multiple flavors in dry and wet varieties. I mix her dry food with a little wet food and my golden loves it. Furthermore, I do like mixing up the flavors each time as I think the same meal day over day might get a little boring, so I figured why not. I tend to stay away from the fish type though as it smells... Additionally, I started purchasing off Amazon because Petco didn't have the wet food box and only had a couple of cans. I came home and to my surprise realized that I could save $20 each time I bought dog food if I just buy it off Amazon. All in all, I definitely recommend and give my stamp of approval to natural balance dog food. While I have never eaten it, my dog seems to love it. | After experimenting with various types of food, I have found she loves natural balance. I mix her dry food with a little wet food and my golden loves it. Furthermore, I do like mixing up the flavors each time as I think the same meal day over day might get a little boring, so I figured why not. |
| 96 | My 1-1/2 year old basenji/jack russell mix loves this dog food. He's been noticeably healthier and more energetic since I switched him over from the standard dog foods earlier this year. Despite the higher cost of natural dog foods, I find that he eats significantly less of the Natural Balance dog foods and still stays happy and full. On the normal dog foods, he'd eat up to 3 cups of dog food a day (the recommended serving for his size), whereas he only eats about 1 cup to 1-1/2 cup of the Natural Balance dog food a day. When you take this into account, you're actually getting more "bang for your buck" with the natural dog foods since you don't have to buy as much to last just as long as the normal dog foods... and a healthier, happier dog, to boot! Add in the fact that you can get free, 2-day shipping with Amazon Prime... I'm sold!! | My 1-1/2 year old basenji/jack russell mix loves this dog food. When you take this into account, you're actually getting more "bang for your buck" with the natural dog foods since you don't have to buy as much to last just as long as the normal dog foods... and a healthier, happier dog, to boot! I'm sold! |
| 102 | The crust on these tarts are perfect. My husband loves these, but I'm not so crazy about them. They are just too sour/tart for my taste. I'll eat the crust and hubby takes my filling. My kids think they're great, so maybe it's just me. | The crust on these tarts are perfect. My husband loves these, but I'm not so crazy about them. I'll eat the crust and hubby takes my filling. |
| 105 | I like Creme Brulee. I loved that these were so easy. Just sprinkle on the sugar that came with and broil. They look amazing and taste great. My guess thought I really went out of the way for them when really it took all of 5 minutes. I will be ordering more! | I like Creme Brulee. They look amazing and taste great. I loved that these were so easy. |
| 107 | I first bought pickled asparagus at an Amish market and it was love at first bite. Hence, when I saw these on the discount rack at the local Safeway I cleaned it out. These are even better than the ones from the Amish market. They are fantastic, and some of the jars have a bonus clove of garlic at the bottom. I'm going to order the six pack and I'm a household of one. They wont go to waste! | They are fantastic, and some of the jars have a bonus clove of garlic at the bottom. I'm going to order the six pack and I'm a household of one. They wont go to waste! |
| 108 | I love asparagus. Up until very recently, I had never had pickled asparagus. Oh my goodness, when a friend introduced me to this exact brand, I couldn't believe how great stuff tasted. I loved it so much I bought the six pack. I've got 2 jars left. Gonna need more!! | I love asparagus. I loved it so much I bought the six pack. I've got 2 jars left. |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 109 | I'm presently on a diet and I was at my Fresh and Easy Neighborhood Grocery looking over possible diet foods. I wanted things that were tasty, non-fat and low in calories. I came home with about a dozen items. That's how I discovered the Tillen Farms Pickled Crispy Asparagus. Well, I've always liked asparagus anyway and I've enjoyed several brands of pickled asparagus. This Tillen Farms brand is really, really good! It's the best I can recall. There's an excellent flavor and a big clove of garlic down in the bottom of the jar which I'm looking forward to eating. I can't believe how good this asparagus tastes and right on the front it says "only 60 calories per jar!" Now this is my idea of a good diet food! Gary Peterson | That's how I discovered the Tillen Farms Pickled Crispy Asparagus. Well, I've always liked asparagus anyway and I've enjoyed several brands of pickled asparagus. I can't believe how good this asparagus tastes and right on the front it says "only 60 calories per jar!" This Tillen Farms brand is really, really good! |
| 111 | I have been drinking this tea for a long time now. I used to have to purchase it at a doctor's office because it wasn't available elsewhere. I'm so glad that I can buy it now from Amazon.com . I drink this tea throughout the day like other folks drink coffee. Wonderful taste. | I have been drinking this tea for a long time now. I'm so glad that I can buy it now from Amazon.com . |
| 112 | I have been drinking Royal King 100% Natural Organic Green Tea (100 tea bags x 2g each) as my every day tea for several years now. I buy 12 boxes at a time to save on shipping. For many years I used to drink coffee from morning till night. But finally I realized that drinking so much coffee was not healthy for me. I finally resolved to improve my health and stopped drinking coffee all together. I tried many alternative drinks to replace my coffee habit. I found that green tea was not only good tasting it also has health benefits. Green tea is one of the few drinks that actually makes you healthier (coffe and other drinks do not) - the only healthier drink is quality cold water. In my opinion, for the price, Royal King 100% Natural Organic Green Tea is one of the best tasting teas. This green tea has a beautiful golden color, the taste is bright and fresh. I recommend adding a tiny amount of Y.S. Organic Bee Farms RAW HONEY to the tea to add sweetness and health benefits too. I also give myself a treat once in a while by having a much more expense tea (Tribute Xi Hu Long Jing) but this fantastic tea is not practical for me to drink as my every day tea (although I would if I could afford it). >Cons: On my latest shipment the package shown on the Amazon page is different than the one shipped. The one shipped displays "NATURALLY HIGH IN POLYPHENOL CATECHINS" (a key contributive element to the possible health effects of tea), whereas the Amazon package displays "CAFFENE FREE". So I am not sure if this green tea is Caffene free or not. The other con is that sometimes the tea bag rips open when I unwrap the string from around the tea bag. So if the string seems stuck to the tea bag I put the bag in the hot water to unstick it. | I tried many alternative drinks to replace my coffee habit. So I am not sure if this green tea is Caffene free or not. In my opinion, for the price, Royal King 100% Natural Organic Green Tea is one of the best tasting teas. I recommend adding a tiny amount of Y.S. The other con is that sometimes the tea bag rips open when I unwrap the string from around the tea bag. |
| 114 | I love, love this green tea. It is very hard to find in our area and some places on the internet charge a big price and I usually don't get as many boxes as I did with this merchant. I will definitely order from this seller again!! Thanks!! I depend on my green tea fix everyday! | I love, love this green tea. It is very hard to find in our area and some places on the internet charge a big price and I usually don't get as many boxes as I did with this merchant. |
| 117 | In the 1980s I spent several summers in Italy. This biscotti is often given as a breakfast food or mid-day snack. They are simple and delicious and were not sold in the US back then. They are so good that I brought back two bags from a recent trip to Italy. It is great to see that they may now be found on Amazon! Note: it is great to open a bag, smell the contents, pour a glass of milk, then dip the Macines in the milk. Great routine and treat for kids! | In the 1980s I spent several summers in Italy. They are so good that I brought back two bags from a recent trip to Italy. This biscotti is often given as a breakfast food or mid-day snack. |

| | | |
|-----|---|--|
| 118 | I had heard a little about this product from the local pet store, then tried a small bag for our 2 cats of about 3 and 6 years respectively. The female, younger one took to it right away, and the older male, who was unfortunately weaned on the junk cat food with all the corn meal and etc... in it, and would usually refuse a diet change, actually liked it too. The older male is overweight and we were trying to switch him to soft food on the doctor's request, but he totally refused it. He is a posh cat after all. He still consumes too many calories, the fatty, but at least I know he's eating good food. Of course, I know this product seems to cost more than most other feline food on the market, but I just can't see feeding our animals the lousy alternatives that are out there, marketed as being healthy. Why do commercials show cats eating a vegetarian diet which is mostly corn meal? Is that right? I'll stay with this for now, but stay tuned. I'm updating this review after 9 months of using this cat food for our two cats. I upgraded the stars from 4 to 5 as it really has been a good food for the two of them. Garfield still eats a little too much, but he's just a big cat who doesn't exercise much, let's face it. Our female cat will be 4 years old in a couple months and she's so healthy. She's tiny, but happy and agile. I tried the chicken version of Holistic Select, but Garfield seemd to miss this sardine version so we went back to this one. I've ordered the duck version and will update this once they try it. | Why do commercials show cats eating a vegetarian diet which is mostly corn meal? The female, younger one took to it right away, and the older male, who was unfortunately weaned on the junk cat food with all the corn meal and etc... in it, and would usually refuse a diet change, actually liked it too. Is that right? Garfield still eats a little too much, but he's just a big cat who doesn't exercise much, let's face it. |
| 119 | I started buying this after I noticed my 1 year old cat was already starting to lose his "spunk" so I decided it was time to start buying him "real" cat food...not the garbage in the super markets. I found this at the pet store out of the other million choices, and I'm sure there are other brands that are just as good but this is the one I went with to try first and it was a great purchase. My cat has been on this for the past 8 months and he's now just has active as he was when he was a kitten and his coat has became sooo soft. Mainly, he loved the taste even more! I highly recommend this brand to all my friends and family for their animals! | I started buying this after I noticed my 1 year old cat was already starting to lose his "spunk" so I decided it was time to start buying him "real" cat food...not the garbage in the super markets. I found this at the pet store out of the other million choices, and I'm sure there are other brands that are just as good but this is the one I went with to try first and it was a great purchase. Mainly, he loved the taste even more! |
| 121 | This cat food was recommended by my vet because my 13 year old Cleo Cat was having trouble keeping any food down and was loosing weight. It stopped her problems. She doesn't eat as much as before since she seems to be more satisfied after eating which helps justify the added price. It aids in digestion since the...ok sorry...smells are gone if ya know what I mean. Had to add that so anyone experiencing problems with their cats can see there are a lot of benifits from this cat food. | It stopped her problems. This cat food was recommended by my vet because my 13 year old Cleo Cat was having trouble keeping any food down and was loosing weight. She doesn't eat as much as before since she seems to be more satisfied after eating which helps justify the added price. |
| 122 | I have a 4 year old male cat who has chronic urinary tract infections. I feed him this dry food in combination with wet food (with water added to it) and Uri Ease. The combination seems to keeps his UTI's under control. If I switch to another type of dry food, his UTI gets worse. The other cats seem to enjoy this food as well. It's expensive but it seems to be the best solution for me. | I have a 4 year old male cat who has chronic urinary tract infections. If I switch to another type of dry food, his UTI gets worse. It's expensive but it seems to be the best solution for me. |
| 123 | Before I was educated about feline nutrition, I allowed my cats to become addicted to dry cat food. I always offered both canned and dry, but wish I would have fed them premium quality canned food and limited dry food. I have two 15 year old cats and two 5 year old cats. The only good quality dry foods they will eat are Wellness and Innova. Innova's manufacturer was recently purchased by Procter&Gamble. I began looking for a replacement. After once again offering several samples (from my local holistic pet store) Holistic Select was the only one (other than the usual Wellness and Innova) they would eat. For finicky cats, I recommend trying Holistic Select. It is a good quality food that is very palatable for finicky eaters. | After once again offering several samples (from my local holistic pet store) Holistic Select was the only one (other than the usual Wellness and Innova) they would eat. Innova's manufacturer was recently purchased by Procter&Gamble. For finicky cats, I recommend trying Holistic Select. |

| | | |
|-----|---|--|
| 124 | My holistic vet recommended this, along with a few other brands. We tried them all, but my cats prefer this (especially the sardine version). The best part is their coats are so soft and clean and their eyes are so clear. AND (and I don't want to be rude, so I'll say this as delicately as I can) their waste is far less odorous than cats who eat the McDonalds junk found in most stores, which is a definite plus for me! The health benefits are so obvious - I highly recommend Holistic Select! | My holistic vet recommended this, along with a few other brands. AND (and I don't want to be rude, so I'll say this as delicately as I can) their waste is far less odorous than cats who eat the McDonalds junk found in most stores, which is a definite plus for me! The health benefits are so obvious - I highly recommend Holistic Select! |
| 126 | Our cats thrive extremely well on this dry cat food. They definitely have much less hair ball throw ups and their fur is great. They are fit and not over weight. This vendor ships extremely fast. Is one of the top Amazon suppliers in our book! | They definitely have much less hair ball throw ups and their fur is great. Our cats thrive extremely well on this dry cat food. Is one of the top Amazon suppliers in our book! |
| 136 | The BEST investment I've ever made for ginger. It's unbelievable! It's fibrous like the real ginger, has that spicy kick to it, but it's perfect with the sugar - calms it down. It's very worth the $40 for 5lbs of it! I'll be getting more soon - I use these as a topper for my ginger cupcakes and cookies :) | It's unbelievable! I'll be getting more soon - I use these as a topper for my ginger cupcakes and cookies :) It's very worth the $40 for 5lbs of it! |
| 139 | My son has had acid reflux since birth and has been on every medication available with no improvement, Until an older gentleman came into his work place and told him about this product and I automatically ordered it for him. I was really not expecting any better results than the 1000 other things we have tried. What a surprise! He has not had any heartburn or symptoms since day 2 of starting eating one piece of this Ginger each morning. He can now eat anything and actually enjoy it. This product was a God send for him. Thank you all for it! | What a surprise! My son has had acid reflux since birth and has been on every medication available with no improvement, Until an older gentleman came into his work place and told him about this product and I automatically ordered it for him. He can now eat anything and actually enjoy it. |
| 142 | I love these.....very tasty!!!!!!!!!!!! Infact, I think I am addicted to them. Buying them in packs of 6 bags - is very reasonable than going to Target and getting a bag. Savings are about a $1.00 a bag. I use subscribe and save on these and several other product. I love subscribe and save!!!!!!!!!!!! | I love these.....very tasty!!!!!!!!!!!! Savings are about a $1.00 a bag. I use subscribe and save on these and several other product. |
| 145 | Being a fan of Newman's Pineapple salsa for quite a while, I was looking for a comparable salsa. This is one of the best tasting salsas I've ever had. My daughters love it too. They don't like super chunky salsa and the Berry Mango has a nice smooth texture with small mango pieces. The salsa is not too sweet, just sweet enough and although it's mild, it has a nice little kick to it. At this price, it's a steal! | Being a fan of Newman's Pineapple salsa for quite a while, I was looking for a comparable salsa. My daughters love it too. The salsa is not too sweet, just sweet enough and although it's mild, it has a nice little kick to it. |
| 146 | The SALSA smelled delicious, as I think it probably was - but, unfortunately, the person, at AMAZON, that is a packer (there is probably several) had very little "stuffing" to work with, especially on the bottoms. Therefore, the bottoms were broken on all three bottles. As I reached for my computer; I was told NO RETURNS (cause it's a food item). I then looked for a CUSTOMER SERVICE tag; and I found "none" on their NEW FACE LIFT. THEY SEEM TO BE PROUD OF THEIR NEW FACE LIFT BUT...THEY SHOULD AT LEAST HAVE A PLACE TO CONTACT THEM IN EMERGENCIES! LIKE: I BUY A LOT OF "STUFF" AND IT ALL COMES IN STYROFOAM BOXES. NEVER WOULD I SHIP THINGS >ESPECIALLY SALSA - IN A CARDBOARD BOX WITH JUST A STRIPE OF LARGE BUBBLE WRAP ON IT. NO MATTER HOW MUCH THE CARRIER (FED EX) IS CAREFUL, IT'S GOING TO BREAK SOMEWHERE ALONG THE LINE. ESPECIALLY IN AN ALL GLASS CONTAINER! BARBARA L. S. | LIKE: I BUY A LOT OF "STUFF" AND IT ALL COMES IN STYROFOAM BOXES. I then looked for a CUSTOMER SERVICE tag; and I found "none" on their NEW FACE LIFT. ESPECIALLY IN AN ALL GLASS CONTAINER! BARBARA L. S. |
| 150 | This is a fabulous marinade! I love to use it for chicken, either baked in the oven OR on the grill. This has enough flavor & flair, I've even used it for dinner parties, only to receive rave reviews from my guests!! DEFINITELY worth the price! Super cheap and super easy! Love it! | This has enough flavor & flair, I've even used it for dinner parties, only to receive rave reviews from my guests!! DEFINITELY worth the price! Super cheap and super easy! |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 155 | I went to 4 grocery stores looking for this flavor of Jello for my green tomato jam recipe and finally found it here. This jello is wonderful! Evidently it's only carried in the stores during the summer but with harvest time in the Fall, I couldn't find it anywhere in town. This Jello tastes like watermelon and the jam recipe I made with it takes like watermelon jam! Great made as regular Jello too. Yummy! | This Jello tastes like watermelon and the jam recipe I made with it takes like watermelon jam! Evidently it's only carried in the stores during the summer but with harvest time in the Fall, I couldn't find it anywhere in town. Great made as regular Jello too. |
| 165 | I read about pomegranate molasses so I had to try it! I haven't made anything with it yet, just eaten a little bit at a time but WOW is it decadent! It's dark, syrupy, sour, and a little sweet. A dab of this and I forget about dessert. It's just a really unique flavor with a pleasing metallic undertone. Yum!! I'm going to try making fesenjan next :-) | I haven't made anything with it yet, just eaten a little bit at a time but WOW is it decadent! It's just a really unique flavor with a pleasing metallic undertone. Yum!! |
| 167 | I don't know how long these sat on the back of a shelf somewhere, but they were so old that they wouldn't cook. I had to throw half of them out, because the skins were damaged, a clear sign of dried beans past their prime. I can't even return these or ask for a refund, because food is not returnable. Will find a different brand to use. For now, I have about fifty servings of beans to throw away. | I don't know how long these sat on the back of a shelf somewhere, but they were so old that they wouldn't cook. I had to throw half of them out, because the skins were damaged, a clear sign of dried beans past their prime. Will find a different brand to use. |
| 171 | I have drunk Ricore since my mother allowed be to drink caffeine. I love this stuff in milk. It's much smoother and tastier than instant coffee with milk. I am French and live in the US, and bring back boxes of Ricore at every opportunity. Savora is another hidden gem you can bring back. Check it out. | I have drunk Ricore since my mother allowed be to drink caffeine. Savora is another hidden gem you can bring back. Check it out. |
| 173 | I couldn't wait to try the 8″ Cinnamon Coffee Cake because it is made with fresh eggs, creamy sour cream, Madagascar Bourbon Vanilla and is topped and filled with cinnamon streusel. This 8″ Cinnamon Coffee Cake is available online for only $18.95. Now, I have had my fair share of cinnamon coffee cakes, but, let me just tell you that the FantasiCakes Cinnamon Coffee Cake really "takes the cake" with size, price, quality and taste. The cake arrived very fast and was carefully packaged so that it arrived in almost perfect condition. It also comes with a large tub of white icing that you can drizzle over the top, before serving. I couldn't believe how large the size was and it actually fed my family of 5 for us to enjoy during breakfast, for three days. The cake itself is thick and almost has a solid but sponge cake type consistency that is really moist and very filling. The flavors are to die for with the sticky cinnamon outside and sweet cinnamon and vanilla swirled throughout the inside of the cake. The icing really tops it off beautifully and gives it that moist and sticky sweet flavor. Pair the cake with your morning coffee and you've got the perfect breakfast treat! | The flavors are to die for with the sticky cinnamon outside and sweet cinnamon and vanilla swirled throughout the inside of the cake. The cake itself is thick and almost has a solid but sponge cake type consistency that is really moist and very filling. I couldn't believe how large the size was and it actually fed my family of 5 for us to enjoy during breakfast, for three days. |
| 174 | I used to love these growing up and stopped drinking water and lemon juice from this brand about 5-6 years ago. This stuff used to be so strong i used to just pour some in my mouth and get that alive feeling going. It feels like the product went through changes which added more water or something to make it not so strong. The stronger it is the less you use as well. The product is still really good but the taste is the same quality as the cheaper brand names almost. I thought these would go fast but hey all lemon stuff i love unless it goes bad. This is a good product just wish it still had that hit me in the mouth chug sensation it used to be like. | I used to love these growing up and stopped drinking water and lemon juice from this brand about 5-6 years ago. It feels like the product went through changes which added more water or something to make it not so strong. This stuff used to be so strong i used to just pour some in my mouth and get that alive feeling going. |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 182 | WE have been looking for "natural" ways to help us sleep since we always seem to be overloaded with stress and a busy schedule. Yes, we'd probably be better served taking a yoga class, but this is a good second choice. This helps you fall asleep and stay asleep. I drank half the first night and that was plenty for me. After about 30 minutes, I was ready for bed! I woke up refreshed and with no sleepy-drug hangover, so that is a huge bonus. I gave the product 3 stars (instead of the 5 it deserves) as their packing job was marginal at best. The product arrived with 2 broken bottles, which at this price is a $6 loss! The bottles are glass and all they did was wrap one layer of the small-bubbled bubble wrap around the case and placed it in a larger box with extra room to move around in that box. Big packing fail, but the product is awesome. | After about 30 minutes, I was ready for bed! I woke up refreshed and with no sleepy-drug hangover, so that is a huge bonus. I gave the product 3 stars (instead of the 5 it deserves) as their packing job was marginal at best. The product arrived with 2 broken bottles, which at this price is a $6 loss! |
| 183 | We made chocolate chip cookies with BRM Garbanzo Bean Flour and the results were fantastic! The brown sugar and chocolate mask any bean taste that other reviews have mentioned. Our friends couldn't discern any difference from classic CCCs. The texture, body, and elasticity (meaning reduced tendency to fall apart that occurs with most other gluten-free flours) is nice and chewy -- the same as CCCs made with regular flour. And an added bonus -- the high protein and fiber level (I calculate 2-3 g fiber/cookie) fills you up so that you are satisfied with smaller servings and the glycemic index is significantly lower. I highly recommend this flour even if CCCs are the only thing you make with it. | We made chocolate chip cookies with BRM Garbanzo Bean Flour and the results were fantastic! Our friends couldn't discern any difference from classic CCCs. The texture, body, and elasticity (meaning reduced tendency to fall apart that occurs with most other gluten-free flours) is nice and chewy -- the same as CCCs made with regular flour. |
| 186 | This packet of glaze is the secret to making those European style fresh fruit tarts. I am about to make one for a pie auction at church, after a friend requested that something "strawberry" should be offered. You can make the most amazing and relatively "healthy" fruit tarts by baking a base, layering it with uncooked, fresh, sliced fruit, then pouring over the made-up contents of one of these packets. They harden up at room temperature, hold the fruit together so you can slice the tart, and they let the beauty of the arranged fruit show through. I've also seen this glaze used over cheesecakes, to hold a fruit topping in place. Personally, I do not like cheesecake (too rich for me) but a fruit glazed cheesecake is gorgeous, I will admit. To do this, slice fruit and layer it on the cheesecake while it's still in the springform pan. Pour on the glaze, let it set up and then remove the springform. You'll have a clear layer of fruit on top of the cheesecake. Cherries, strawberries or sliced mangos are nice, but the best one I ever had used thin slices of lemons, that had been gently poached in sugar syrup before they were layered on the cake. I use a base of sponge cake, baked in a shallow form, but other bases can be pate sucre (a kind of French pastry that is a bit like a sugar cookie) that works well in those fluted, straight-sided forms. You can also make mini-tarts in a muffin pan, pre-baking each mold with a layer of pie crust (even commercial crust works, though again, I prefer pate sucre, it holds its shape better and is more substantial and has a better crumb.) Just blind-bake the muffin tins lined with pate, then pop them out and fill with fresh fruits (berries are great) and pour over the glaze. Some people put a layer of creme patisserie, which is a pastry cream like custard but stabilized with flour, below the fruit and I happen to think these taste best. If you get into baking, this glaze is a must-have on the shelf. The ingredients are vegan: tapioca starch, carrageenan, dextrose, cream of tartar, locust bean gum, so if you are looking to make a vegan tofu cheesecake, you can use this on top, as well as use it for fruit tarts with a nut crust base. | I am about to make one for a pie auction at church, after a friend requested that something "strawberry" should be offered. You can make the most amazing and relatively "healthy" fruit tarts by baking a base, layering it with uncooked, fresh, sliced fruit, then pouring over the made-up contents of one of these packets. To do this, slice fruit and layer it on the cheesecake while it's still in the springform pan. Cherries, strawberries or sliced mangos are nice, but the best one I ever had used thin slices of lemons, that had been gently poached in sugar syrup before they were layered on the cake. I use a base of sponge cake, baked in a shallow form, but other bases can be pate sucre (a kind of French pastry that is a bit like a sugar cookie) that works well in those fluted, straight-sided forms. |

| | | |
|-----|---|---|
| 188 | I bought this coffee because its much cheaper than the ganocafe and has the organic reishi mushroom as well as other healthy antioxidants. I didn't expect it to taste good, but it actually does! I've only had it for a few days and for $5 its totally worth it. My sisters all take ganocafe but now I'm introducing them to this less expensive similar coffee. I will follow up on this product in a few weeks. :) | I bought this coffee because its much cheaper than the ganocafe and has the organic reishi mushroom as well as other healthy antioxidants. I didn't expect it to taste good, but it actually does! I've only had it for a few days and for $5 its totally worth it. |
| 203 | I keep a case of these in my office and always have at least a tin or two on my desk for visitors to help themselves to. Some folks stop by just to grab some mints and others pop them like candy while we meet. When I find someone who keeps coming back for more I just give them their own tin! One co-worker asked me to save the tins for her so she could use them as pillboxes and safety pin boxes. Like I said, theyre a real hit. Since I wouldn't be able to keep my hands off a candy dish, this is a good alternative to have around and it's nice to have them around if I have garlic for lunch! I gave the item 4 stars because they aren't as tasty as the sugar version of the mints but what sugar free item is as good as it's full sugar counterpart?) and because of the fact that each tin is wrapped in plastic which seems like a waste and is irritating to remove (although I totally get why they wrap it - it still doesn't make it easy to deal with). | Since I wouldn't be able to keep my hands off a candy dish, this is a good alternative to have around and it's nice to have them around if I have garlic for lunch! Like I said, theyre a real hit. I gave the item 4 stars because they aren't as tasty as the sugar version of the mints but what sugar free item is as good as it's full sugar counterpart?) |
| 208 | To me, these are nothing like the regular Altoids and are not breath mints. They are pleasant-tasting little candies in a cute convenient tin, and that's as far as it goes. The mintiness is just not strong, and the wintergreens are definitely weaker than the peppermint minis. I'm not a dragon-breath person, but still, one of these mints is too small to have any effect on my breath. Four or five will freshen my breath for a short while - maybe 15 minutes. At this point, I think the Icebreakers Frost mints are the best as sugar free breath mints. | I'm not a dragon-breath person, but still, one of these mints is too small to have any effect on my breath. The mintiness is just not strong, and the wintergreens are definitely weaker than the peppermint minis. They are pleasant-tasting little candies in a cute convenient tin, and that's as far as it goes. |
| 209 | we have fed our cats a lot of stuff. These 2 boy cats are not picky eaters. They loved the Purina. They loved the Nutro. They loved the lams. They love whatever we feed them. This review is based on what we, their affectionate owners love. After a certain age, we were instructed by the vet to consider senior foods- and lower carb foods, because the catties were fatties. We tried a few types of food. Some evinced no change. Some made the litter super-stink. Some had too small a kibble and the cats barfed it up because they didn't have to chew it to swallow it... This Felidae has done the trick. No problems to speak of. It is consistent in the litter and bearable on the nose. The cats love it. The kibble is sized appropriate to chewing. And here's the kicker: After feeding the cats Felidae, their demeanor improved. Their coats are super soft and lush- both are new improvements we can directly attribute to this food. We're now loyal Felidae consumers. Additionally, the absence of corn product in the feed seems to lessen or remove the reactions of our friends with cat-allergies. | These 2 boy cats are not picky eaters. They loved the lams. Some evinced no change. They love whatever we feed them. This review is based on what we, their affectionate owners love. Some made the litter super-stink. |
| 210 | I started my cat on Felidae Platinum about 3 weeks ago and she loves it. She's an older cat, somewhat overweight, and had a grouchy temperament. I first mixed it with her previous food and she figured out which was which -- she ate the Felidae and left the old food! She's now been on just the Felidae for about ten days now, off the old food entirely, and she is a much sweeter, happier cat. I think it must agree with her better or be more easily digested, or something. In any case, I am a happy purchaser of Felidae. I don't agree with the previous reviewer that cats don't like it. Clearly, mine does. | She's an older cat, somewhat overweight, and had a grouchy temperament. I first mixed it with her previous food and she figured out which was which -- she ate the Felidae and left the old food! In any case, I am a happy purchaser of Felidae. |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 211 | We have three cats, the youngest is about eleven years old, another is fifteen and our oldest is, well ancient. That is what the vet told us ten years ago. The youngest is a blob. When he lays down, he looks like a footstool. The other two are arthritic and skinny. Since we had such success with Canidae Platinum for senior dogs, I figured that we'd give it a try for our cats. I'd had them on low ash Purina One Urinary tract formula for their entire lives and thankfully we had no UT problems. Buster, the youngest, is still a blob after six months plus on Felidae for Senior and Overweight cats. However, the other two are now much more active and we can tell that they are really "feeling better" since we changed their food to Felidae. Even Prissy, the ancient one has started to play and tease the dogs by getting them to chase her, where before when she was on Purina One, all she wanted to do was to sleep. I think that if you can get your cat on this fairly early in their weight problems, it'll be more effective. However, the glucosamine will certainly help your older fur balls have a happier life. | We have three cats, the youngest is about eleven years old, another is fifteen and our oldest is, well ancient. The youngest is a blob. The other two are arthritic and skinny. Since we had such success with Canidae Platinum for senior dogs, I figured that we'd give it a try for our cats. |
| 212 | Too much of a good thing? We worked this kibble in over time, slowly shifting the percentage of Felidae to national junk-food brand until the bowl was all natural. By this time, the cats couldn't keep it in or down. What a mess. We've moved on. | By this time, the cats couldn't keep it in or down. What a mess. We've moved on. |
| 213 | As with canidae, Felidae has also changed their formula. Cats do not like change when it comes to their food. And they just had to change it without putting it on their label. We noticed the color of the food had changed and so did the smell. (As you will notice I have also reviewd the Canidae, and this all happened the same time the dogs were having issues.) Prior to the change in food we had almost lost two of our cats because we had moved to a new home. If cats get "upset" because of a change in enviornment, or a loud noise they can stop eating. It depends on the cat. Two of them had stopped eating and had lost a lot of weight. We took them to the vet and it took months to get them back to normal. It has been a year since then and they are better. Then the formula for this food changed. We started to noitce they were not eating as much and it started to bug us. We asked the shop owner of the feed store and she had no knowledge of any change to the food. It wasn't until the we were in there with other customers yelling about their dogs food making their dogs sick. Right away we changed the cats food and they started chowing down and haven't suffered one bit like our dogs have. Cats are sensitve animals and changes to thier food could cause them to stop eating. Anyone thinking of purchasing this food should not do it! We have 5 rescued and fixed cats, none of which are picky eaters and the change in this formula could have been the death of them had we not found out about the change in their formula. I urge anyone that has had these problems to go to the consumer affairs website and also the FDA website and write a letter to them to let them know how this has affected your animal. As with canidae they do not care how the change has affected my animals, and tell me not to buy it. This is just horrible! | As with canidae, Felidae has also changed their formula. (As you will notice I have also reviewd the Canidae, and this all happened the same time the dogs were having issues. We asked the shop owner of the feed store and she had no knowledge of any change to the food. It wasn't until the we were in there with other customers yelling about their dogs food making their dogs sick. This is just horrible! |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 217 | My husband and I are both kind of wimpy when it comes to hot things and this seasoning is just a bit too spicy for us. It definitely makes you sweat a bit when you're eating it. It was still edible to us by adding a good sized dollop of sour cream but I don't think I would buy it again due to the heat. We prefer the milder McCormick's brand of Fajita mix. I've also had fajitas in a couple of different restaurants and it wasn't as spicy as this mix is. If you like super spicy then this is not burning hot so you might want to keep that in mind. To me it was more than medium hot but not by too much. I gave it three stars because it was pretty easy to make and it's versatile in that you could vary the veggies you put in it. You take a plastic bag, a couple of tbs of vegetable oil, 1/4 cup water and mix the seasoning, water and oil together then add the chicken strips to the bag and let it marinate for 5 minutes. In the meantime, it says to stir fry your veggies (peppers and onion) but I found it easier to just cook the chicken and veggies together and I don't think it affected quality or taste. I also used extra virgin olive oil rather than vegetable oil. I have one more package of this to use and next time I'm going to add more veggies and maybe some chopped tomato to cut the heat a bit more. | To me it was more than medium hot but not by too much. I gave it three stars because it was pretty easy to make and it's versatile in that you could vary the veggies you put in it. We prefer the milder McCormick's brand of Fajita mix. I also used extra virgin olive oil rather than vegetable oil. I have one more package of this to use and next time I'm going to add more veggies and maybe some chopped tomato to cut the heat a bit more. |
| 218 | A friend who'd been drinking tea for 80 of his 84 years introduced me to this tea a few months ago. Even took me over to the store and bought me a pound. At $7/lb. in a retail store or a little over $9 with shipping from an online merchant, I think it's great. I've been drinking Earl Grey, English Breakfast, Irish Breakfast, Lapsang Souchong, Assam, etc. Most of them were over $30/lb. with shipping. Aside from the Lapsang Souchong, I think this is a great replacement for all the rest. Has everything I'm looking for in a strong, full-bodied black tea with enough character to keep it from becoming boring. My current favorite afternoon tea. Unless you're extremely jaded or a tea snob, you'll love it. | At $7/lb. Aside from the Lapsang Souchong, I think this is a great replacement for all the rest. I've been drinking Earl Grey, English Breakfast, Irish Breakfast, Lapsang Souchong, Assam, etc. Has everything I'm looking for in a strong, full-bodied black tea with enough character to keep it from becoming boring. |
| 219 | I love strong, full bodied quality tea and typically drink assam, irish breakfast or early grey tea, but as the other reviewer noted the price per pound can be discouraging. So I have been searching for a quality full bodied tea that wasn't bitter at a more palatable price point, and this certainly fits the bill. And unlike some other teas where they tend to be better in one form or another, i.e. iced vs. hot, this tea is excellent in both forms. I would certainly recommend this to anyone who prefers that smooth full bodied quality tea that doesn't cost an arm and leg. | So I have been searching for a quality full bodied tea that wasn't bitter at a more palatable price point, and this certainly fits the bill. And unlike some other teas where they tend to be better in one form or another, i.e. iced vs. hot, this tea is excellent in both forms. |
| 220 | I drink this tea plain (without sugar or milk), and it has a pleasant aroma. The price from Amazon is cheaper than my local grocery store. One reviewer is right, I think it has some herbal smell to make up the aroma. So the label "Imperial Blend" kind of implied the herb. I am not exactly a black tea drinker, so this tea is a surprise, and affordable too. I usually prefer White Chinese tea, like White Peony, but it is more expensive, and requires lower temperature water. But this is black tea, and this aroma kind of remind me the 'softness' of white tea. | So the label "Imperial Blend" kind of implied the herb. I am not exactly a black tea drinker, so this tea is a surprise, and affordable too. One reviewer is right, I think it has some herbal smell to make up the aroma. I usually prefer White Chinese tea, like White Peony, but it is more expensive, and requires lower temperature water. |
| 221 | I've tried a variety of Ahmad tea. Not because I particularly like this brand, but they are just easier to come across. The Imperial blend, I believe, is the most complex yet well balanced of all the ones I've tried. It's full body like a good cup of Assam, which by no means overpower the delightful, clean taste of Darjeerling, complete with a long lasting note of bergamot. I enjoy it best in the evening. It gives a satisfying and relaxing finish to a busy day. For those interested in the specifics: I use about 3 teaspoons of loose tea in a stainless steel infuser in a 16 oz mug, let it steep in 208F water for 2-3 min, take the infuser out, and drink it without sugar or milk to savor its sophistication. | I've tried a variety of Ahmad tea. Not because I particularly like this brand, but they are just easier to come across. It's full body like a good cup of Assam, which by no means overpower the delightful, clean taste of Darjeerling, complete with a long lasting note of bergamot. |

| | | |
|-----|--|---|
| 225 | Makes a tasty, super easy meal, fast. BUT high in calories. The instructions say to saute the veggies first but I recommend cooking the chicken first. The chicken takes longer to cook and the raw chicken ontop of veggies just makes a slimy mess. I made it with snow peas and carrots only. I dont like the little corn. Added some red pepper flakes for heat and served ontop of rice. It came out wonderful! Dinner on the table in less than 30mins. | Makes a tasty, super easy meal, fast. BUT high in calories. The instructions say to saute the veggies first but I recommend cooking the chicken first. I made it with snow peas and carrots only. |
| 226 | I think I have tried just about every Bloody Mary mixer on the market at one time or the other. Most have too much sugar or worst, corn syrup. This mixer is all natural ingredients and very tasty. It does have a little kick. Enjoy. | It does have a little kick. Most have too much sugar or worst, corn syrup. |
| 231 | I'm trying several of the Wu Yi teas. I like this one particularly because of the subtle citrus taste. It also has a natural sweetness. The ingredients include Organic Wu-Li Cliff Oolong Tea (700 mg), Organic Black Tea (600 mg), Organic Green Tea Extract (100 mg), Proprietary blend (600 mg), plus some Ginseng (panax), Orange Peel, Lemon Grass, and Guarana. Other Ingredients: Natual Orange and Citrus flavors. My goal is to drink more tea and less coffee. I am enjoying trying a different kind of tea every day. I'll be coming back to this one. | I am enjoying trying a different kind of tea every day. It also has a natural sweetness. The ingredients include Organic Wu-Li Cliff Oolong Tea (700 mg), Organic Black Tea (600 mg), Organic Green Tea Extract (100 mg), Proprietary blend (600 mg), plus some Ginseng (panax), Orange Peel, Lemon Grass, and Guarana. I'll be coming back to this one. |
| 235 | The taste of these white cheddar flat breads is like a regular cracker - which is not bad, except that I bought them because I wanted a cheese taste. What was a HUGE disappointment? How misleading the packaging of the box is. The photo on the box (I bought these in store) makes it look like it is full of long flatbreads (expanding the length and width of the box). Wrong! The plastic tray that holds the crackers is about 2" smaller all around - leaving you with about 15 or so small flatbreads. What is also bad about this is that the company states they use biodegradable and eco-friendly packaging. FAIL! They used a HUGE box for a ridiculously small amount of crackers. Not ecofriendly at all. Would I buy these again? No - I feel ripped off. The other crackers (like Sesame Tarragon) give you a little more bang for your buck and have more flavor. | How misleading the packaging of the box is. The taste of these white cheddar flat breads is like a regular cracker - which is not bad, except that I bought them because I wanted a cheese taste. What was a HUGE disappointment? They used a HUGE box for a ridiculously small amount of crackers. |
| 236 | This is the ultimate puppy food. The kibbles are great for small breeds. High in digestible nutrients as opposed to fillers some companies use. Less waste results from the high quality ingredients. I have been hunting, training, showing and handling various breeds of dogs for nearly 40 years, with multiple National Champions. I have been highly satisfied with Eukanuba's quality and the results I have obtained feeding their foods. My recent purchases are with WAG, through AMAZON.com . Their prices are the best I have found and they are very good at shipping immediately on items in stock. | This is the ultimate puppy food. High in digestible nutrients as opposed to fillers some companies use. I have been highly satisfied with Eukanuba's quality and the results I have obtained feeding their foods. |

| | | |
|-----|---|---|
| 237 | The recommendation when we bought our puppies (lhasa/bichon mix and lhasa/poodle mix) was that we continue them on the food that they have had since being weaned. This is a somewhat expensive food so I can't say that we were terribly pleased but we loaded up on the stuff and headed home. Let me just say this, I have had small dogs before. Never have I seen such gas issues. Both of them consistently had foul gas. Consistently. Usually when they're sitting on our laps but, you know. They're dogs. When we got through the first bag of this stuff, we purchased more on amazon. It was a great price for it since we got a 40 lb bag for the price of (I think) a 15 lb bag at Petco. But, they continued to have gas. I mean, they loved the food, don't get me wrong and they loved it more when we'd mix in some water and it would be like soft food. Somehow that made their gas worse but I think I'll have to give that responsible to the speed with which they chowed down- can't blame the food itself for gluttony. Eventually, we switched their food. No more farting. I think it was due to the high fat content which undoubtedly is necessary for very small puppies. They just need that in their diet. I think that we were advised to keep them on it for much longer than was useful (they said up until 1 year). Yeah right, you try dealing with gas for that long. Around 6 mos of age we switched to PuppyChow. Much better. Granted, they don't like it as much, but we humans like it a whole lot better. | Both of them consistently had foul gas. This is a somewhat expensive food so I can't say that we were terribly pleased but we loaded up on the stuff and headed home. Let me just say this, I have had small dogs before. I mean, they loved the food, don't get me wrong and they loved it more when we'd mix in some water and it would be like soft food. Somehow that made their gas worse but I think I'll have to give that responsible to the speed with which they chowed down- can't blame the food itself for gluttony. Eventually, we switched their food. They just need that in their diet. |
| 245 | I've been drinking this tea for the past 8 or 10 years, usually buying a box or two when visiting large metropolitan areas, where many Middle-Eastern stores carry loose Ahmad teas, usually at $5-7 for a pound box. I've always considered it an unremarkable but robust tea, with enough aroma and taste, and beautiful reddish color, perhaps not good enough a tea to drink on its own, but a decent base for mixes. This tea, however, is nothing of the sort. Freshly opened package has almost no characteristic tea smell, and the brewed tea is weak, flat and tasteless. Somehow it just does not seem to be the same product anymore. So, you get a lot of tea for the money, but the quality is such that you might as well drink Lipton bags, they are not that much worse. | I've been drinking this tea for the past 8 or 10 years, usually buying a box or two when visiting large metropolitan areas, where many Middle-Eastern stores carry loose Ahmad teas, usually at $5-7 for a pound box. Freshly opened package has almost no characteristic tea smell, and the brewed tea is weak, flat and tasteless. Somehow it just does not seem to be the same product anymore. |
| 246 | I love love love this deal - it's way fun to pick from so many! Teas and chocolates and ciders as well as many coffees. The other outfits that assemble samplers are boring - they do the choosing, and from a much narrower range. The sellers here are very nice, also, and will answer questions via email about the slightly confusing ordering method (it's easy). If you want great packaging, forget it - they ship fast, and the kups are just tossed loose in a box. Who cares? | I love love love this deal - it's way fun to pick from so many! Teas and chocolates and ciders as well as many coffees. The other outfits that assemble samplers are boring - they do the choosing, and from a much narrower range. |
| 250 | WOW! This product is very impressive. I bought the 8oz blueberry and was pleased with packaging, price and shipping. The powder dissolves instantly. Even in water! I've just been mixing a 1/4 tsp in a small glass of water for now and drinking it down and it tastes great!, but will add it to my smoothies and juiced fruit juices next. This product is so economical compared to purchasing fresh blueberries, especially because there is no waste due to mold or overripe berries thrown away. I think you could add this to baked or unbaked foods as well. I'm excited to add more of the SuperFoods to my diet in this fast and easy way. I definitely will being trying the other flavors soon. | I bought the 8oz blueberry and was pleased with packaging, price and shipping. The powder dissolves instantly. Even in water! |

| | | |
|-----|---|--|
| 253 | I am chemical sensitive as well as sugar-free. I have been using this product for over a year. I use it maybe once a week at the most. I drink 1/2 the bottle and then boost my energy after an hour or two depending on how I feel. IMO this doesn't replace my a.m. coffee but is sweet in the early afternoon when I start to fade. Once in a while I drink a full bottle before a workout. I've been drinking Guayaki Yerba Mate teas for years. Compared to the many toxic energy boosters out there I highly recommend this. This product is clean and doesn't leave nasty chems behind in the body. Try it before you judge from a review - everyone's body reacts differently. | I use it maybe once a week at the most. Once in a while I drink a full bottle before a workout. Try it before you judge from a review - everyone's body reacts differently. I've been drinking Guayaki Yerba Mate teas for years. |
| 255 | Yes, it's probably healthier than 5-Hour Energy or Starbucks shots but if you're looking to avoid a caffeine overload, this is still not for you. Most energy drinks cannot be made w/ out a high dosage of caffeine. I believe the caffeine content of 1 Guayaki shot is 150 mL - probably lower than other un-healthy energy shot drinks but I believe most other people avoid the top brands b/c they contain too much caffeine and/or sugar. If you do not react well to caffeine, Guayaki is not a good buy either. I definitely feel an energy boost w/ 1 full Guayaki shot but not w/ out all the other caffeine side effects - irritability, nervousness, mood-swings. Caffeine overdose is why I stopped drinking coffee. But it looks even organic energy drinks are still not safe. Now you're NOT sensitive to caffeine, then it's a great buy. It's not loaded w/ sugar. The taste is easy and pleasant. It's not loaded w/ a bunch of chemicals like 5-Hour shots or Starbucks drinks. And the energy boost lasts for about 4 to 5 hours. Takes about 5 to 7 minutes to kick in but all this probably depends on your body/weight. Side note - if you want to feel energized during the day, have a protein drink first thing in the morning and stay away for heavy, fattening foods during the day that will make you feel sluggish and sleepy! | Most energy drinks cannot be made w/ out a high dosage of caffeine. Yes, it's probably healthier than 5-Hour Energy or Starbucks shots but if you're looking to avoid a caffeine overload, this is still not for you. It's not loaded w/ sugar. The taste is easy and pleasant. |
| 257 | I so wish I would have read this review before purchasing TWO gallons of this oil for my health issues. It reeks like a chemical rubber smell. This smell is coming from the black rubber gasket in the lid. When I called to report the situation to the company, Sabrina told me I would have to pay to send them a sample to have tested by a lab. Unbelievable. Good customer service would indicate that they would pay for the product to be returned and give me a full refund, including shipping. The product is faulty. Period. I will never order anything from this company again and do not recommend it to anyone based on this horrible customer service and lack of responsibility and ownership. | It reeks like a chemical rubber smell. The product is faulty. This smell is coming from the black rubber gasket in the lid. |
| 263 | I have used and liked Sugar in the Raw for many years, after being introduced to it in a Starbucks. My most recent purchase, however, was disappointing. The sugar was lighter in color and had a crystal size maybe 1/4th of the regular size. Having large crystals was something I always really liked about Sugar in the Raw. It enhanced the quality of mixed drinks and of lattes. I called their hotline to complain and was told that they had had a problem with their recent sugar crop and that the result was less molasses in the sugar. They have had many complaints of a similar nature. This, they claimed, also reduced the crystal size. They said this problem should go away with their newer crop. The representative said that the new-crop sugar will have a 6-10 digit date code (without ANY spaces) that ends with a "1" and no letters. The trailing digits are a date code using the Julian calendar. (My recent bad-purchase had a space after the initial sequence of numbers and then ended with a "51A"). Bottom line: their current product is not much better than much cheaper products. When they get a better crop, I'll go back to purchasing Sugar in the Raw. | The sugar was lighter in color and had a crystal size maybe 1/4th of the regular size. Bottom line: their current product is not much better than much cheaper products. I called their hotline to complain and was told that they had had a problem with their recent sugar crop and that the result was less molasses in the sugar. The representative said that the new-crop sugar will have a 6-10 digit date code (without ANY spaces) that ends with a "1" and no letters. |

| | | |
|-----|--|---|
| 267 | I used to buy this sugar for years. I do not eat much sugar, but still. This sugar is called turbinado sugar, but is misleading. I picked this brand just because it says real turbinado sugar, and other brands (in the local food store) that their sugar is brown because it is colored with caramel or something. HOW did i find out? I needed just a sweet water few days ago. I put this Sugar in The Raw in the glass. The water became brown and on the bottom of the glass i got just PURE WHITE SUGAR CRYSTALS!!!! What a shame on the producer! U can try to put this sugar in your mouth and after few seconds you will spit out pure white crystals as well. I'm just wondering if the consumers can hold the company liable for such a practice. | This sugar is called turbinado sugar, but is misleading. U can try to put this sugar in your mouth and after few seconds you will spit out pure white crystals as well. I'm just wondering if the consumers can hold the company liable for such a practice. I put this Sugar in The Raw in the glass. |
| 269 | This is a delicious sugar. It has a pretty light brown color and delicious aroma. But the granules are quite big, however -- bigger than plain refined sugar. This makes is difficult to cream butter and sugar together. But if you use it in a recipe where you will melt the sugar first before baking it, or if you use it to brew beer and plan to boil it to melt it, it is a great product. It would be the perfect sugar if only the granules were a bit finer. | This is a delicious sugar. But the granules are quite big, however -- bigger than plain refined sugar. But if you use it in a recipe where you will melt the sugar first before baking it, or if you use it to brew beer and plan to boil it to melt it, it is a great product. |
| 271 | This sugar is very good. Use this in your coffee, cereal, etc for a week and you'll never go back to white sugar, white sugar will taste terrible. Plus from what I've read, this Raw sugar contains a lot of minerals that are missing in our diets. The product was delivered fast and well-packaged. My only complaint is the price. I wish I could find Raw sugar cheaper. I would be happy to buy in bulk, but this is the cheapest I have found. | This sugar is very good. Use this in your coffee, cereal, etc for a week and you'll never go back to white sugar, white sugar will taste terrible. I would be happy to buy in bulk, but this is the cheapest I have found. |
| 275 | Can't say anything bad about Sugar in the Raw. I like it better than the other "natural" sugars. Better consistency and - I know it doesn't matter - but better color. Unfortunately, one of the "natural" paper bags got torn a bit in the box. It didn't look like the box was damaged so I can't tell how it happened, but it was sort of pain to clean up half a bag that spilled all over the inside of the box and our kitchen when I opened it. Not sure what the solution is and I'd order it again, but if it happens again, I'd switch to one of the brands that ship in an unnatural plastic bag. | Better consistency and - I know it doesn't matter - but better color. Not sure what the solution is and I'd order it again, but if it happens again, I'd switch to one of the brands that ship in an unnatural plastic bag. Unfortunately, one of the "natural" paper bags got torn a bit in the box. |
| 276 | Great service! Items arrived faster than expected. Very efficient! Will use this seller again. I highly recommend this seller! Thank you for the excellent service! | Great service! Items arrived faster than expected. |
| 278 | Best flavor ever! I'm addicted! They are all good but these are by far the best. I could live on these! And there is no need for anymore to say.... | Best flavor ever! I'm addicted! They are all good but these are by far the best. |
| 279 | So many "healthy" products don't taste very good. Or taste good when you first try them and then go downhill. I've had these chips on more than one occasion and they are very tasty. I've served them to guests twice and both times they wanted to know what they were and where to get them. It's also nice to have something gluten-free for friends who are borderline diabetic...but I would eat them anyway. | So many "healthy" products don't taste very good. Or taste good when you first try them and then go downhill. It's also nice to have something gluten-free for friends who are borderline diabetic...but I would eat them anyway. |
| 282 | I paid $1.79 for a 2 ounce pkg of these at lunch today. I bought them because brown rice is a "good" carb. As soon as I tasted one and it tasted like a corn chip I checked the ingredients. The name is deceptive - these have "Masa corn flour" listed in the ingredients and it overwhelms the taste. I won't buy these again - I can get Sunchips for less money and similar taste. | I paid $1.79 for a 2 ounce pkg of these at lunch today. I bought them because brown rice is a "good" carb. The name is deceptive - these have "Masa corn flour" listed in the ingredients and it overwhelms the taste. |

| | | |
|-----|---|---|
| 283 | I use the Rotel Mild and I LOVE this product so much--it saves me on a daily basis. If you're trying to cook lower fat, healthier foods and in a HURRY, this stuff makes it so much easier. Ever notice that some canned tomatos have a weird "tin can" taste when you make spagehetti sauce or whatever? For some reason this product doesn't have that. It tastes so good you can just dump it in with a can of beans, heat and eat. or add some chili powder and now you have chili soup. I also make indian dishes with this, and spicey spaghetti sauce. I also prefer this to most canned salsas, so it works for things like quesadillas if you drain the liquid off. None of my local grocery stores carry it at all, nor do they carry anything like it. So I have to pay Amazon's inflated price to order this by the case. I don't like that I'm paying a higher price, but I LOVE LOVE LOVE the product. | I also prefer this to most canned salsas, so it works for things like quesadillas if you drain the liquid off. None of my local grocery stores carry it at all, nor do they carry anything like it. I use the Rotel Mild and I LOVE this product so much--it saves me on a daily basis. I also make indian dishes with this, and spicey spaghetti sauce. |
| 286 | Nothing wrong with the product, but I sure had to mix it with lots of other ingredients to make it edible to me. (In Texas I was called a "baby-mouth" - not into very spicy-hot foods.) For comparison, I'm comfortable with Tostitos medium chunky salsa. 1 can of this milder Rotel, mixed with 2 slightly larger cans of diced tomatoes, was still way too hot for me to use as salsa for chips. I used some of this to make a sort of southwestern cornbread that was good though. | I used some of this to make a sort of southwestern cornbread that was good though.) For comparison, I'm comfortable with Tostitos medium chunky salsa. (In Texas I was called a "baby-mouth" - not into very spicy-hot foods. |
| 287 | This is a fantastic product, and I wish it was readily available in most stores. It's taste is not the greatest, but it's a 2.5 oz. shot, and it's gone in a second. It tastes, more or less, like a concentrated sweet tea. For the record, I've had 5 hour energy, and that tastes FAR worse. I will put up the taste for the results. It's got 150mg of caffeine, which is the equivalent of the big red bulls and monsters. I can't stand sucralose and sugar substitutes, and this is one of the only shot sized energy drinks that has only sugar in it. The sugar is at 9g, which isn't horrible. I used to drink 4 16oz. Red Bulls a day for the caffeine, and this gives me far better energy, and is much more subtle. My preference is black coffee, but I can't drink 8-12 cups a day anymore. Overall, Steaz does it right; real organic ingredients in moderate amounts, and they create big results. | It's taste is not the greatest, but it's a 2.5 oz. I can't stand sucralose and sugar substitutes, and this is one of the only shot sized energy drinks that has only sugar in it. It tastes, more or less, like a concentrated sweet tea. I used to drink 4 16oz. |
| 288 | I have to get up really early to work out before work and I get super tired by the middle of the afternoon. I was drinking one 5 hour energy, usually extra strength, each day. It worked well, but gave me a jittery feeling, almost headachy but not quite. My husband got me to try this and I was skeptical, but for me it works as well if not better than the 5 hour energy and doesn't give me that jittery almost-headache feeling. I don't mind the taste--it reminds me of the inside of a fig newton (mmm). And the price is ok, on Amazon anyway. At my grocery store they were almost $3 each, yike! And it's organic--so I can feel good about it, right? It's all about me feeling good! | At my grocery store they were almost $3 each, yike! And it's organic--so I can feel good about it, right? My husband got me to try this and I was skeptical, but for me it works as well if not better than the 5 hour energy and doesn't give me that jittery almost-headache feeling. I don't mind the taste--it reminds me of the inside of a fig newton (mmm). And the price is ok, on Amazon anyway. |
| 291 | If you want an organic energy shot, your choices are this one from Steaz and the assorted flavors from Guayaki. Guayaki Yerba Mate is actually in the Steaz energy shot and energy drinks, and they both use Sambazon Acai, so there are some similarities in ingredients. Great energy burst for 4+ hours on a Steaz Energy Shot, and no withdrawals or headaches afterwards. Plan on drinking one every day at lunch at work. This will help me cut down on my iced coffees, which are not helping my calorie intake. Already ordering 12-packs on subscribe and save, 2 per month. Great value. | Guayaki Yerba Mate is actually in the Steaz energy shot and energy drinks, and they both use Sambazon Acai, so there are some similarities in ingredients. Great energy burst for 4+ hours on a Steaz Energy Shot, and no withdrawals or headaches afterwards. Plan on drinking one every day at lunch at work. |

| | | |
|-----|---|--|
| 293 | I had tried both of the Guayaki energy shots and I don't like the taste of either of them! This one has more natural caffeine and tastes much better. I like them cold for sure. My husband and I take these on road trips in a little cooler with ice and waters and we don't have to make stops for coffee! Especially on the turnpikes where it's just way too expensive. It's worth the $[...] per shot. We normally split them. I'm really sensitive to caffeine, even the natural kind so I get a little weird if I drink the whole thing but that's the same for coffee too for me. My husband drinks the whole shot and gets a nice wake up boost. I would recommend these over any of the synthetic shots out there. You can feel good about putting this in your body! I'll be ordering again soon for sure =) | This one has more natural caffeine and tastes much better. Especially on the turnpikes where it's just way too expensive. We normally split them. My husband and I take these on road trips in a little cooler with ice and waters and we don't have to make stops for coffee! |
| 295 | I've been feeling extremely tired around the late afternoon. As a software engineer, this is entirely unacceptable! So, I asked the nice lady at the counter of my local Whole Foods Market, for something that will give me that extra energy I need to get through the day. She excitedly returned with a suspicious little green bottle. Over three hours after drinking whatever that was, my brain is still working at unnatural speeds. To summarize my experiences: I believe this works. She did explain that I needed to drink plenty of water with it, which I personally feel helped the energy level. So if you're feeling tired during the day and hate coffee, give this a shot - preferably before you eat anything. Woot! | I've been feeling extremely tired around the late afternoon. As a software engineer, this is entirely unacceptable! To summarize my experiences: I believe this works. She did explain that I needed to drink plenty of water with it, which I personally feel helped the energy level. |
| 296 | The energy shot truly does work! It had a terrible after-taste at first, but now that I know what to expect, I am getting used to it. I always have some water handy as a chaser...which helps! I am so glad to have found something that gives me the energy I need without all the chemicals found in other beverages. It's helped me kick my addiction to Diet Coke and other aspartame-laced caffeinated beverages. Yay!!! | I always have some water handy as a chaser...which helps! I am so glad to have found something that gives me the energy I need without all the chemicals found in other beverages. It's helped me kick my addiction to Diet Coke and other aspartame-laced caffeinated beverages. |
| 297 | I've tried 5-hour energy, red rain, NOS, and other energy shots. This is my favorite in terms of taste and effect. Plus, it's somewhat reassuring to know that natural ingredients are used. Sometimes I wonder what I'm really putting into my body with some of the other brands. I purchase a box about once every 2 months for the past 2 years. | I've tried 5-hour energy, red rain, NOS, and other energy shots. Plus, it's somewhat reassuring to know that natural ingredients are used. Sometimes I wonder what I'm really putting into my body with some of the other brands. |
| 299 | I first found Steaz Berry Energy Shots at a local organic market. I bought two bottles, which cost just under three dollars each. I fell in love instantly. The drink is delicious -- I can taste the yerba mate and the acai juice, like a slightly bitter fruity chocolate honey tea. I am very sensitive to sucralose (Splenda) which is in so many energy drinks these days; I also hate the taste. I love that Steaz has actual sugar and no artificial sweeteners. The rush it gives me is slow and even. I have several medical conditions, including fibromyalgia, which saps me of energy and causes intense pain. I like how Steaz helps clear away the fatigue and fog so I can get things done. No caffeine jitters, even though there are 150 mg of caffeine in each bottle. It was becoming expensive for me to buy the bottles separately at stores, so I started looking online for a bulk price. I am so thrilled to have found the Pack Of 12 on Amazon. I signed up for Amazon Prime specifically for this product, hah! | I love that Steaz has actual sugar and no artificial sweeteners. No caffeine jitters, even though there are 150 mg of caffeine in each bottle. It was becoming expensive for me to buy the bottles separately at stores, so I started looking online for a bulk price. I like how Steaz helps clear away the fatigue and fog so I can get things done. I have several medical conditions, including fibromyalgia, which saps me of energy and causes intense pain. |
| 301 | I drive OTR...Over the Road truck and this helps to keep me alert. It has no sugar high & no crash. I'm on a autoship which i like. The price is very good. I've seen it over 2 bucks in the store. | It has no sugar high & no crash. I've seen it over 2 bucks in the store. The price is very good. |

| | | |
|------------|--|---|
| 302 | Products takes pretty good, and it doesn't leave you jittery. With subscribe and save as well as Prime membership I pay below $ 2 a shot. My wife tried them and now she drinks them like they are going out of style. I moderate mine and they make for more effective use before weight training. I recommend this product to anyone who is looking for a healthier alternative to high sugar and unnatural products that are everywhere that still gives you the results of an AWESOME Energy Drink. | With subscribe and save as well as Prime membership I pay below $ 2 a shot. My wife tried them and now she drinks them like they are going out of style. I recommend this product to anyone who is looking for a healthier alternative to high sugar and unnatural products that are everywhere that still gives you the results of an AWESOME Energy Drink. |
| 305 | This is the first time I've really been misled by other reviews on amazon. I like 5-hr Energy, I find Rain ok and so I thought I'd try this product based on the reviews. Boy am I sorry! I gagged getting one bottle down even with my nose pinched (really). And it leaves the worst medicinal taste in your mouth afterwards. 8 tic tacs at once did not get rid of it! But worst of all, within an hour I was yawning and drowsy. Unless you really like things that taste of a weird tea-flavored cough syrup and don't work, don't buy this! I don't know what to do with the other 11 bottles. big fail | Boy am I sorry! I like 5-hr Energy, I find Rain ok and so I thought I'd try this product based on the reviews. 8 tic tacs at once did not get rid of it! |
| 306 | I loved this mold! I wished I could have used it for more than one occasion, but it didn't last. I did use it to make 30+ suckers for my daughter's first birthday. But there was going to be no way that the mold could be salvaged after that. I would have liked to have kept to use on other occasions, but for the price it didn't matter to me that much. It served it's main purpose :) | I loved this mold! I would have liked to have kept to use on other occasions, but for the price it didn't matter to me that much. It served it's main purpose :) |
| 308 | Try this you might like it. I did and I am quite addicted, it is too easy to prepare, it tastes great and it absorbs the flavors you cook it with. The price is really good and well worth the purchase. If you like this type of Couscous like I do, then give this one a try.It can be eaten hot, room temp or in a cold salad with a variety of greens and other flavors, it takes on the other flavors very well when mixed. I cooked the Couscous with a broth and oilive oil for added flavor and it rocked my taste buds big time. I will be back for more. | Try this you might like it. If you like this type of Couscous like I do, then give this one a try.It can be eaten hot, room temp or in a cold salad with a variety of greens and other flavors, it takes on the other flavors very well when mixed. I will be back for more. |
| 310 | I tried to find israeli couscous in a number of upsacale grocery stores and no luck. So I decided to try good ole Amazon.com and selected this product. It is so good..add a few herbs and it's a great side dish, or add more and make a "pasta type" salad.so very good. I am hooked. Great flavor and so easy to prepare! | I tried to find israeli couscous in a number of upsacale grocery stores and no luck. It is so good..add a few herbs and it's a great side dish, or add more and make a "pasta type" salad.so very good. I am hooked. |
| 313 | I love ordering whole bean coffee on Amazon. I like this so much that this my first product review. I have to say that I'm usually not a big fan of flavored coffee, but I thought I would give it a try. When my husband started grinding it up, I could smell it throughout the house. Sometimes with flavored coffees, the smell is there but the taste isn't. However, not with this one. I'm now going to order another flavor from this company and will give it a try. | I love ordering whole bean coffee on Amazon. However, not with this one. Sometimes with flavored coffees, the smell is there but the taste isn't. |
| 315 | This brand of coffee has been available in my local stores for some time -- I've believe the company is local. I've been drinking it for quite some time and have not tired of it. I'm particularly fond of the Turtle Sundae but all the flavors are good. I can't say that I've had a bad one. As it turns out, it's less expensive to order it from Amazon and have it show up at my front door than it is for me to run out to the local Walmart to get it. It's a no brainer. Try it, if you like rich, flavored coffee, you'll like it. | I can't say that I've had a bad one. As it turns out, it's less expensive to order it from Amazon and have it show up at my front door than it is for me to run out to the local Walmart to get it. It's a no brainer. Try it, if you like rich, flavored coffee, you'll like it. |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 317 | I consume about a jar every two weeks of this, either adding it to fajitas or using it as a corn chip dip. It is hot, but after awhile the medium Salsa Suprema was too mild for me; I thought maybe I'd cut down how much I ate by going to the hot Salsa Ranchera. It's hot enough that people who aren't used to it will say "That's hot!". Flavor: bright and forward. The similarly hot Salsa Victoria is a duller taste to me, I guess earthy. This salsa is much brighter in the mouth. I don't like to go hotter than this because the sauces I've tried lose any resemblance to yummy salsa and just taste hot (this happens to me with Tabasco sauce, for example). A drawback is La Victoria doesn't make a larger bottle of Salsa Ranchera nor Salsa Victoria, nor do they sell them in [...] or Sam's Club. To get a good deal you have to watch for sales. | ". Flavor: bright and forward. It is hot, but after awhile the medium Salsa Suprema was too mild for me; I thought maybe I'd cut down how much I ate by going to the hot Salsa Ranchera. To get a good deal you have to watch for sales. |
| 328 | Besides the obvious convenience and portability of the individual creamers, I liked this item specifically because of packaging. I couldn't believe how many reviews I read about coffee creamer cups; but many of the Amazon creamer options (both Coffeemate and International Delight) had multiple negative reviews due to the shipment arriving with broken cups thanks to sloppy packaging. That was not an issue here. The shipment arrived in four dispensing boxes of 50 each (as shown in the photo); those boxes were tightly packed in a thick cardboard box which could take a good beating before damaging the inner boxes. Thus, none of my cups were broken, no waste and no sloppy drippy mess. Plus the four boxes means I could put one in the kitchen, one in the bathroom (we moved our mini Keurig there when we upgraded the kitchen Keurig - best idea my husband ever had), and one at work, with a reserve for whichever runs out first. If you are looking for these mini creamers but deterred like I was by the negative packaging reviews on other options, this is your best bet. As a bonus, the auto delivery price is very reasonable. | I couldn't believe how many reviews I read about coffee creamer cups; but many of the Amazon creamer options (both Coffeemate and International Delight) had multiple negative reviews due to the shipment arriving with broken cups thanks to sloppy packaging. That was not an issue here. Thus, none of my cups were broken, no waste and no sloppy drippy mess. As a bonus, the auto delivery price is very reasonable. |
| 332 | I found these new spring Pop-Tarts and bought them on a whim. My kids and I were amazed and delighted at the fun, colorful, amazingly detailed artwork on these Pop-Tarts. Fantastic for after school snacks, lunch boxes, and school treats. Tie with a ribbon for a bright "thinking of you this spring" gift. The only challenge is finding more in stores. Way to go Kellogg's - fantastic product! | My kids and I were amazed and delighted at the fun, colorful, amazingly detailed artwork on these Pop-Tarts. Tie with a ribbon for a bright "thinking of you this spring" gift. The only challenge is finding more in stores. |
| 334 | Taste like it is stale. Will not order this again. I had this coffee at a 50th year anniversary at a reception hall and had to have it. This stuff tasted NOTHING, like the Douwe Egberts at the hall. This is possibly stale coffee. | Taste like it is stale. I had this coffee at a 50th year anniversary at a reception hall and had to have it. This stuff tasted NOTHING, like the Douwe Egberts at the hall. |
| 335 | Service delivery with the seller was excellent. The product was not. Will not order again. Bad taste. I am not sure if it was old or that how it tastes. I throw it right away, I could not drink it. | Service delivery with the seller was excellent. The product was not. I am not sure if it was old or that how it tastes. |
| 340 | I have a slightly different version of this - different brand. My son started using it around six months, and he really enjoys it. He DOES get messy if he eats something sticky or juicy like banana or watermelon, but whatever... Anyway, I also had trouble cleaning it, until I tried scrubbing it with a nail or vegetable brush. That works pretty well. It takes some time, but not as much as it would take to run food through a food mill or blender, or cut it up, then clean it up off him, the chair, the floor, the dog, me, well you get the picture. | My son started using it around six months, and he really enjoys it. He DOES get messy if he eats something sticky or juicy like banana or watermelon, but whatever... That works pretty well. |

| | | |
|-----|--|---|
| 344 | I love, love, love the idea of this product and my little one loves, loves, loves to use it. She gets fresh fruit and other tasty things and I don't have to worry about her choking. The only drawback is that bits of food get stuck in the mesh and the seams and are impossible to get out. Granted, some foods are more difficult than others and some don't cause that much of a problem. Bananas however, have pretty much destroyed a couple of them. While I love this product, I think that next time I will get the one that has the removable and replaceable mesh bags. | I love, love, love the idea of this product and my little one loves, loves, loves to use it. Bananas however, have pretty much destroyed a couple of them. While I love this product, I think that next time I will get the one that has the removable and replaceable mesh bags. |
| 346 | This product is amazing. I know a few people with little ones that use these and they LOVE them!! Super easy to clean and use. When ordering these, I was under the impression that there were 2 per package...FYI-they're not!! Only one per... | This product is amazing. When ordering these, I was under the impression that there were 2 per package...FYI-they're not!! Only one per... |
| 347 | I ordered these for my coffee themed wedding. When they arrived I had to fight off friends because they smelled and tasted so good. I literally had to hide the box to the wedding! They were a big hit on my wedding day and there were none left over that we put on the tables. It was a great tasting product for the lowest price I've seen! | I ordered these for my coffee themed wedding. They were a big hit on my wedding day and there were none left over that we put on the tables. It was a great tasting product for the lowest price I've seen! |
| 352 | I've purchased dozens of bags of this pancake mix (which is a great product, by the way). This is the highest price I've seen. Whole Foods carries this item and it's been on sale there for $9.99 (that's Canadian dollars, too, as I'm in Canada). It's even cheaper on Baker's Box's own website, and they're the company selling this product through Amazon. For a two-pack they should be charging $20 or less. What gives? I thought Amazon was where you could find competitive prices. | This is the highest price I've seen. Whole Foods carries this item and it's been on sale there for $9.99 (that's Canadian dollars, too, as I'm in Canada). What gives? |
| 358 | I hadn't tried (or heard of) till recently Weavers not it's my favorite. I am running through the list of types they have looking for a favorite and haven't found one yet, they're all so darned smooth. No bite, no after taste, a little pricy but still worth it. No worse price wise than starbucks or peets. Will keep running through the list here and see what happens. Love them all so far. | I am running through the list of types they have looking for a favorite and haven't found one yet, they're all so darned smooth. No worse price wise than starbucks or peets. Will keep running through the list here and see what happens. |
| 364 | These are my favorite bars ever. The combo of raisons and dark choc is wonderful! Very filling! These are hard to find in the stores. I'm thankful for subscribe and save! | The combo of raisons and dark choc is wonderful! Very filling! |
| 367 | Hard to get husband to eat breakfast before school. He takes two bars now and is very happy to do so. It is often hard to find flavor in local grocery stores. So again, Amazon.com came through with a reasonable price. Now, I came keep the husband's breakfast ready as he runs out the door in the mornings. I often like to have a bar in the evening as a night snack. | Hard to get husband to eat breakfast before school. So again, Amazon.com came through with a reasonable price. Now, I came keep the husband's breakfast ready as he runs out the door in the mornings. |
| 368 | "Nantucket Blend coffee is one of my favorites. I was suprised that it was a single box. every time I ordered before it was a 2 pack. My fault for not reading closer. I will not order any more at this price for 1 (24 count) | "Nantucket Blend coffee is one of my favorites. I was suprised that it was a single box. My fault for not reading closer. |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 370 | When we received our Keurig Elite for Christmas, we were so excited to break open the sample pack of pods to try out different blends and flavors. Of the 12 pods we had in the box, four were Green Mountain Coffee brand. I'd never tried anything from this company before, but from what I had researched online, they have the largest range of Keurig pods and have even bought out competitors to produce coffee under their brand names as well. Unfortunately, I was immediately disappointed by the quality of the coffee. We tried their Dark Magic, Decaf and Breakfast Blend and all were underwhelming, to say the least. I was almost completely set on writing off Green Mountain altogether. We had one GM pod left and being of the mindset of waste-not-want-not, I figured I'd give it one last go around before forgetting about them completely. And I'm glad I did. The Nantucket Blend is a perfectly pleasing cup of coffee. It is nice and flavorful without being thick and pungent (unlike some of the other GM blends we tried). I added some flavored creamer to it and it almost measures up to our go-to Caribou Blend pods. Almost. All in all, this is a very standard cup of coffee which, while it isn't anything new or exciting, is very pleasing and definitely one of the better Keurig options we've been able to test out. When we run out of all the pods we've accumulated, I'll probably pick up a box of these as well. Now that I know Green Mountain isn't completely disappointing I'll definitely be open to trying a few more of their coffees (with our promotion for getting the brewer we ordered http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/B004I3Y4IE Green Mountain Coffee Golden French Toast, K-Cup Portion Pack for Keurig K-Cup Brewers, 24-Count to try as well) and see how it goes from there. If you're looking for a go-to choice, this is your cup! | Of the 12 pods we had in the box, four were Green Mountain Coffee brand. We tried their Dark Magic, Decaf and Breakfast Blend and all were underwhelming, to say the least. I'd never tried anything from this company before, but from what I had researched online, they have the largest range of Keurig pods and have even bought out competitors to produce coffee under their brand names as well. Unfortunately, I was immediately disappointed by the quality of the coffee. And I'm glad I did. The Nantucket Blend is a perfectly pleasing cup of coffee. |
| 376 | Oh my gosh, is this good! Like most people, I've been eating ketchup my whole life and never really thought anything about it. Then Hubby brought a jar of this home. The tomato flavor is amazing. I will never buy store ketchup every again. | Oh my gosh, is this good! I will never buy store ketchup every again. The tomato flavor is amazing. |
| 378 | This is ridiculous. The best gourmet ketchup I have ever tasted. It is pricey, but wow..love this stuff. It would make a great gift for someone who is hard to buy for but loves their ketchup. Yummy! | This is ridiculous. The best gourmet ketchup I have ever tasted. |
| 380 | The spicy version of this ketchup isn't bad, but it is too expensive. The regular version is sweet as dessert. Horrible. Annie's Organic has a much better flavor and costs a lot less. Even Heinz organic is a better deal. I gave it three stars instead of two because it is in glass, not plastic. | The spicy version of this ketchup isn't bad, but it is too expensive. Horrible. Even Heinz organic is a better deal. |

| | | |
|-----|--|---|
| 383 | I was pretty pleased with these mushrooms. They were mostly large pieces, re-hydrated well and had good flavor. I'd estimate about 25% of the contents were broken into medium to small pieces, most likely due to the shaking about in transit. Not a problem since I sometimes break the large pieces into smaller ones for some recipes. There was a small amount (perhaps an ounce or so) of very small/minced-size/dust-like pieces. Still useful to add into gravies and the like. Nothing gets wasted! The label says it is a product of China and Italy. Nothing was specified as to the proportion from each country. I'm quite fond of dried mushrooms. While they may lack the texture you can get only when using fresh ones, the convenience of always having them on hand is a big plus. Additionally, I find the broth used to re-hydrate them adds a wonderful flavor to soups and stews. To save time and add flavor, I sometimes add the dried mushrooms directly into the soup or stew without re-hydrating them. Really helps meld all the flavors together. I also am fond of adding some to the cooking water when boiling pasta. The pasta picks up a wonderful earthy flavor when it cooks in the mushroom-infused water. This was the first time I used the Roland brand (got it on a price dip from the Amazon Warehouse), and would certainly buy them again. Highly recommend. | I was pretty pleased with these mushrooms. Still useful to add into gravies and the like. The pasta picks up a wonderful earthy flavor when it cooks in the mushroom-infused water. This was the first time I used the Roland brand (got it on a price dip from the Amazon Warehouse), and would certainly buy them again. To save time and add flavor, I sometimes add the dried mushrooms directly into the soup or stew without re-hydrating them. |
| 385 | The cashews were nice and big, with the vast majority being whole. There were a number of small pieces at the bottom of the bag, but that's pretty expected with so many cashews. They made an absolutely excellent cashew brittle. My order took just over a week to arrive, which was pretty decent considering it was shipped across the country. They came double bagged in clear plastic bags, and in two 5 lb portions. This was highly convenient since I could just throw one of the bags into the freezer until I was ready to work with it. Great value for the price. | The cashews were nice and big, with the vast majority being whole. They made an absolutely excellent cashew brittle. My order took just over a week to arrive, which was pretty decent considering it was shipped across the country. They came double bagged in clear plastic bags, and in two 5 lb portions. |
| 387 | I ordered these after a fair bit of searching online - even ordering the smaller 1-3oz bags. I will admit, I was a bit sceptical when I ordered this since it was not cheap and had no idea how good (or bad) the cashews would be... The order came in pretty fast - like 3 days. The cashews were fresh and whole - with like 10 broken pieces. They were in 2 5lb bags sealed with clear tape.. first I found it odd but then it turned out to be a good deal; considering the second pack stayed fresh till I opened them. The trick is to actually keep them in an air-tight box so that they stay fresh longer. The only negative I can think of is that the price went up abt $5.00 for the 10lb since I bought them. | I ordered these after a fair bit of searching online - even ordering the smaller 1-3oz bags. The cashews were fresh and whole - with like 10 broken pieces. They were in 2 5lb bags sealed with clear tape.. first I found it odd but then it turned out to be a good deal; considering the second pack stayed fresh till I opened them. |
| 389 | I bought these for my boyfriend who really likes honey roasted pecans in salads that I have at a couple of restaurants. Plus, he likes nuts, pecans, almonds peanuts. He loved these. I actually ordered 3 cans instead of the gift tin, so he could take one to work, or his place, and stay fresh longer. Although I don't think freshness will be an issue, they won't last long.....lol | Plus, he likes nuts, pecans, almonds peanuts. He loved these. I actually ordered 3 cans instead of the gift tin, so he could take one to work, or his place, and stay fresh longer. |

| | | |
|-----|--|---|
| 398 | HEY! These are GREAT Waffles and Pancakes! We have to add 50% more mix, tho, as the recipies on the bag are VERY thin. But we have a lot of fun with this Arrowhead Mills Buttermilk Pancake & Waffle Mix! We serve them "as is" with fried eggs and REAL maple syrup, Butternut Mountain Farm Vermont Pure Maple Syrup, Grade A Dark Amber, 1 Pint Jug, or with warm strawberry jam and whipped cream, or Cool Whip, or add brown sugar to the mix to change the flavor and make a crispy waffle, or add 1/4 cup sugar and 1/4 cup malted milk powder Carnation Malted Milk, Original, 13-Ounce Jars (Pack of 3), for awesome gourmet pancakes and waffles like they serve at the Hilton! Its handy to have extra bags on hand, too, and you cant beat the Subscribe and save price. This mix is 70% ORGANIC, too! | HEY! We have to add 50% more mix, tho, as the recipies on the bag are VERY thin. These are GREAT Waffles and Pancakes! |
| 403 | Perhaps the worst bottle of wine I've ever had. I'm not even sure I would cook with this. It is thin, no body, and a transparent color not characteristic of a good pinot. The taste is just bitter - not the complexity that I expect from a pinot noir of any price. Just not what I'm looking for even in a low to mid price pinot noir. Maybe my bottle wasn't sealed well and went to vinegar - other reviews for this wine are favorable. | Perhaps the worst bottle of wine I've ever had. I'm not even sure I would cook with this. The taste is just bitter - not the complexity that I expect from a pinot noir of any price. |
| 406 | This is one of the best mint chocolate syrup I've ever had so far. The others pale in flavor by comparison. There are only seven ingredients in this sauce, including organic natural mint flavor. In the past I used ice cream heavy with other flavors like butterscotch, chocolate chips, Oreo cookies, caramel et al, because the mint flavor of other mint chocolate sauces was too pale. Now I buy plain vanilla or chocolate ice cream and the minty flavor of the Santa Cruz Organic Mint Chocolate syrup really stands out but doesn't overpower the flavor of the ice cream. There are only 110 calories. And because the mint flavor is very apparent to my taste, I use it sparingly, so this 15.5 oz container last a bit longer than the other syrups I used. | And because the mint flavor is very apparent to my taste, I use it sparingly, so this 15.5 oz container last a bit longer than the other syrups I used. Now I buy plain vanilla or chocolate ice cream and the minty flavor of the Santa Cruz Organic Mint Chocolate syrup really stands out but doesn't overpower the flavor of the ice cream. There are only 110 calories. |
| 407 | This is a simple product and it is simply good. There are no extra ingredients that are hard to pronounce and have you scouring the internet finding out what they are. It is a bit thinner consistency than the usual syrup, so use caution the first time you go to squeeze some out. This will be great for people who like mint, it has a much stronger mint flavor than chocolate. I use it in my coffee with a bit of half and half, tastes great. Sometimes simple is better. | This is a simple product and it is simply good. This will be great for people who like mint, it has a much stronger mint flavor than chocolate. Sometimes simple is better. |
| 410 | This tea tastes almost as good as the tea you would get at an Indian restaurant. It's much better than getting a teabag and making it the English way, with a lot of water and a bit of milk. This is very creamy and tasty. My only criticism is that there aren't enough sachets in the box. Only 10. Since the directions say that you use one sachet for 100ml of water (approximately half a cup), it's not enough for a good cup of tea, so I use two. That means that one box is only good enough for five cups of tea. But it's a delicious after-dinner drink! I would buy this again if there were more sachets in a box. | This is very creamy and tasty. Only 10. That means that one box is only good enough for five cups of tea. |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 416 | The thing about Marmite is that those who don't like it hate it, and those who love it can't live without it. It's very much "an English thing" and the language has even adopted the trade name as a metaphor (as in "Victoria Beckham is Marmite" meaning that those who don't like her...etc.). Amazon has done the world a favor by making this weird and wonderful stuff available at an affordable price. Last time I looked, it was $25 a 500g jar in British stores in L.A.County, or about 4x what it costs in England. The Amazon supplier was quick and efficient, and I now have enough Marmite to last me to the end of the year (or would have, if I didn't decide to send one of the two jars to my son in Japan!). Good job, Amazon! | The thing about Marmite is that those who don't like it hate it, and those who love it can't live without it. The Amazon supplier was quick and efficient, and I now have enough Marmite to last me to the end of the year (or would have, if I didn't decide to send one of the two jars to my son in Japan!). Good job, Amazon! |
| 417 | A vile, miserable pancake. I put these in front of my toddler one morning and she actually cried. I don't know if it was their flat and anemic appearance or their salty bitter taste. Only the whole wheat flour is organic in this mix. The buttermilk, baking soda (SLS) and sea salt are not. I am going back to Nature's Path Buttermilk pancake mix. This one went straight into the garbage. | A vile, miserable pancake. I put these in front of my toddler one morning and she actually cried. The buttermilk, baking soda (SLS) and sea salt are not. |
| 420 | I was not expecting to like these cookies as much as I do. I like chocolate chip cookies well enough, but I really prefer a soft cookie to crisp ones. I have to say these Famous Amos cookies have pertty much turned me around. The cookies are rich and have that depth of flavor that comes from quality ingredients. The chips are real chocolate and melt redilly in your mouth creating a moist experience while chewing. These are truly great cookies. | I was not expecting to like these cookies as much as I do. I like chocolate chip cookies well enough, but I really prefer a soft cookie to crisp ones. These are truly great cookies. |
| 426 | Glad to find these in a one ounce size but the bag seems a bit less than full. It's hard to find single serving chip bags that vend well. Sometimes they are too wide. or too plump with air. Bag size is good. BBQ flavor is about an 8 out of 10. | Sometimes they are too wide. Glad to find these in a one ounce size but the bag seems a bit less than full. or too plump with air. |
| 428 | The title says it all. Great flavor, hint of spice, excellent crunch. We eat Kettle chips by the truck load at my house, we like all the flavors but this one far and away is our favorite, never enough bags to get us to our next shipment. I just wish Amazon could get the larger bags on subscribe and save! If you buy these make sure you have enough for everyone otherwise you may not get enough for yourself!!! | The title says it all. Great flavor, hint of spice, excellent crunch. We eat Kettle chips by the truck load at my house, we like all the flavors but this one far and away is our favorite, never enough bags to get us to our next shipment. |
| 429 | WOW! I have eaten quite a few potato chips in my day. Kettle chips are the BEST non-baked chips I have eaten. I decided to try the sweet onion chips, since I've never had them. I now have a FAVORITE!! If you like onions, this is a MUST buy! I will definitely reorder these, as I mentioned above, they are the BEST I have ever eaten! The flavor is GREAT. | WOW! I now have a FAVORITE!! I will definitely reorder these, as I mentioned above, they are the BEST I have ever eaten! |
| 430 | I cannot say how much I love Kettle brand potato chips. Kettle brand has a large variety of unique flavors, and the quality of the chips themselves blows all other potato chips out of the water. The ingredients list is printed on each bag and the only thing really bad for it is the oil they are frying the chips in. I love that these aren't filled with nasty chemicals. I ordered the cheddar and sour cream krinkle cut ones which are great but I was torn between the http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/B0048IFUSC >Kettle Brand Potato Chips Fully Loaded Baked Potato, 2-Ounce (Pack of 24) and the Jalapeno flavor. While I know the jalapeno flavor is good but this is way better. They include liquid smoke instead of actual bacon which I'm fine with since I've a vegetarian. I ordered this to give to guests coming from out of town for my wedding this spring and I can't guarantee how many I will have left. My fiance and I love these. The packaging is perfect for anyone who is giving these to kids to take for school lunches, or handing out in gift bags, even just for portion control. | Kettle brand has a large variety of unique flavors, and the quality of the chips themselves blows all other potato chips out of the water. I love that these aren't filled with nasty chemicals. The packaging is perfect for anyone who is giving these to kids to take for school lunches, or handing out in gift bags, even just for portion control. My fiance and I love these. |

| | | |
|-----|---|--|
| 431 | Now, I haven't done a side-by-side comparison, but these chips still taste like the real deal. These snack sized bags do as well as the regular brand at the grocery store I work for. Portion control AND reduced fat? Yes, please! With the Subscribe & Save these are much cheaper than at the grocery store. | These snack sized bags do as well as the regular brand at the grocery store I work for. Portion control AND reduced fat? |
| 439 | These Kettle Brand potato chips in the Spicy Thai flavor really do taste like food I have eaten at a Thai restaurant. The ingredients listed include garlic powder, onion powder, parsley, jalapeno, and "spices." I'm not sure what other spices there are, but it sure tastes like lemongrass to me...yum. These chips are thick cut and very crunch. They come in a seriously heavy-duty bag. I tried to open it like I do regular chip bags by pulling the two sides apart; no way! The bag is so thick I wondered if it was plastic. I started looking for the scissors and decided that any company that put their chips in a bag this nice must have provided a way to open it. Sure enough, there is a small slit on the top and the simple directions "tear here." So easy. Why didn't I think of that. | The ingredients listed include garlic powder, onion powder, parsley, jalapeno, and "spices." These chips are thick cut and very crunch. I'm not sure what other spices there are, but it sure tastes like lemongrass to me...yum. I tried to open it like I do regular chip bags by pulling the two sides apart; no way! |
| 440 | Honey Dijon flavor: okay flavor, but both my girlfriend and I thought they left a bad aftertaste. The aftertaste is sort of like old cheese (presumably some folks like this... I'm not a fancy cheese eater), and it lingers for at least an hour. I'd give this flavor a rating of 2 stars out of 5. We have also tried the NY Cheddar flavor (4 stars), which we both liked better, and they didn't leave any long-lingering or bad aftertaste. I'd give the consistency of the chips 4 stars. The chips are crunchy, but also greasy enough that I keep a napkin near or wash my hands after eating Kettle Chips. | The aftertaste is sort of like old cheese (presumably some folks like this... I'm not a fancy cheese eater), and it lingers for at least an hour. The chips are crunchy, but also greasy enough that I keep a napkin near or wash my hands after eating Kettle Chips. |
| 441 | For me, Kettle is the best brand on the market. They really know how to turn the humble potato into something fit for the gods! I didn't think anything could top their salt and pepper chips, but these are my new favorite. The flavors are pure and real. They go great with just about everything and are highly addictive! I hope they come out with a low fat version; their low fat chips are excellent but they need more flavors. | For me, Kettle is the best brand on the market. They really know how to turn the humble potato into something fit for the gods! I hope they come out with a low fat version; their low fat chips are excellent but they need more flavors. |
| 443 | What I like about them: 1) Very thick chips. 2) No trans fat and all natural, according to the info on the bag. 3) Flavor, but that's a subjective thing. 4) 2oz bags, which keep you from eating too much at one time. Just set a limit of 1 bag. Cons: As another reviewer said, there's a lot of oil in them chips. What I do is place a paper napkin on a plate and pour the chips on them. Wait a few mins before eating and the napkin will soak some of the oil off. It seems gross that there is so much oil on the chip that a napkin will soak it off, but it's true! And at least this way, you'll get rid of some of the oil. | Just set a limit of 1 bag. Cons: As another reviewer said, there's a lot of oil in them chips. What I do is place a paper napkin on a plate and pour the chips on them. It seems gross that there is so much oil on the chip that a napkin will soak it off, but it's true! |
| 446 | I have always been a fan of Kettle chips. When you open a bag of Kettle chips you know you are going to get quality. These chips are no exception and live up to the name printed on the package. The New York Cheddar chips have a very subtle flavor to them. You can taste the cheddar in them; but it doesn't smack you in the face like supermarket brand chips might. The taste lingers as well which is a definite plus! Another aspect about these Kettle chips is the fact every chip is nice and crisp, that crunch in your mouth. On top of that there are no burnt chips in any of the bags I have had since the purchase. The only negative I might have is that the flavoring of the chips is uneven. Some chips might pack a nice cheddar punch while another might taste rather plain. This isn't a big flaw as it happens when getting seasoned and doesn't ruin the bag at all. Overall the quality of the chips is fantastic. The flavor is great and you won't be disappointed, especially if you are a cheddar lover! | On top of that there are no burnt chips in any of the bags I have had since the purchase. This isn't a big flaw as it happens when getting seasoned and doesn't ruin the bag at all. Overall the quality of the chips is fantastic. Some chips might pack a nice cheddar punch while another might taste rather plain. The only negative I might have is that the flavoring of the chips is uneven. |

| | | |
|-----|---|---|
| 447 | Tried many varieties of BBQ chips and hands down these are the BEST on the market! These R not too salty or greasy. Great crispy crunch. Plenty of good BBQ flavor with a hint of sweetness that all other brands fall short of. Every bag (after bag) is just as mouth wateringly delicious as the 1st!! | These R not too salty or greasy. Great crispy crunch. Tried many varieties of BBQ chips and hands down these are the BEST on the market! |
| 450 | I subscribed to these - one case every three months. That comes out to about $5 a month for the convenience of having my favorite chips handy whenever I want. Because it seems Frito-Lay has managed to crowd out every other chip vendor from pretty much all my local stores this is the best way to ensure a steady supply of the items I want rather than the items Frito-Lay wants me to have. The two ounce bags are larger than you might be used to buying at the Subway (for example) which I find works very well - they're large enough to be a good snack on their own, or you can even share a single bag over lunch. The size is perfect for ensuring these fantastically crunchy chips are always fresh - no chip clip needed! The only problem? I subscribed to four cases a year and having these yummy chips always in the pantry makes it really easy to increase ones Kettle chip consumption. Definitely have to hide the case from the kids! | I subscribed to these - one case every three months. The two ounce bags are larger than you might be used to buying at the Subway (for example) which I find works very well - they're large enough to be a good snack on their own, or you can even share a single bag over lunch. The size is perfect for ensuring these fantastically crunchy chips are always fresh - no chip clip needed! The only problem? |
| 451 | OK,I did read the reviews which ranged from splendid to awful. I took the plunge as I do like salty, and tangy flavors. No, I had never had these before I took the leap and ordered a case at a super price. They arrived quickly and in great shape with the sell by date FEB 2011. Umm, I'm in the middle on these chips, they are OK but not something I can't live without. I love the crunch, the color, NO TRANS FAT. They are a little too vinegary for my taste, which is a lot coming from a kid that grew up eating pickled hard-boiled eggs and pickled pigs feet. I haven't tried them with a deli sandwich and a cold mug of beer which might improve the experience :) | OK,I did read the reviews which ranged from splendid to awful. No, I had never had these before I took the leap and ordered a case at a super price. They are a little too vinegary for my taste, which is a lot coming from a kid that grew up eating pickled hard-boiled eggs and pickled pigs feet. I haven't tried them with a deli sandwich and a cold mug of beer which might improve the experience :) |
| 455 | I was hesitant to buy this at my local grocery store, Lunds, but they were on sale, so I bought a bag. I've found that going beyond the simply-flavored chips, like cheddar or vinegar, usually results in disappointment. Tried the Thai or asian-inspired chips by Target, Archer Farms, and they were awful. These Kettle Spicy Thai chips are just awesome...so much so, that I'm considering buying them in bulk from Amazon. The taste is complicated and stimulates different parts of the palate. The taste sensations prevalent in real Thai food is baked into this chip...sweet, salty, spicy. Was sour in there too? I don't know, but this is a well-made well-balanced chip that is addicting. | I've found that going beyond the simply-flavored chips, like cheddar or vinegar, usually results in disappointment. These Kettle Spicy Thai chips are just awesome...so much so, that I'm considering buying them in bulk from Amazon. The taste is complicated and stimulates different parts of the palate. |
| 459 | I LOVE these chips! It is a little weird to review potato chips. But these chips are great. The crunch is just right, plus they have just the right amount of salt. Not too salty not too bland. They are a little oily but that's ok. The best thing is the 2 oz package. When I buy a larger bag it's harder to resist eating them all. This 2 oz package allows for a little "portion control". Be sure to use your scissors to open, 'cause these chips are packaged for freshness and don't open easily. Enjoy! | I LOVE these chips! The crunch is just right, plus they have just the right amount of salt. Not too salty not too bland. Be sure to use your scissors to open, 'cause these chips are packaged for freshness and don't open easily. |
| 462 | Kettle Chips flavors can be hit or miss. Some of their flavors are terrible. But this is very simple and delicious. Probably one of their best flavors. Pros: Thick, crunchy potato chips with light salt that doesn't compromise on taste, eco-friendly business that isn't just giving us lip service Cons: The occasional burnt chip and the bag is a pain to open. They have a tab that you can pull down but most of the time I end up tearing down the entire side of the bag. Use scissors instead. | Probably one of their best flavors. Pros: Thick, crunchy potato chips with light salt that doesn't compromise on taste, eco-friendly business that isn't just giving us lip service >Cons: The occasional burnt chip and the bag is a pain to open. They have a tab that you can pull down but most of the time I end up tearing down the entire side of the bag. Use scissors instead. |

| | | |
|-----|---|---|
| 463 | We bought these chips at a little sandwich shop in Sonoma while we were on vacation. I wasn't sure what to expect by the package, and at first bite I didn't know what to think...and then all of the flavors hit! Yum! They are a bit spicy, but nothing overpowering. Just lots of crunchy, sweet, spicy goodness. They aren't sold everywhere though, I'm still trying to find them somewhere close to where I live. | I wasn't sure what to expect by the package, and at first bite I didn't know what to think...and then all of the flavors hit! Yum! They are a bit spicy, but nothing overpowering. Just lots of crunchy, sweet, spicy goodness. |
| 464 | I have to admit that those chips are so good that they are highly addictive. I can't stop eating them!!! It's crunchy and seasoned at the right amount of flavor and salt. Just perfect!!! Believe me, some chips are so salty, I can't finish a small bag. But this one... I just keep on eating! | I have to admit that those chips are so good that they are highly addictive. It's crunchy and seasoned at the right amount of flavor and salt. I can't stop eating them!!! |
| 466 | I'm addicted to salty and tangy flavors, so when I opened my first bag of Sea Salt & Vinegar Kettle Brand chips I knew I had a perfect complement to my vegetable trays of cucumber, carrot, celery and cherry tomatoes. Skip the dip; balance the tangy chips by alternating bites of raw vegetable. As an Oregonian, I'm proud to share these delectable snacks with friends, especially those living outside our state and who haven't experienced gourmet chips. I tell them Kettle Brand does for potato chips what microbrews did for beer. Kettle Brand potato chips are unmistakable--a light gold color, rich flavor and amazing crunch. Kettle Brand chips are also a healthier snacking option than the major chip brands. Kettle Brand chips don't have trans fats, MSG or artificial flavors and colorings. The company also has a line of organic potato chips and all of their products are certified Kosher. I also recommend Kettle Chips Honey Dijon and Kettle Chips Spicy Thai. Annette Solomon, a reporter for the Salem Statesman Journal recently noted that a glass of wine goes nicely with these chips. Solomon wrote, "...you could be missing out on a wonderful pairing. These chips are spicy, so you would want to select a semi-sweet white wine. Also, a moderate amount of acid will subdue the strong flavors of ginger, lime, garlic and cilantro without over-powering them. Classically, a German-style Riesling fits these parameters perfectly." | I'm addicted to salty and tangy flavors, so when I opened my first bag of Sea Salt & Vinegar Kettle Brand chips I knew I had a perfect complement to my vegetable trays of cucumber, carrot, celery and cherry tomatoes. Skip the dip; balance the tangy chips by alternating bites of raw vegetable. As an Oregonian, I'm proud to share these delectable snacks with friends, especially those living outside our state and who haven't experienced gourmet chips. Solomon wrote, "...you could be missing out on a wonderful pairing. Classically, a German-style Riesling fits these parameters perfectly." |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 467 | These Honey Dijon chips bring a terrific balance of salty, tangy, sweet and crunchy. Other brands I've tried use too much mustard flavor, which overpowers the Honey Dijon pairing. These chips make a great side dish on a BBQ plate with baked beans, coleslaw or potato salad and grilled meat. Naturally, they also go down great with beer. As an Oregonian, I'm proud to share these delectable snacks with friends, especially those living outside our state and who haven't experienced gourmet chips. I tell them Kettle Brand does for potato chips what microbrews did for beer. Kettle Brand potato chips are unmistakable--a light gold color, rich flavor and amazing crunch. Kettle Brand chips are also a healthier snacking option than the major chip brands. Kettle Brand chips don't have trans fats, MSG or artificial flavors and colorings. The company also has a line of organic potato chips and all of their products are certified Kosher. I also recommend these other Kettle Chips flavors: http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/B000G6MBUA>Kettle Chips Sea Salt & Vinegar and http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/B000G6Q4GM>Kettle Chips Spicy Thai. Annette Solomon, a reporter for the Salem Statesman Journal recently noted that a glass of wine goes nicely with these chips. Solomon wrote, "...you could be missing out on a wonderful pairing. These chips are spicy, so you would want to select a semi-sweet white wine. Also, a moderate amount of acid will subdue the strong flavors of ginger, lime, garlic and cilantro without over-powering them. Classically, a German-style Riesling fits these parameters perfectly." | Other brands I've tried use too much mustard flavor, which overpowers the Honey Dijon pairing. These chips make a great side dish on a BBQ plate with baked beans, coleslaw or potato salad and grilled meat. Naturally, they also go down great with beer. As an Oregonian, I'm proud to share these delectable snacks with friends, especially those living outside our state and who haven't experienced gourmet chips. Also, a moderate amount of acid will subdue the strong flavors of ginger, lime, garlic and cilantro without over-powering them. Classically, a German-style Riesling fits these parameters perfectly." |
| 470 | They are good but need more cheese and wish they were krinkle cut. I much prefer the salt & pepper just for the krinkle cut - they have a better texture. All around this brand is much better than Frito-Lay and a good price on Amazon when you get free shipping. These are similar to Tim's or Zack's chips in that they are very crispy. On a side note, these are the hardest bags to open by hand. I have to use a knife or scissors everytime. | They are good but need more cheese and wish they were krinkle cut. All around this brand is much better than Frito-Lay and a good price on Amazon when you get free shipping. I have to use a knife or scissors everytime. |
| 473 | I recently tried this flavor/brand and was surprised at how delicious these chips are. The best thing was that there were a lot of "brown" chips in the bsg (my favorite), so I bought some more through amazon and shared with family and friends. I am a little disappointed that there are not, so far, very many brown chips in these bags, but the flavor is still very good. I like them better than the yogurt and green onion flavor because they do not seem to be as salty, and the onion flavor is better. If you haven't eaten Kettle chips before, I recommend that you try a bag before buying bulk. They are thicker and crunchier than Lays but just as fresh out of the bag. | The best thing was that there were a lot of "brown" chips in the bsg (my favorite), so I bought some more through amazon and shared with family and friends. I recently tried this flavor/brand and was surprised at how delicious these chips are. They are thicker and crunchier than Lays but just as fresh out of the bag. |
| 475 | These chips are some of the best I've tasted. They are not filled with chemicals. You taste the tangy vinegar as well as the potato. Not greasy. Perfectly crispy. If you don't like salt and vinegar tanginess, don't even bother to try. These definitely have zip. I love them. My children and their friends love them. Even my 4 year old loves them! | These chips are some of the best I've tasted. Perfectly crispy. I love them. |
| 485 | My husband likes these a lot. They are a bit different to get used to as they are less greasy and salty in taste than the usual chips you buy. They are more browner than I would like to see and the chips are pretty sturdy in texture. Not bad, though. Just takes getting used to eating chips better for your health. They do have about 1/2 the calories in fat, however. | My husband likes these a lot. They are a bit different to get used to as they are less greasy and salty in taste than the usual chips you buy. Not bad, though. |

| | | |
|-----|--|---|
| 488 | I took one and said good Russet potato chip but I found that the flavoring was subtle for my taste, a bit oily and overcooked. It may be because I am use to eating their great tasting Kettle Chips Spicy Thai, 2-Ounce Bags (Pack of 24). Or perhaps because all the chips in the bags I received were overcooked and that overpowered the seasoning. It is obvious the chips are flavored, but if I did not read the bag I would never have thought it had Cheddar flavor. And I love New York Cheddar. The flavoring included Parmesan, Cheddar, Blue Cheese, garlic and other spices. A good chip even when overcooked, but I do not plan to buy them again. | It may be because I am use to eating their great tasting Kettle Chips Spicy Thai, 2-Ounce Bags (Pack of 24). I took one and said good Russet potato chip but I found that the flavoring was subtle for my taste, a bit oily and overcooked. The flavoring included Parmesan, Cheddar, Blue Cheese, garlic and other spices. |
| 489 | I took one and said good Russet potato chip but where is the flavoring? Then all of a sudden, within seconds, it spread to my senses and my taste buds were happy. As close to Thai food as a potato chip can get. These chips are spicy enough to satisfy that craving for spice and a hint of sweetness that makes them habit forming. The flavoring included garlic, ginger, jalapeno, cilantro and other spices, and it just felt great to eat these. I will buy these again. These were a treat. | As close to Thai food as a potato chip can get. The flavoring included garlic, ginger, jalapeno, cilantro and other spices, and it just felt great to eat these. Then all of a sudden, within seconds, it spread to my senses and my taste buds were happy. |
| 490 | I agree with the other review, these chips are not for a sore mouth or tender gums. The chips are very hard and the taste is delightful if you enjoy the salt/vinegar combo. Unfortunately, every bag I received in that case was over cooked! They were very dark and only a few golden brown chips in each bag. They definitely need to improve that! | I agree with the other review, these chips are not for a sore mouth or tender gums. Unfortunately, every bag I received in that case was over cooked! They definitely need to improve that! |
| 492 | A friend of mine brought these into work with the claim , "these will change your life!" While my life is fairly unchanged, I cannot get enough of these chips . . . and I do not even like kettle chips. For the most part, I find Kettle Chips to be too thick and greasy, but the flavor of these chips is amazing! The are the type of hot that is refreshing. If you do not enjoy spicy or hot things . . . try these anyway, they may convert you. | . . For the most part, I find Kettle Chips to be too thick and greasy, but the flavor of these chips is amazing! |
| 494 | These are the best potato chips I've ever tasted. It's easy to go through half of a bag without stopping. The texture/ crunchiness is just perfect, as is the salt and vinegar combination. I don't know how they taste so much better than all of the other chips I've ever had, but they do. And, judging from the nutrition facts, they seem to be healthier, too. They're somewhat fibrous and have a good bit of potassium and vitamin c, which could be because they don't skin the potatoes and the chips are a bit thicker than normal. And if you like these, all of the Kettle chips are great. | These are the best potato chips I've ever tasted. The texture/ crunchiness is just perfect, as is the salt and vinegar combination. They're somewhat fibrous and have a good bit of potassium and vitamin c, which could be because they don't skin the potatoes and the chips are a bit thicker than normal. And if you like these, all of the Kettle chips are great. |
| 496 | This is easily the best potato chip that I have ever had. Look at the ingredients: Ginger and 3 types of hot pepper. How can you go wrong? Obviously, not for you if you don't like spicy food. But, if you DO like spicy food, you'll probably love these. They have that hot-with-a-hint-of-sweetness flavor combo that is prevalent in a lot of Thai food. | This is easily the best potato chip that I have ever had. They have that hot-with-a-hint-of-sweetness flavor combo that is prevalent in a lot of Thai food. How can you go wrong? Obviously, not for you if you don't like spicy food. |
| 497 | Kettle Chips Spicy Thai potato chips have the perfect amount of sweet, savory and spicy-- everything you'd want in a good meal or better yet...a potato chip. Since these are kettle-cooked, the chips are uniquely shaped and are sometimes a bit over-browned. They are, however, sliced just perfectly, not too thick, not too thin, so you can actually get a great crunch with each bite without breaking a tooth off. The flavor is tremendous, although I wouldn't describe it as Thai. It's more of a vague, sweet and tangy flavor with a kick, and every now and then you get a great big hit of ginger. If you like any spice at all, these really are not overly spicy, so most people can handle them. The fact that these chips have absolutely no artificial ingredients or trans fat makes them a fabulous addition to any muncher's snack cupboard. | The fact that these chips have absolutely no artificial ingredients or trans fat makes them a fabulous addition to any muncher's snack cupboard. The flavor is tremendous, although I wouldn't describe it as Thai. They are, however, sliced just perfectly, not too thick, not too thin, so you can actually get a great crunch with each bite without breaking a tooth off. |

| | | |
|-----|---|--|
| 499 | I don't write very many reviews but I have to say that Kettle Brand chips are the best I have ever tasted. Every flavor is dynamite. If you are feeling iffy about honey dijon, I would recommend cheddar beer, absolutely amazing. And they're healthy! (besides a lil fat) I have eaten a lot of chips in my day and Kettle takes the cake. Enjoy, and don't eat them too fast. | Every flavor is dynamite. And they're healthy! I don't write very many reviews but I have to say that Kettle Brand chips are the best I have ever tasted. |
| 503 | Amazon's suggestion for a 4 star review is "I like it." That being said, I gave a 5 star review to the Spicy Thai chips. These chips are perfect for people that enjoy a spicy chip, but whose taste buds don't appreciate the added sweetness and ginger flavor. The only thing I REALLY dislike about these chips (along with the rest of the flavors) is that the serving size is HALF the bag. Really? Who can eat half and save the rest for later??? Not me... | Amazon's suggestion for a 4 star review is "I like it." That being said, I gave a 5 star review to the Spicy Thai chips. Really? |
| 504 | These are a favorite at our home. We like the ones that have Sea Salt. We also like Barbeque flavored. These are not ruffly chips that have ridges. These are thickly cut plain slice potatoes. They are thick and crunchy and have a great texture in your mouth. They also have a great taste. The sea salt ones, which are a favorite, have just enough salt to have salt but not so much that you feel like you have to drink a gallon of water with your chips. Enjoy. | These are a favorite at our home. These are thickly cut plain slice potatoes. The sea salt ones, which are a favorite, have just enough salt to have salt but not so much that you feel like you have to drink a gallon of water with your chips. Enjoy. |
| 506 | Great chips, great price. Odds are that you will have them to yourself. If you like your fish and chips soaked in malt vinegar, you will love these. The best salt and vinegar chips I have ever had (and I love this flavor, mind you). They are spectacular with deli sandwiches or on their own. Since I have found that S&V is palatable to only the most intelligent of our species I know that my afternoon snack is all mine, unless of course I run into another heavy brained, hearty breathed like mind. -Summary- If you like the taste of bitter sweet salty vinegar and a crispy chip to boot you wont pucker at the sight of these handily bagged morsels. It is the first and only time I have committed to a whole case of chips and I will do it again. Mmmmm... vinegar... | Great chips, great price. If you like your fish and chips soaked in malt vinegar, you will love these. Odds are that you will have them to yourself. |
| 508 | These are perhaps the worst chips that have ever gone into my mouth. For my entire life Sour Cream & Onion (and in this case "& Chive") chips were my favorite. Recently Kettle brand Honey Dijon Mustard took that slot. So when I found out they had sour cream & onion I just had to try them. As soon as I opened the bag the chips smelled of powdered milk. And indeed each chip is coated with a powdered sour cream that is just awful. It tastes like rancid milk. Not just sour, but like sour cream that when rancid. The powdery texture is also extremely unappealing. I basically hated these chips. I would not recommend these chips to anyone unless they had a particular affinity for a powdery, chalky texture on a chip, with a rancid (and onion flavor) and I have a hard time believing that person exists. I plan on contacting Kettle and sharing my thoughts with them. Hopefully they'll reassess the seasoning on these otherwise wonderful kettle style chips. | Not just sour, but like sour cream that when rancid. These are perhaps the worst chips that have ever gone into my mouth. For my entire life Sour Cream & Onion (and in this case "& Chive") chips were my favorite. Recently Kettle brand Honey Dijon Mustard took that slot. The powdery texture is also extremely unappealing. |
| 511 | I love these chips, which is why I bought them, to stock up for the entire school year. The chips taste great, and packages were all sealed and in good condition when the arrived. The box on the other hand was in tatters, with holes and completely squished... I don't know if that was a result of customs or the voyage, but to receive it was a bit disgruntling given it was falling apart. Luckily, there were no victims within. All the chips are as they should be. | The box on the other hand was in tatters, with holes and completely squished... I love these chips, which is why I bought them, to stock up for the entire school year. Luckily, there were no victims within. |
| 512 | This is the first time I tried Sea Salt & Vinegar chips. Not my taste. Make sure you like salt & vinegar before ordering. You may be in for a suprise if you have never tried them before. I'll stick with the salt and black pepper chips. | Not my taste. This is the first time I tried Sea Salt & Vinegar chips. You may be in for a suprise if you have never tried them before. |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 513 | TOTALLY ORGASMIC. these chips are the best spicy chip i have ever tasted. signed up for the subscribe and save option. the case contained 15(FIFTEEN, FULL SIZED BAGS) OF CHIPS. the price per unit equals $1.73 per package. that is not even the cost of plain chips. if you add the free shipping and the fast delivery, this deal is a steal. so run like you stole something over to your computer and order the SPICY THAI CHIPS. p.s. even if you paid the going price of $30.00, you are still ahead of the curve. ENJOY | signed up for the subscribe and save option. the case contained 15(FIFTEEN, FULL SIZED BAGS) OF CHIPS. if you add the free shipping and the fast delivery, this deal is a steal. |
| 514 | Seriously, now. Tasty, tasty, tasty. Fresh, too! The only problem is that you have a pack of 24 and that can lend itself to wanting to make multiple trips to the cupboard for more helpings! Or, grabbing multiple bags to begin with. Pace yourself! I keep saying. You can't go wrong with these if you're a fan of the salt and vinegar classic flavor. 2-ounce bags are about double the size of the kid's bags; about the same size as the ones in the small gas station racks. It's really a good size for an adult. It's a somewhat healthier snack than a typical bag of fried chips, but it has 300 calories per bag. Again, not too bad, but something to think about. Bottom-line: Delicious! | Seriously, now. Fresh, too! The only problem is that you have a pack of 24 and that can lend itself to wanting to make multiple trips to the cupboard for more helpings! Or, grabbing multiple bags to begin with. |
| 516 | These were nasty, they were so greasy and too rich for my blood, plus they lacked major flavor, no spicy jalapeno flavor at all. I was so dissapointed in these chips, I am always hearing great things about these chips but I am telling you, yuck yuck yuck. Give me pain chips any day. Maybe there is a better kettle chip brand out there but I am staying clear from these chips. I wish I could give these zero stars if I could. | Maybe there is a better kettle chip brand out there but I am staying clear from these chips. Give me pain chips any day. I wish I could give these zero stars if I could. |
| 520 | These are the best potato chips that money can buy. There is just enough salt to taste it, but not so much that it masks the lingering potatoey awesomeness after you've wolfed down a bag of these beauties. Each chip has the perfect thickness - my teeth get excited every time I put one in my mouth! Everything about these chips is so perfect, it's like they were made by God and delivered by Gabriel himself. Now that I know Amazon carries these, I don't even have to leave my house to buy them! I may never eat anything else again! | These are the best potato chips that money can buy. Each chip has the perfect thickness - my teeth get excited every time I put one in my mouth! I may never eat anything else again! |
| 522 | I first discovered Kettle Chips with sea salt and vinegar while shopping at Trader Joe's with my daughter Mindy. I couldn't believe how tasty they were; the best chip I had ever eaten. It was love at first bite, and I've been munching them ever since. Other things in their favor: they're thicker than other chips, so don't crumble as I'm devouring them; they're delightfully crunchy; and the salt-and-vinegar combination is heavenly. I tried to create an original line to describe this palate-pleasing taste treat, but couldn't beat what the manufacturer said: tongue-puckering tang and crunch. Isn't that poetic? As for health values, since Kettle Chips are not peeled during preparation, I'm getting more nutrition, such as potassium and vitamin C. My mother would approve of that, and the fact that they're hand-cooked in small batches. I often enjoy Kettle Chips as an afternoon snack with my favorite soda or iced tea, but they're also delicious with a tuna sandwich or a hot dog for lunch. Well, actually Kettle Chips go perfect with everything ... except "sweets," of course. My only problem is that they're so delicious I can't stop eating them. That's the reason I chose these smaller packets; I figured 24 could last me almost a month, if I was a good girl, kept my appetite under control--and hid them from the kids! For the sake of fewer calories, I try hard and have succeeded so far. It isn't easy, but ... Have I told you how much I love them? Reviewed by: Betty Dravis, 2008 Millennium Babe: The Prophecy | I first discovered Kettle Chips with sea salt and vinegar while shopping at Trader Joe's with my daughter Mindy. Isn't that poetic? As for health values, since Kettle Chips are not peeled during preparation, I'm getting more nutrition, such as potassium and vitamin C. My mother would approve of that, and the fact that they're hand-cooked in small batches. I often enjoy Kettle Chips as an afternoon snack with my favorite soda or iced tea, but they're also delicious with a tuna sandwich or a hot dog for lunch. Well, actually Kettle Chips go perfect with everything ... except "sweets," of course. My only problem is that they're so delicious I can't stop eating them. |

| | | |
|-----|---|--|
| 523 | You don't need salt to hide the taste of potato chips. And these chips prove it. The taste of the potato comes through, instead of being masked. OK, so they're still a snack food, but no salt and no trans-fats mean these are about the healthiest potato chips you can get. And if you're on a low-salt diet (like I am), having these available means I can eat chips, and Kettle are just the best. | And these chips prove it. The taste of the potato comes through, instead of being masked. OK, so they're still a snack food, but no salt and no trans-fats mean these are about the healthiest potato chips you can get. |
| 525 | It feels strange to review chips, but I am compelled because these are my absolute favorite chips. Kettle has lots of flavors but I always go back to these regular lightly salted. They are thicker and sometimes greasy at the bottom of the bag, plus they often looked burned. They are not actually burned. It has something to do with how much sugar is in the potato that makes it dark. I love to open a bag and find some browned chips. Lays and Wise have their place but I've become a chip snob thanks to Kettle. Like Edy's or Breyer's ice cream, some products are worth the money. These are the best of the best. | Kettle has lots of flavors but I always go back to these regular lightly salted. They are thicker and sometimes greasy at the bottom of the bag, plus they often looked burned. They are not actually burned. It has something to do with how much sugar is in the potato that makes it dark. |
| 526 | I have tried a lot of S&V chips and these are the best! Real sea salt and REAL vinegar! Mouth-watering flavor & crispiness. Not for the faint of heart - the flavor is very authentic! :) | I have tried a lot of S&V chips and these are the best! Mouth-watering flavor & crispiness. |
| 527 | Kettle brand chips are very crunchy. I would say regular plain old Lays potato chips are at the "soft" end of the "soft/crunchy" spectrum. Ruffles brand potato chips used to be considered the crunchiest, but Kettle brand chips are far more crunchy. If you have a tender mouth or bad teeth (dentures) you might want to steer clear of Kettle brand. Otherwise, you'll love these chips. The Sea Salt & Vinegar chips are super TANGY. I enjoy taking swigs of vinegar bottles from time to time. I am dissapointed with all other Salt & Vinegar chips either because the chips are too soft and/or the vinegar taste whimpy and/or chemically. Rest assured Kettle Sea Salt & Vinegar has a gourmet flavor. The vinegar flavor has no chemical flavor and could NEVER be called whimpy! | The Sea Salt & Vinegar chips are super TANGY. Otherwise, you'll love these chips. I am dissapointed with all other Salt & Vinegar chips either because the chips are too soft and/or the vinegar taste whimpy and/or chemically. Rest assured Kettle Sea Salt & Vinegar has a gourmet flavor. |

| | | |
|-----|---|--|
| 528 | I once loved these chips and they were the only chips i would buy. I discovered them when I was in England back in 2000 and quickly became a fan. About a year ago I picked up a bag that was on sale at my local supermarket. I was finding it odd that they were on sale so much but took advantage of it. After opening the bag I found the chips were not even close to the Kettle chips I was used to. They were all uniform whitish yellow in color, flavor was way off, the lovely extra crisp brown chips were gone completely and I was very disappointed. So I e-mailed Kettle with the following: "What Happened? I bought this bag of chips the other day and they have a very different taste; It tastes "cheaper". I don't know how else to put it... I also noticed that the chips seemed to be less cooked as I did not see any of the browner colored chips that have the most flavor. I am hoping that nothing has changed with the ingredients or process used to produce this product. Did I just get a weird batch? I have been buying only Kettle Chips for about 10 years now so I am wondering." I did receive a reply: "Thanks for letting us know about your experience with your Kettle Brand® Chips. It sounds like you may have received a bag that should not have slipped by our inspections, and we apologize. Our potatoes do vary seasonally which could account for a variation in color-but our chips should still taste great! Thanks for providing us with the "best before" code from the bag. This really helps when passing on your comments to our staff. We are sending some coupons to replace your purchase with any of our Kettle Brand® flavors or nut butters, believing you will have a great experience with your next purchase! In case you buy this product again, we suggest avoiding the same best before date (if you still have it) in the rare instance another bag from the same case slipped by our inspections at the same time. Thanks again for letting us know about this and expect the coupons to arrive within 3 weeks. Please let me know if I can be of any more help." Well the next bag was good. Since that time I have picked up 3 bags of chips all were like the "bad" bag so I am pretty sure that they have changed there product to reduce cost. I did some research and found out that Kettle was bought out by a private equity company. So the same cookie cutter management processes are probably being employed at Kettle. Acquire company with high quality brand recognition, sell product to mass merchants, lower quality/cost of product to increase margin and finally sell company just before the customer base starts to realize that the brand is no longer a quality brand. increased profits make the company more valuable on paper so they make a nice profit for the investors. Customer and employees lose out of course as does an unsuspecting buyer of the exploited brand. Stay away from Kettle chips they are no longer the same... | Since that time I have picked up 3 bags of chips all were like the "bad" bag so I am pretty sure that they have changed there product to reduce cost. I also noticed that the chips seemed to be less cooked as I did not see any of the browner colored chips that have the most flavor. It sounds like you may have received a bag that should not have slipped by our inspections, and we apologize. Our potatoes do vary seasonally which could account for a variation in color-but our chips should still taste great! Thanks for providing us with the "best before" code from the bag. I don't know how else to put it... So the same cookie cutter management processes are probably being employed at Kettle. Acquire company with high quality brand recognition, sell product to mass merchants, lower quality/cost of product to increase margin and finally sell company just before the customer base starts to realize that the brand is no longer a quality brand. |
| 529 | Someone brought these to a party we had last month and I didn't put them out because the buffet was full and didn't think anyone would like saltless potato chips. Last week we had some friends over and these were all I had in the pantry so I put them out. OH MY GOSH THEY ARE SO GOOD! I was so wrong to think they would be bland; they are full of real potato flavor, wonderfully crisp and very fresh tasting. I am here on amazon to buy a case, I only want to have these with dips. Truly delicious! | Someone brought these to a party we had last month and I didn't put them out because the buffet was full and didn't think anyone would like saltless potato chips. OH MY GOSH THEY ARE SO GOOD! I was so wrong to think they would be bland; they are full of real potato flavor, wonderfully crisp and very fresh tasting. |
| 530 | These Backyard BBQ Kettle Chips were a great deal with the promo code. It was nice to have a larger size bag. Some Kettle Chips in the grocery store are only about 5 ounces and we polish them off in one family lunch! They arrived fresh and were not in crumbles as some other chips from Amazon Grocery have been. Great flavor and All Natural! | These Backyard BBQ Kettle Chips were a great deal with the promo code. Some Kettle Chips in the grocery store are only about 5 ounces and we polish them off in one family lunch! Great flavor and All Natural! |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 531 | I have tried Herrs, UTZ, wise, pringles, lays etc....but Kettle tasted the best. The quantity of salt used is the optimum which is required. Although they say serving size 1 ounce, you will finish the whole packet in no time. Total calories is 300 for 2 ounce bag. This is slightly on the higher side. But still it is ok, as they have not compromised on the taste. Only issue was that all packets have some burnt chips, which taste bad. Kettle should take care when packing to ensure no burnt chips are there. Thanks to Amazon to get 24 bags for just 12 bucks with free shipping using their coupon. | Total calories is 300 for 2 ounce bag. The quantity of salt used is the optimum which is required. Although they say serving size 1 ounce, you will finish the whole packet in no time. This is slightly on the higher side. |
| 535 | Got these Kettle Chips Sea Salt & Vinegar (15 5oz bags) and was not impressed. Tasted kind of flat. I was eating some out of the bag, when I looked down into the bag and noticed a hole in the bag about the size of a sesame seed. Then I started looking at all the unopened bags and MANY of them had this type same hole. Some bags had multiple holes. One bag had a hole the size of a dime at the bottom of the bag like a rodent had got to it. The box they shipped in had NO holes so they we're packed this way. So much for quality control and who ever let these ship should be fired. Needless to say I'll never be eating anymore Kettle products and expect a full refund from Kettle or Amazon. M. Martin | Tasted kind of flat. Got these Kettle Chips Sea Salt & Vinegar (15 5oz bags) and was not impressed. I was eating some out of the bag, when I looked down into the bag and noticed a hole in the bag about the size of a sesame seed. |

539 I was getting VERY worried, when I read some of the other reviews here. Specifically, the "One Star" reviews, to which I always go, to see if the faults these other reviewers find with any merchandise would prevent me from buying it.

WOW! They sure seemed to hate the KETTLE CHIPS, BACKYARD BARBECUE 9-OUNCE BAGS, (PACK OF 12), that I had bought as 1 ounce bags, liked A LOT, decided to subscribe....and then, for good measure, got 2 orders of the 9 ounce bags.

Yes...I love potato chips....especially these KETTLE CHIPS, BACKYARD BARBECUE FLAVOUR....but others seemed to really HATE them...or at least, hate how they had changed.
But then I realized they were talking about OTHER FLAVOURS! Amazon, in it's deep wisdom, has obviously seen fit to put ALL comments concerning ALL flavours of KETTLE, (and other brands of?????) potato chips, TOGETHER!

Of course, this DOES have SOME advantages, because most potato-chip lovers, (like me!), enjoy eating several flavour, and brand varieties. So, comparisons can be made easily. Also, as we're all potato-chip lovers, but each person has his or her very favourite flavour that they are reviewing, we are, here a sort of "United Nations of Potato Chip Lovers"....all different, but all united in our love of Potato Chips! (The rest of the world can REALLY benefit from the example of our tightly-knit, but ever...er,...expanding...group here, I think! :) But -- not at first realizing that these different flavour reviews were all together, did cause me a little confusion and dismay.... at least to begin with.... (Amazon should have mentioned that this is the "Kettle Potato Chip Review Forum"! :)

I am happy to report that KETTLE CHIPS, BACKYARD BARBEQUE FLAVOUR, are totally delicious! (At least they are in the one-ounce bags...hopefully the same product in the 9 ounce bags will taste the same!) These are definitely chips for ADULTS, however -- and/or children whose stronger-than-adult taste buds can withstand the very strong flavour of these chips. They are NOT the strongest flavour I have ever had...that was from a jalapeno pepper chip which was far too strong for even me!
These Backyard Barbeque chips by Kettle, however, have just the right amount of sweetness, (with honey powder, onion and sugar), to take the edge of the stonger flavours
(paprika, chili pepper, cayenne pepper, and natural smoke flavour), of which there is less, (they come further down in the list of ingredients than the sweeteners.)

The complete list of ingredients of these KETTLE BACKYARD BARBECUE CHIPS, (in the 1-ounce bags, and hopefully, in the 9 ounce bags as well), is as follows:

Potatoes
Vegetable Oil, (Safflower and Sunflower Oil),
Honey Powder, (Dried cane sugar, honey),
Rice Powder
Sugar
Salt
Onion Powder
Tomato Powder
Paprika
Torula Yeast
Garlic Powder
Chili Pepper
Citric Acid
Cayenne Pepper
Paprika Oleoresin, (Colour)
Natural Smoke Flavour

Naturally cooked, natural ingredients. The combination is a true taste treat!

Of course, as with all ptato chips, moderation is the key.
Potatoes contain a LOT of potassium....which gives energy and othr good things....but too much of which can damage kindneys. The vegetable oil is great -- but too much oil, (as well as too much starch, from the potatoes), can hurt the eyes. Natural smoke flavour is SO yummy....but it, (as well as sugar), has -- in very large amounts -- been linked to cancer production

As far as the starch from the potatoes and oil go, this can be ameliorated, (a bit), by drinking TEA...which is good for the eyes. But as far as the potassium, (energy - good, too much -- bad for the kidneys), and the sugar and natural smoke flavour, (too much leading to cancer production) -- the only thing is to do what is good in everything.....M O D E R A T I O N...!

Twice or three times a month, I allow myself to go on what I call a "Potato Chip Diet". I eat only one large bag (or the equivalent in small ones) of potato ), enjoy eating several flavour, and brand varieties. So, comparisons can be made easily. :) But -- not at first realizing that these different flavour reviews were all together, did cause me a little confusion and dismay.... at least to begin with.... (Amazon should have mentioned that this is the "Kettle Potato Chip Review Forum"! I supplement this with tea, coffee, and lemonade, as well as several servings of Carnation Instant Breakfast Essentials, (I like the Dark Chocolate flavour) This adds up to fewer calories than I would normally eat, if I had my normal three meals a day plus snacks. :)

These BACKYARD BARBEQUE flavour potato chips from KETTLE, are totally scrumptious. It also teaches me to eat s-l-o-w-l-y, because that one big bag, (or many little bags), never lasts as long as I'd like.

| | | |
|-----|--|---|
| 541 | I've bought these at the local supermarket and enjoyed them although they are so salty that a few leave my tongue and roof of my mouth burning. Keeps you from eating too many! Occasionally I get really stale items from Amazon.com and this was one. Unedible. Beware of the quality of food items on this website that are on special as they can be very close to due dates or in this case, not expired but stale and unedible just the same. | Keeps you from eating too many! I've bought these at the local supermarket and enjoyed them although they are so salty that a few leave my tongue and roof of my mouth burning. |
| 543 | Kettle Brand chips used to be so good...oily, crunchy, flavorful. I suspect the company has been bought out and the recipe has been changed for the worse. Now they're no better than any other big name brand chip. Try the Good Health Kettle Style Olive Oil chips instead. They are as good as the Kettle Brand once was. R.I.P., Kettle Brand chips. :(| Try the Good Health Kettle Style Olive Oil chips instead. They are as good as the Kettle Brand once was. R.I.P., Kettle Brand chips. |
| 544 | ...you can absolutely forget about these. Confirmed by other reviewers, these chips are now total garbage. Like chewing on styrofoam packaging "peanuts". Positively awful, no hyperbole or exaggeration. I'll NEVER buy anything from Kettle brand ever again! From a reportedly once great "premium" brand, literally any mass market chip I've ever tried tastes better than these. Stale and rancid tasting, and virtually no salty taste whatsoever. Completely awful! | I'll NEVER buy anything from Kettle brand ever again! Positively awful, no hyperbole or exaggeration. Like chewing on styrofoam packaging "peanuts". |
| 546 | Unless you like salt vinegar chips as salty as eating actual pinches of salt and drinking actual vinegar, i doubt you will like these chips. These are the saltiest & sourest chips I have ever had, and the only reason stops me from throwing these away is because I paid for 2 full boxes and dont like to waste food. The brown chips are especially bad, besides being salty and sour, they also taste overcooked and burnt. Unless you are the rare kind that can take this kind of extreme taste, you will not like these chips. I actually have a high tolerance for sour taste, so I can down a bag of chips with a bit of difficulty. But normal people, please do not try this at home. | Unless you like salt vinegar chips as salty as eating actual pinches of salt and drinking actual vinegar, i doubt you will like these chips. These are the saltiest & sourest chips I have ever had, and the only reason stops me from throwing these away is because I paid for 2 full boxes and dont like to waste food. But normal people, please do not try this at home. |
| 547 | I bought this brand as a trial since I am tired of the Pingos. It claims that it is natural. I have no argument on this. But the point is that more than 50% in the bag is over-fried and in brown color. I really suffer eating the over-fried chips. I open some other bags and it looks like the same. So I just throw away all of them. I don't know if I was with bad luck or every bag they are selling is the same. But for sure I will never buy this brand any more. | I bought this brand as a trial since I am tired of the Pingos. It claims that it is natural. I really suffer eating the over-fried chips. I open some other bags and it looks like the same. |
| 551 | I purchased these because of the low salt, and they were indeed low in salt. However, many, many of the chips in the bag were literally dripping in oil. I have never encountered this problem with other potato chip brands. It was very unappetizing, and who wants all that oil? I will never buy these again, and I would not recommend them to others. | However, many, many of the chips in the bag were literally dripping in oil. It was very unappetizing, and who wants all that oil? I will never buy these again, and I would not recommend them to others. |
| 552 | If you are looking for STRONG S/V flavor these definitely aren't for you. Very mild in comparison to many others. I live in TX and I can tell you I've tried ALL S/V chips I can get ahold of. The best of the best are HEB (storebrand) and World Market. Bob's and Zapp's Aren't bad. From a chip standpoint they have typically great kettle crunch, but if you're looking for S/V flavor these have "just a touch." | If you are looking for STRONG S/V flavor these definitely aren't for you. The best of the best are HEB (storebrand) and World Market. Bob's and Zapp's Aren't bad. |

| | | |
|-----|--|---|
| 560 | Used to eat the Spicy Thai flavor all the time. MSG makes my body unhappy and this was one of the few flavored chips that was MSG free. Now they have changed the whole recipe and how they make them. Instead of being real food on the ingredients like it used to be its mostly processed chemical garbage, a bunch more salt and MSG stuffed in under the label "yeast extract". They removed the NO MSG from the label so they know very well what they did. The worst part though is that they taste horrible. Instead of crisp, oily and full of character...say as if they were cooked in like...a kettle or something they instead have the color and uniformity of baked lays. The Spicy Thai flavor now tastes like sour cream and onion or ranch that has gone rancid. What a shame, no more kettle chips for me. It seems they are slowly moving one flavor at a time to this new cheap ingredient list and manufacturing method. Dont be fooled into paying a premium price for these chips as they are not a premium product anymore. | MSG makes my body unhappy and this was one of the few flavored chips that was MSG free. Used to eat the Spicy Thai flavor all the time. Instead of being real food on the ingredients like it used to be its mostly processed chemical garbage, a bunch more salt and MSG stuffed in under the label "yeast extract". |
| 561 | The chips were great...for the first few bags. However, after the first bag or two, I noticed that the remaining bags were damaged. There were holes in each bag and black, sticky stains on the outside. Other reviewers who bought around the same time that I did are now claiming that they found rodent holes in their bags of chips. The chips came in a sealed Kettle box, so it's hard to say who screwed up. But someone somewhere screwed up. These chips were a health hazard before the holes in the bag. Now? It's like a game of roulette. | These chips were a health hazard before the holes in the bag. But someone somewhere screwed up. Now? |
| 562 | After waiting a ridiculous amount of time for my case of 15 5oz bags to arrive, upon opening the box noticed that every bag had been chewed open by a mouse. Don't know if it is still in the box, but it is outside on the porch. When my son gets home, I'm going to have pictures taken and email to Amazon. The outside Amazon box was intact, so it had to be either from the Kettle Chips people or the Amazon warehouse, don't know which. I will never buy these again from Amazon. I cannot tell you how disgusted I am with this purchase. It makes me sick to think about it! I included pictures at the top of the page. Poor little mousie must have high cholesterol now. Update: I forgot to mention that I offered to email the above pictures of the mouse damage to Amazon but was told they didn't want them. | Don't know if it is still in the box, but it is outside on the porch. I will never buy these again from Amazon. The outside Amazon box was intact, so it had to be either from the Kettle Chips people or the Amazon warehouse, don't know which. |
| 563 | Kettle Chips are the best potato chip God has ever invented. I give the Lord thanks every day for delivering unto me such an incredibly delicious blend of ginger and spice, a veritable cornucopia of flavor. I have actually changed my diet to a strict regiment of the Spicy Thai & Sea Salt and Vinegar flavors, alternating days. I have already lost 5 lbs, not to mention the myriad of other health benefits I have been experiencing. Get your life back - with Kettle Chips. | I have actually changed my diet to a strict regiment of the Spicy Thai & Sea Salt and Vinegar flavors, alternating days. I have already lost 5 lbs, not to mention the myriad of other health benefits I have been experiencing. Get your life back - with Kettle Chips. |
| 565 | I am a great fan of potato chips and of Thai food. I was so happy when Kettle Chips decided to meld two of my great loves together! (What a concept.....) These chips are spicy enough, without burning a hole in your tongue. Also, they have a nice hint of sweetness that makes them habit forming (careful!). Once in a while, this is a treat definitely worth indulging in. | I am a great fan of potato chips and of Thai food. Also, they have a nice hint of sweetness that makes them habit forming (careful!). Once in a while, this is a treat definitely worth indulging in. |

| | | |
|-----|--|---|
| 566 | Terrible! I cannot believe this, I received this item and EVERY SINGLE BAG WAS OPENED BUT 4!!!! I'm stationed in Afghanistan and this was gonna be a snack for my team while going out on missions. I was so embarrassed when the bags were opened and spilt out all in the box, gross! And the box is filled with grease stains. Idk if it was from the airplane ride all the way here, but the box should have been more insulated and bubble wrap should have been used instead of paper. I'm very unhappy with stale crusty chips out the bag and us soldiers cannot enjoy now. | And the box is filled with grease stains. I was so embarrassed when the bags were opened and spilt out all in the box, gross! I cannot believe this, I received this item and EVERY SINGLE BAG WAS OPENED BUT 4!!!! |
| 567 | After reading some of the reviews, I got nervous and opened a bag from my recent order expecting the worst! No worries here. All bags are in great shape and expiration dates aren't until June. Chips, at least from the first bag, taste like they are supposed to and all is good in the world! By the way, fifteen bags for under thirty dollars is a ton less expensive than the going price around here at the local grocery store so, yay team! | No worries here. After reading some of the reviews, I got nervous and opened a bag from my recent order expecting the worst! All bags are in great shape and expiration dates aren't until June. |
| 571 | With Kettle Chips, you really have to be careful. Some of their flavors are nauseating. With that said, they DO make fantastic plain chips. Thick cuts of potato, fried to a dark golden brown. They are crunchy and lightly salted with sea salt. I can't recommend these chips enough. You won't regret it. Some people say they are burnt but they aren't. From their website: "Take a quick look and you'll see an immediate difference: Kettle Brand® Potato Chips are a beautiful tawny gold. During cooking, the natural sugars of our select potatoes caramelize, creating chips from light gold to a deep amber. The results are flavors as deep and rich as the colors, and an artisanal display in every bag" Some have also said that these chips are oily, which is true. But they explain that on their website: "At Kettle Foods we exclusively use expeller pressed high monounsaturated sunflower and/or safflower oil to make Kettle Brand® products. Both of these oils are naturally free of trans fatty acids and are not hydrogenated in any way. We have taken the extra step of sending our products to independent third party labs to test for the presence of trans fats and results indicate we are "trans fat free" meaning none were detected. You will see zero trans fats listed on our packaging." That oiliness is natural and happens when quality oil is being used. You will not find chips with such a natural potato flavor. I'm also a fan of their unsalted potato chips. For those of us watching our salt intake, the unsalted chips is the best you can get. Period. | They are crunchy and lightly salted with sea salt. I can't recommend these chips enough. With that said, they DO make fantastic plain chips. During cooking, the natural sugars of our select potatoes caramelize, creating chips from light gold to a deep amber. Both of these oils are naturally free of trans fatty acids and are not hydrogenated in any way. |
| 572 | These are among the best chips I have ever eaten! I first came upon them when I visited a CostPlus World Market store in Opelika, AL, in the Tiger Town Mall, in 2007. I wasn't a big fan of dijon-flavored anything, but I decided to give these chips a try. I was hooked. I probably ended up buying over a dozen bags within just a few months' time. I searched all over my part of Alabama (the northwestern part of the state) and could not find them. I later tried to find them at the World Market in Hoover, at the Patton Creek Shopping Center, and they did not carry this flavor. However, when I learned that they were available on Amazon.com, and also available for PRIME Shipping - I bought them as soon as I read "Kettle Chips Honey Dijon, 9-Ounce Bags (Pack of 12)!" You get a pretty big box, filled with 12 bags of these delicious morsels. They last quite a while, but I will re-order, very, very soon! I suggest you buy them, in this bulk form, and enjoy them - you won't be disappointed! They go great with hamburgers and hot dogs - so they're perfect for spring and this coming summer's outdoor activities and cook-outs! Take my word for it, these chips are a hidden gem lost in the world of snack foods! Buy some today, and fall in love like me! | I was hooked. I later tried to find them at the World Market in Hoover, at the Patton Creek Shopping Center, and they did not carry this flavor. They go great with hamburgers and hot dogs - so they're perfect for spring and this coming summer's outdoor activities and cook-outs! Take my word for it, these chips are a hidden gem lost in the world of snack foods! I suggest you buy them, in this bulk form, and enjoy them - you won't be disappointed! |

| | | |
|-----|---|---|
| 574 | I'm addicted to salty and tangy flavors, so when I opened my first bag of Sea Salt & Vinegar Kettle Brand chips I knew I had a perfect complement to my vegetable trays of cucumber, carrot, celery and cherry tomatoes. Skip the dip; balance the tangy chips by alternating bites of raw vegetable. As an Oregonian, I'm proud to share these delectable snacks with friends, especially those living outside our state and who haven't experienced gourmet chips. I tell them Kettle Brand does for potato chips what microbrews did for beer. Kettle Brand potato chips are unmistakable--a light gold color, rich flavor and amazing crunch. Kettle Brand chips are also a healthier snacking option than the major chip brands. Kettle Brand chips don't have trans fats, MSG or artificial flavors and colorings. The company also has a line of organic potato chips and all of their products are certified Kosher. I also recommend http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/B000G6MBV4 Kettle Chips Honey Dijon and http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/B000G6Q4GM Kettle Chips Spicy Thai. Annette Solomon, a reporter for the Salem Statesman Journal recently noted that a glass of wine goes nicely with these chips. Solomon wrote, "...you could be missing out on a wonderful pairing. These chips are spicy, so you would want to select a semi-sweet white wine. Also, a moderate amount of acid will subdue the strong flavors of ginger, lime, garlic and cilantro without over-powering them. Classically, a German-style Riesling fits these parameters perfectly." | I'm addicted to salty and tangy flavors, so when I opened my first bag of Sea Salt & Vinegar Kettle Brand chips I knew I had a perfect complement to my vegetable trays of cucumber, carrot, celery and cherry tomatoes. Skip the dip; balance the tangy chips by alternating bites of raw vegetable. As an Oregonian, I'm proud to share these delectable snacks with friends, especially those living outside our state and who haven't experienced gourmet chips. Solomon wrote, "...you could be missing out on a wonderful pairing. Classically, a German-style Riesling fits these parameters perfectly." |
| 577 | I've found a new taste treat. I'm not a big one for potato chips, so I am sure I've come late to discover these. I think they are really good. The processing & ingredients list is actually pretty good-no trans fats, etc. So, if you want an indulgence, these are A+ ! They are thicker & more tasty than the mass produced potato chips we've all come to know. They are much more flavorful. Never had a honey-dijon potato chip before. Incredibly good & a flavorful combination of sweet, tangy, salty. Also not overly hot or spicy. Excellent! If you want a snack, have something REALLY good. It's got to be worth the calories-and these are! | I've found a new taste treat. The processing & ingredients list is actually pretty good-no trans fats, etc. So, if you want an indulgence, these are A+ ! Also not overly hot or spicy. |
| 585 | When I saw the Spicy Thai chips, I knew i had to try them. I love spicy and I love Thai food, so why not? First off, these chips are not super spicy. They actually taste sort of sweet at first, with many degrees of flavor. The spiciness is more of a lingering taste that bites afterwards. I'd say these are definitely a good, unique chip. But if you absolutely hate sweet chips, I'd try a different flavor since these are a little sweet. | When I saw the Spicy Thai chips, I knew i had to try them. The spiciness is more of a lingering taste that bites afterwards. But if you absolutely hate sweet chips, I'd try a different flavor since these are a little sweet. |
| 586 | Smiles... Thank you Lord, for I have found another healthy snack food that is unsalted, and tastes great. I almost gave up on finding a potato chip like this. The only thing i would ask Kettle to change is the texture. It's slightly hard/crunchy, but not a problem at all. I would just prefer it to be softer. Kettle if you do make that happen, please keep everything else the same. Thank you. | Smiles... I almost gave up on finding a potato chip like this. It's slightly hard/crunchy, but not a problem at all. |
| 587 | These are my favorite, but they aren't for everybody. In a way, they sort of taste like Oriental flavor ramen, but with a kick. For me, how can one go wrong with the combination of jalapeno and ginger? They are a bit rich, so they aren't for EveryDayForAMonth snacking. Because this is a case purchase, I recommend trying out a single bag before buying an entire case. The 2oz size seems to be no longer available, which is a shame; I can eat the entire 5oz bag. | They are a bit rich, so they aren't for EveryDayForAMonth snacking. In a way, they sort of taste like Oriental flavor ramen, but with a kick. Because this is a case purchase, I recommend trying out a single bag before buying an entire case. |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 591 | My son bought a package of the Jalapeno Potato Chips a couple weeks ago, and he and I have become addicted. First, Kettle chips appear to be somewhat better in terms of fats etc. than many other chips, as one peruses the dietary information. Second, individual chips are nice and crisp and have a good crunch value as you munch away at them. Third, the jalapeno has some kick (not overly hot, of course). Too many products labelled as spicy are not, have no kick, and are as bland as can be. Here, you do get a slow noticeable burn from the jalapeno. My preference? A bit more heat. But I understand that most consumers would prefer somewhat less than I would. Still, decent spicyness. All in all, I have been pretty happy with this product, in the few weeks since we first bought it. I now purchase a package each week in my foray to the local grocery store. . . . | My son bought a package of the Jalapeno Potato Chips a couple weeks ago, and he and I have become addicted. First, Kettle chips appear to be somewhat better in terms of fats etc. Too many products labelled as spicy are not, have no kick, and are as bland as can be. My preference? |
| 592 | After looking at the pictures someone put on here showing a crushed box, I had to write a review. I have bought these chips numerous times from Amazon Warehouse Deals and each time they came packaged perfectly. There was a sale at the end of the summer and I received a few cases/boxes for just over $10.00. The chips were fresh and very hard to eat just one bag. I hid them in the garage and only remembered them when I went out there; that way I didn't eat them all. As far as the pictures, if the person contacted Amazon, he made out ok. Amazon is great with handling complaints and this person was given perfect customer service if he called Amazon. Thanks for a great tasting product, good price and quick shipping. I'll buy these again...soon. | After looking at the pictures someone put on here showing a crushed box, I had to write a review. I hid them in the garage and only remembered them when I went out there; that way I didn't eat them all. Thanks for a great tasting product, good price and quick shipping. |
| 593 | There is nothing too good or too bad about these chips. If you like plain potato chips, you'd like these. They are thicker than most brands, fresh out of box, very crunchy and not too salty (for me). One bag has a lot, I generally cannot finish it by myself. Part of the reason is that they are too oily (some chips almost look transparent, if you know what I mean). The taste of oil is a bit too overwhelming for me. If you are used to more spicy chips you may not like these since they do not have any spice, except salt, as the name says. I don't think I'll buy these again. The "best by" date on my bags are March 2011 and I ordered them at the end of October. | Part of the reason is that they are too oily (some chips almost look transparent, if you know what I mean). One bag has a lot, I generally cannot finish it by myself. I don't think I'll buy these again. |
| 594 | I love this sea salt & vinegar flavor from Kettle. When I saw this one on the daily deal here for $17.99/case, I put my order without doubt. However, when I received the case, I found out that the whole case is expiring in December while I got it at the end of August. I tried one package and I can definitely taste the unfreshness in the chips. I was disappointed and then I found out this item is not returnable! How convenient! Although I love this chips, I won't order from here again with the concern of close expiration date... | I love this sea salt & vinegar flavor from Kettle. I was disappointed and then I found out this item is not returnable! When I saw this one on the daily deal here for $17.99/case, I put my order without doubt. |
| 595 | This is the second purchase of Kettle Potato Chips and we love them just as much as the first time we tried them. We bought them by the a carton of 24 bags. The Kettle chips were in a 2oz bag which is just enough for a single size serving snack or with a meal. The chips are so delicious, baked not fried and lightly salted with Sea Salt. They have 0 fat, no preservatives, nothing artificial and they only use real food ingredients. What more could you ask for in a great tasting chip! | The Kettle chips were in a 2oz bag which is just enough for a single size serving snack or with a meal. The chips are so delicious, baked not fried and lightly salted with Sea Salt. They have 0 fat, no preservatives, nothing artificial and they only use real food ingredients. |
| 598 | But you will enjoy ever step. I gained 5 lbs within a month of buying this 12 pack of full sized bags. Damn it! They should warn you about this! Tastes awesome though. When I finish my crash diet I will order another box (case?). :-) | Damn it! I gained 5 lbs within a month of buying this 12 pack of full sized bags. They should warn you about this! |

| | | |
|-----|--|---|
| 599 | These are the best spicy chips I have ever had the pleasure of eating. They start off sweet, then as you eat more the spice builds up. They are fantastic. If you don't want to commit to a whole case, pick up a bag at your local Whole Foods first, then stock up here when you realize how amazing they are. Got my case right here, and loving every bite. On a side note, this brand (Kettle Brand) has many delicious varieties- this is just my personal favorite. I also highly recommend: Backyard BBQ, Honey Dijon, Sweet Onion, Buffalo Bleu, Salt and Pepper and Death Valley Chipotle. Lays aint got nothin on Kettle Brand!!! | They are fantastic. They start off sweet, then as you eat more the spice builds up. I also highly recommend: Backyard BBQ, Honey Dijon, Sweet Onion, Buffalo Bleu, Salt and Pepper and Death Valley Chipotle. |
| 600 | I've eaten other brands of unsalted potato chips and they've always been terrible. I didn't expect much when I bought these. But after I tasted them I was amazed. I have never enjoyed unsalted potato chips before these. They have a natural potato flavor with thick, crunchy chips. The only bad thing is the bag is a pain to open. Use scissors and save yourself the aggravation. | I have never enjoyed unsalted potato chips before these. I didn't expect much when I bought these. Use scissors and save yourself the aggravation. |
| 601 | Kettle brand chips are probably the best potato chips I've tasted thus far. They are thick, has a bite to them and I love their creative flavors. My favorite Kettle chip happens to be the honey Dijon. I think it's a great combination sweet, salty and tangy, perfect for one of those snack attacks when you don't know exactly what you want. I especially love the curled up chips for extra texture and crunch. These 2-oz bags are perfect for anyone who has a problem controlling portions (like me!). | Kettle brand chips are probably the best potato chips I've tasted thus far. They are thick, has a bite to them and I love their creative flavors. My favorite Kettle chip happens to be the honey Dijon. |
| 602 | As an Oregonian, I make a point of sharing these Oregon-made snacks with friends who visit the state. I tell them the Kettle Brand does for potato chips what microbrew does for beer. Kettle Brand potato chips are unmistakable--a light gold color, rich flavor and amazing crunch. Kettle Brand chips are also a healthier snacking option than the major chip brands. Kettle Brand chips don't have trans fats, MSG or artificial flavors and colorings. The company also has a line of organic potato chips and all of their products are certified Kosher. Annette Solomon, a reporter for the Salem Statesman Journal noted that a glass of wine goes nicely with Spicy Thai chips. Solomon wrote, "...you could be missing out on a wonderful pairing. These chips are spicy, so you would want to select a semi-sweet white wine. Also, a moderate amount of acid will subdue the strong flavors of ginger, lime, garlic and cilantro without over-powering them. Classically, a German-style Riesling fits these parameters perfectly." I also recommend Kettle Chips Honey Dijon and Kettle Chips Sea Salt & Vinegar. The Honey Dijon chips bring a terrific balance of salty, tangy, sweet and crunchy. Other brands I've tried use too much mustard flavor, which overpowers the Honey Dijon pairing. The Honey Dijon chips make a great side dish on a BBQ plate with baked beans, coleslaw or potato salad and grilled meat. Naturally, they also go down great with beer. The Sea Salt & Vinegar chips are a perfect complement to vegetable trays of cucumber, carrot, celery and cherry tomatoes. Skip the dip; balance the tangy chips by alternating bites of raw vegetable. In summary, I highly recommend Kettle Brand chips, a great buy on Amazon.com. | As an Oregonian, I make a point of sharing these Oregon-made snacks with friends who visit the state. Skip the dip; balance the tangy chips by alternating bites of raw vegetable. In summary, I highly recommend Kettle Brand chips, a great buy on Amazon.com. Classically, a German-style Riesling fits these parameters perfectly. Naturally, they also go down great with beer. The Sea Salt & Vinegar chips are a perfect complement to vegetable trays of cucumber, carrot, celery and cherry tomatoes. |

| | | |
|-----|---|---|
| 603 | I'm addicted to salty and tangy flavors, so when I opened my first bag of Sea Salt & Vinegar Kettle Brand chips I knew I had a perfect complement to my vegetable trays of cucumber, carrot, celery and cherry tomatoes. Skip the dip; balance the tangy chips by alternating bites of raw vegetable. As an Oregonian, I'm proud to share these delectable snacks with friends, especially those living outside our state and who haven't experienced gourmet chips. I tell them Kettle Brand does for potato chips what microbrews did for beer. Kettle Brand potato chips are unmistakable--a light gold color, rich flavor and amazing crunch. Kettle Brand chips are also a healthier snacking option than the major chip brands. Kettle Brand chips don't have trans fats, MSG or artificial flavors and colorings. The company also has a line of organic potato chips and all of their products are certified Kosher. I also recommend http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/B000G6MBV4 Kettle Chips Honey Dijon and http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/B000G6Q4GM Kettle Chips Spicy Thai. Annette Solomon, a reporter for the Salem Statesman Journal recently noted that a glass of wine goes nicely with these chips. Solomon wrote, "...you could be missing out on a wonderful pairing. These chips are spicy, so you would want to select a semi-sweet white wine. Also, a moderate amount of acid will subdue the strong flavors of ginger, lime, garlic and cilantro without over-powering them. Classically, a German-style Riesling fits these parameters perfectly." | I'm addicted to salty and tangy flavors, so when I opened my first bag of Sea Salt & Vinegar Kettle Brand chips I knew I had a perfect complement to my vegetable trays of cucumber, carrot, celery and cherry tomatoes. Skip the dip; balance the tangy chips by alternating bites of raw vegetable. As an Oregonian, I'm proud to share these delectable snacks with friends, especially those living outside our state and who haven't experienced gourmet chips. Solomon wrote, "...you could be missing out on a wonderful pairing. Classically, a German-style Riesling fits these parameters perfectly." |
| 605 | I've always liked Salt and Vinegar chips but most of the time the stronger flavor was at the bottom of the bag. Not with these, the vinegar is overflowing right from the first chip and doesn't stop until you've finished the bag. These are very addictive. If you like salt and vinegar, these are the ultimate chips. Nothing else compares. | I've always liked Salt and Vinegar chips but most of the time the stronger flavor was at the bottom of the bag. These are very addictive. Nothing else compares. |
| 607 | These are seriously delicious, especially if you like plain potato chips. My only concern is they're very oily. I understand they're "kettle chips" and they're "fried" (small batches and all) but when you open the bag (That's another thing, very strong bag! Need scissors!) there's a coating of oil on the inside of the bag and on the chips themselves. I suggest a blot/shake on some paper towels before consuming. Either way, they have a yummy potato taste, and very satisfying crunch. Delicious! | I understand they're "kettle chips" and they're "fried" (small batches and all) but when you open the bag (That's another thing, very strong bag! Need scissors!) there's a coating of oil on the inside of the bag and on the chips themselves. |
| 609 | Kettle Foods, Inc. makes the best tasting potato chips I've ever eaten. With a variety of flavors, from classic Barbeque to their unique Spicy Thai you'll find the right flavor for your mouth. And not only do they taste wonderful, but these all-natural chips are cooked in safflower or sunflower oil for zero cholesterol. But why is it a GoGreenMart&More product of the week? Kettle Foods, Inc. is a "Green Giant", a company highlighted for their environmental practices. They convert waste oils to biodiesel to power some of their company cars. A roof-top solar panel system creates 120,000kWh annually for production and they offset 100% of their additional U.S. energy usage by buying renewable energy credits. Not only are their efforts for the future but they care for the present by rejuvenate a neighboring 2 acre wetland eco-system. And during recent building construction, they earned a Gold rating from Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED). Now your mouth will thank you and so will the environment. | Kettle Foods, Inc. makes the best tasting potato chips I've ever eaten. Kettle Foods, Inc. is a "Green Giant", a company highlighted for their environmental practices. Not only are their efforts for the future but they care for the present by rejuvenate a neighboring 2 acre wetland eco-system. |
| 611 | These chips are delectably delicious. I am on a low sodium diet. I didn't have to give up totally something that I truly love to snack. These chips are bursting with flavor, and you can't really tell they are missing all that salt. There is just a kiss worth on a chip, but believe me, it is a total knockout!!! | These chips are delectably delicious. I am on a low sodium diet. I didn't have to give up totally something that I truly love to snack. |

| | | |
|-----|---|---|
| 615 | These are my new favorite! I have always been a fan of salt and vinegar but these honey dijons have replaced them as my new number one! They do have a strong taste so loving the honey mustard flavor is a must if you hope to like these. Price wise...I do not see that they are that much of a deal here. I purchased them for $2.99 at the grocery with no shipping. I would have given the product 5 stars (easily) had it not been for the price. The taste is fabulous -- you won't be disappointed. | These are my new favorite! I have always been a fan of salt and vinegar but these honey dijons have replaced them as my new number one! I purchased them for $2.99 at the grocery with no shipping. |
| 619 | At first I was thinking, "cheese flavored chips?" But I love them. The herbs they used are just delicious. The cheese is not overpowering. They are yummy and crispy!! | But I love them. At first I was thinking, "cheese flavored chips?" The herbs they used are just delicious. |
| 620 | The Spicy Thai chips used to be the best tasting chips on the market. However, Kettle Foods has changed the ingredients used, with ginger being the most important that is now missing. Notice that they removed "ginger with attitude" from the bag. Sadly, the changing of the ingredients has ruined the chips for me. They aren't that good anymore and the spice level is virtually non-existent. Here are the original and new ingredient listings: Original Ingredients Select Potatoes, Safflower and/or Sunflower Oil, Honey Powder (Evaporated Cane Syrup, Honey)Salt, Garlic Powder, Jalapeno Pepper, Ground ginger, Onion Powder, Habanero Pepper, Dried Parsley, Citric Acid, Cilantro Extract, Ginger Oil, Cayenne Pepper, White Pepper, Lime Oil. New Ingredients Potatoes, safflower and/or sunflower oil, sugar, dried cane syrup, salt, maltodextrin, yeast extract, spices, garlic powder, onion powder, dried parsley, jalapeno powder, citric acid, natural flavors, lime extract I'm assuming they changed the ingredients in order to cut costs for their new owner, Blue Diamond. They might want to get rid of "Great Taste Naturally" from their bags as I don't consider maltodextrin to be very natural. Great job Kettle! Way to ruin a great thing! | However, Kettle Foods has changed the ingredients used, with ginger being the most important that is now missing. They aren't that good anymore and the spice level is virtually non-existent. Here are the original and new ingredient listings: Original Ingredients Select Potatoes, Safflower and/or Sunflower Oil, Honey Powder (Evaporated Cane Syrup, Honey)Salt, Garlic Powder, Jalapeno Pepper, Ground ginger, Onion Powder, Habanero Pepper, Dried Parsley, Citric Acid, Cilantro Extract, Ginger Oil, Cayenne Pepper, White Pepper, Lime Oil. New Ingredients Potatoes, safflower and/or sunflower oil, sugar, dried cane syrup, salt, maltodextrin, yeast extract, spices, garlic powder, onion powder, dried parsley, jalapeno powder, citric acid, natural flavors, lime extract I'm assuming they changed the ingredients in order to cut costs for their new owner, Blue Diamond. Way to ruin a great thing! |
| 624 | I got the sea salt and vinegar chips from Kettle. I am used to the Salt and Vinegar chips in the white bag if I am allowed to say that. Anyways, my first impression for this is wow at all the chips you get for the price. I got the 9 Oz x 12 bags and wow it is so many for the price. You can tell they are high quality chips just from the packaging, also. Well being used to the cheaper chips I wasn't expecting how mellow these things are. The ones I am used to have a really sour taste to them which I didn't mind but they had tons of flavor. These chips don't have any sour to them at all, and taste just like them but a lot less strong aftertaste. If you want to try out Salt and Vinegar chips I suggest you try these out first. So, for the price and how many you get, these chips are definately worth it. They are thick and crunchy like the more expensive chips you get at high quality restaurants. I recommend these, 4 stars. | I got the sea salt and vinegar chips from Kettle. Anyways, my first impression for this is wow at all the chips you get for the price. You can tell they are high quality chips just from the packaging, also. I recommend these, 4 stars. |
| 630 | The chips come in a large box with individually wrapped bags of chips. The bags are very strong - much thicker than, say, Lay's potato chip bags. Inside are very tasty kettle cooked chips, salted just right. Because these appear to be cooked in an actual kettle fashion, some are cooked more than others, which gives it a more authentic, non-manufactured feel. Some people may not like that. I reccomend them! | The chips come in a large box with individually wrapped bags of chips. Inside are very tasty kettle cooked chips, salted just right. Because these appear to be cooked in an actual kettle fashion, some are cooked more than others, which gives it a more authentic, non-manufactured feel. |

| | | |
|-----|--|---|
| 632 | Yes, they are good. However, they are absolutely inundated with the flavoring stuff, which is initially satisfying then becomes "too much". And certainly isn't good for the waistline or general nutritional issues. AND the package can't be opened without a sharp implement. I couldn't pull it apart at the top as I am used to doing. I don't normally carry a knife or scissors and don't have rodent teeth. Well, I was hungry and was able to rip the bag using my car key. Even then, the bag was wow thick and tough. On the package it says these are "Krinkle Cut" chips. Turns out that means the corrugated kind, not what I wanted. I don't eat ripple/ridged style chips any more because they take the skin off the roof of my mouth. So this information is important. These are good but so are other brands with which I don't have these problems. | Yes, they are good. However, they are absolutely inundated with the flavoring stuff, which is initially satisfying then becomes "too much". I don't normally carry a knife or scissors and don't have rodent teeth. Well, I was hungry and was able to rip the bag using my car key. |
| 633 | This may sound ridiculous, but I actually ordered the wrong brand of potato chips when I ordered these Kettle-brand jalapeno chips. At the time I placed my order, I couldn't remember the name of the jalapeno chips that I had recently discovered and liked, and the Kettle-brand chips were packaged in a similarly-colored bag. But, it all worked out for the best because I do really like the Kettle-brand of jalapeno chips, and will happily munch away on them during upcoming TV football games. When I run out (probably sometime next year!), I will likey purchase Miss Vicky brand of jalapeno chips, and I plan to try the other flavors of Kettle-brand chips. Imho, Kettle-brand chips are excellent and I recommend them to all potato chip 'affection-adors'. Sincerely, § homiedog § | At the time I placed my order, I couldn't remember the name of the jalapeno chips that I had recently discovered and liked, and the Kettle-brand chips were packaged in a similarly-colored bag. When I run out (probably sometime next year! Imho, Kettle-brand chips are excellent and I recommend them to all potato chip 'affection-adors'. Sincerely, § homiedog § |
| 635 | I want to like Kettle because they contain no corn oil or soybean oil (which are both GMO, and also my kids are allergic to corn and soy), but darnit, these things bite back! On the plus side, the sharpness of them may keep you from mindlessly enjoying too many. On the minus side, a mouthful of cuts and scratches is not worth it. Do they have to be SO hard and crunchy? What's wrong with simply light and crispy? I vastly prefer Lay's texture, but suffer with Kettle due to the absense of GMOs and corn/soy. I wish they'd come out with something less harsh on the mouth, though. | I vastly prefer Lay's texture, but suffer with Kettle due to the absense of GMOs and corn/soy. Do they have to be SO hard and crunchy? On the plus side, the sharpness of them may keep you from mindlessly enjoying too many. |
| 643 | After a lifetime of tea drinking, I can honestly say that this is the best Earl Grey I have ever tasted. I have ordered it a number of times, and each batch is consistently excellent. I have even given it as a gift, as its container is superb for keeping loose tea fresh. The metal canister has an inner lid that is lifted with its own attached knob, so the tea stays dry and fresh for the length of time it takes to use it up. Do yourself a favor, if you like Earl Grey, and treat yourself to this tea. | I have even given it as a gift, as its container is superb for keeping loose tea fresh. The metal canister has an inner lid that is lifted with its own attached knob, so the tea stays dry and fresh for the length of time it takes to use it up. Do yourself a favor, if you like Earl Grey, and treat yourself to this tea. |
| 644 | These biscuits are delicious, not too sweet, with just enough crunch. We love them. Quick delivery. We would order them again. Very satisfied. | These biscuits are delicious, not too sweet, with just enough crunch. We love them. |
| 646 | My male Maltese dog had been enjoying the Old Roy's Puppy Biscuits from Walmart. Then I couldn't find them. I was desperate to find a treat that would measure up. I ordered six bags of the peanut butter and crossed my fingers. They arrived, and my little guy loves them. He gets one heart-shaped biscuit at bedtime. He sleeps in a crate. When he hears me touch the bag of treats, he beats a path to his crate in high excitement. They are a BIG hit with my him. They are well worth the price. They are high quality and I can even smell peanuts in them. | Then I couldn't find them. I ordered six bags of the peanut butter and crossed my fingers. They arrived, and my little guy loves them. He sleeps in a crate. I was desperate to find a treat that would measure up. |

| | | |
|-----|---|---|
| 649 | So I got this and tasted it strait out of the bottle, it tasted like smoky flavored milk - YUCK! I was depressed I was stuck with 4 bottles of this. It sat on my shelf and I forgot about it. Last weekend I tasted a Zevia cream soda and was not pleased with the flavor, it tasted weird and smokey like the LorAnn oil I had gotten. I tried to doctor up the soda with a little SF Vanilla Torani syrup and a tablespoon of heavy cream - IT TASTED AMAZING!!! The odd smokiness was gone and it had a wonderful rich mouthfeel. So I wanted to see if this would help the LorAnn oil too. I put a cup of whipping cream in a bowl and added a teaspoon of vanilla and tasted it, it tasted fine. Then I added ONE DROP of the oil, it is very strong, and stirred it in - IT TASTED SO MUCH BETTER! I whipped it up and put it on fruit and it was such a treat. Now I will always whip a drop of it with vanilla into desserts and whip cream. It was such a happy accident to find out how to use it. When added to vanilla it really adds a new depth of flavor and tastes so different than just out of the bottle or on its own in cream. It is VERY potent so only use a drop and increase after tasting, if you add too much it will ruin the recipe so use a light touch. | I was depressed I was stuck with 4 bottles of this. Last weekend I tasted a Zevia cream soda and was not pleased with the flavor, it tasted weird and smokey like the LorAnn oil I had gotten. I tried to doctor up the soda with a little SF Vanilla Torani syrup and a tablespoon of heavy cream - IT TASTED AMAZING!!! The odd smokiness was gone and it had a wonderful rich mouthfeel. So I wanted to see if this would help the LorAnn oil too. |
| 651 | I'm from Detroit, and I was raised on Vernor's ginger ale. Once I moved to California, though, I found it difficult to find Vernor's. It would pop up here and there, and then disappear. I guess without advertising, it just never found a home. I prefer the plastic bottles, but the ideal size is the 16.9 oz (500 ml) or the one liter. The problem with the two liter size is that it takes one person (me) too long to drink it, letting it go flat. In any case, Vernor's is unique in that it is aged in oak for three years, I think. That imparts a great, unique flavor. I wish it would catch on again, and become available more widely. (Recently I did see it on sale in Redwood City in California's Bay Area, south of San Francisco. The next day, it was gone! | Once I moved to California, though, I found it difficult to find Vernor's. I guess without advertising, it just never found a home. I prefer the plastic bottles, but the ideal size is the 16.9 oz (500 ml) or the one liter. The next day, it was gone! |
| 652 | I like "Vernor's", and drink it all the time. It is old fashioned drink from Michigan, since 1866, and the labeling was known for its lovely green and gold colors and the gnome character. If you look at the can it is actually called ginger soda instead of ale and is different than typical ginger ale in taste. Vernors has a strong vanilla presence, is smoother and more moist, and sweeter than a ginger ale. It is closer to a cream soda than ginger ale, very good. A ginger ale is more dry, higher in carbonation, and has a spicier bite to it. Vernors has 39 grams sugar per can, versus 33 grams per can for Schweppes Ginger Ale. Neither has caffeine. The recipe has changed a bit over the years mostly in the choice of sweeteners. They use the same high fructose corn syrup that the cost-cutting mega soda companies use, rather than the cane sugar they used to use. The down side to that is that the corn syrup syrup drowns out some of the flavors. Many microbrews are using cane sugar again, although it costs more, to get a better taste. Vernor's is still aged in oak barrels for 3 years, no doubt accounting for the smoothness. All in all a great soda for anytime. The soda is also known, like other ginger drinks, for its use as a home remedy for an upset stomach. Vernor's is a regional soda, and there are many areas of the country you can't find it in. That is why it sells here. They may be selling it in glass bottles again soon, at least there is a page that says so the day I am writing this comment. Search at Amazon for ASIN: B001JK2SEG to see what I mean. Vernors has quite a history, and there are two books at Amazon about the soda. The first is Vernor's Ginger Ale (Images of America: Michigan) ISBN-10: 0738551856. The second book is "The Vernor's Story: From Gnomes to Now" ISBN-10: 0472066978 a book about the company's marketing green and gold packaging with the famous gnome, and Vernor's fans. | Vernors has a strong vanilla presence, is smoother and more moist, and sweeter than a ginger ale. Vernors has 39 grams sugar per can, versus 33 grams per can for Schweppes Ginger Ale. If you look at the can it is actually called ginger soda instead of ale and is different than typical ginger ale in taste. The soda is also known, like other ginger drinks, for its use as a home remedy for an upset stomach. Vernor's is a regional soda, and there are many areas of the country you can't find it in. Neither has caffeine. The recipe has changed a bit over the years mostly in the choice of sweeteners. |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 653 | If you want to find a good flavor substitute for maple syrup, barley malt, or brown rice syrup, this will do nicely. I use Madhava's agave nectar in my baked goods all the time, and am always pleased with the results. At the time I'm writing this, Amazon was out of stock as a vendor. However, when it was in stock, it was priced well for the 2-pack. Other than baking, I've used it to top waffles, pancakes, and in small doses (1/2 teaspoon) added it to oatmeal. A little goes a long way. Using agave nectar: Use 1/3 to 1/2 less agave nectar than you would another sweetener (depending on your taste and the recipe. Recipes with dried fruit need much less), cut the heat in the oven by 25 degrees F; if there is oil in the recipe, cut it by 1/3 (alternately, use a tablespoon or two of sifted coconut flour to absorb more of the liquid -- just don't use too much or your recipe will be dry). Additionally, when baking, make sure to mix it with the wet ingredients prior to adding it to the dry. Most bakers might already know this, but remember to read recipes first because sugar is typically added with dry ingredients (unless beaten with butter first). Agave nectar does not crystalize like other sugars do, so you won't be able to substitute it for corn syrup in making hard candy. However, I highly recommend it for baking. It makes everything moister. If you are looking for less caramel flavor, you'll need to use the light version of this product (equally good in all applications). | A little goes a long way. Using agave nectar: Use 1/3 to 1/2 less agave nectar than you would another sweetener (depending on your taste and the recipe. At the time I'm writing this, Amazon was out of stock as a vendor. Most bakers might already know this, but remember to read recipes first because sugar is typically added with dry ingredients (unless beaten with butter first). Agave nectar does not crystalize like other sugars do, so you won't be able to substitute it for corn syrup in making hard candy. However, I highly recommend it for baking. |
| 659 | I used to buy the Wholesome Sweeteners agave and like it a little better, but switched because it became too expensive. So this is the cheaper option. The taste is the same, but it seems a little less sweet because I find I have to use more of it to get the right sweetness in my coffee. I don't like the container. It doesn't pour well, so I have to pour it into a better squeeze bottle, so that I don't have a sticky mess on my counter every day. It's fine for the price. I continue to have it shipped to me every other month. | So this is the cheaper option. The taste is the same, but it seems a little less sweet because I find I have to use more of it to get the right sweetness in my coffee. It doesn't pour well, so I have to pour it into a better squeeze bottle, so that I don't have a sticky mess on my counter every day. |
| 663 | We have been using 17-Day Diet guided by Low-Glycemic eating for about 6-7 months, with fair success. This amber agave nectar has become our primary sweetener because of the low glycemic effect on blood sugar. The taste is mellow, and the sweetening power is higher than sugar [so you use less], but without the "twang" of honey. the one thing I have not tried it on (still using sugar) is making kombucha - I still use sugar, as I'm not sure it would be a good idea to introduce a raw element into kombucha. But actually, that may just be my own over-caution and nothing related to actual chemistry or circumstance. Our primary uses are sweetening yogurt, using it in the little baking I do, and use in salad dressings, fruit desserts, etc. Because we are limiting our sweets consumption, we don't use a lot of this, but it's nice to have when we need it. I plan to try using it in some homemade jams later this season. I buy it on subscription, and the cost is about 33% less than the local WalMart and more than 50% less than the health food store on this same brand. "Best by" date on the bottles I received in May is 2015. | We have been using 17-Day Diet guided by Low-Glycemic eating for about 6-7 months, with fair success. the one thing I have not tried it on (still using sugar) is making kombucha - I still use sugar, as I'm not sure it would be a good idea to introduce a raw element into kombucha. "Best by" date on the bottles I received in May is 2015. |
| 664 | I am so glad I was introduced the this brand of sweetner to replace sugar, this is so much better. I really like how it sweetens my herbal sweet teas without having to use too much, and how it can be used in place of pancake syrup too. Learning how to use it what the first thing I had to learn, once I learned how to use it, I became hooked. I would not even look at sugar any more. I highly recommend if you want a clean fresh taste and feel to your foods. If you do purchase this sweetner, take advantage of ship and save, it will save you lots of money in the long run. | I am so glad I was introduced the this brand of sweetner to replace sugar, this is so much better. Learning how to use it what the first thing I had to learn, once I learned how to use it, I became hooked. I highly recommend if you want a clean fresh taste and feel to your foods. If you do purchase this sweetner, take advantage of ship and save, it will save you lots of money in the long run. |

| | | |
|-----|---|---|
| 671 | I am on a low glycemic index diet to help control my blood sugar and hormone levels. My nutritionist recommended agave nectar as a sweetener since it's GI index is in the low 30's as opposed to honey in the low 50's and sugar in the mid-50's. I've tried supermarkets, health food stores and wholesale clubs. The prices are usually around $13 for a 32oz bottle and this is $19ish for 2x46oz. It's used like honey - substitute 2/3c for every 1c sugar and reduce liquids by 1/4th. I also use it in a carrot cake recipe (equal substitution) instead of sugar where I substitute whole wheat flour instead of white flour and I don't decrease the other liquids. It's delicious and you'd never know that's it's actually good for you. | It's used like honey - substitute 2/3c for every 1c sugar and reduce liquids by 1/4th. I also use it in a carrot cake recipe (equal substitution) instead of sugar where I substitute whole wheat flour instead of white flour and I don't decrease the other liquids. I've tried supermarkets, health food stores and wholesale clubs. The prices are usually around $13 for a 32oz bottle and this is $19ish for 2x46oz. |
| 675 | These are the best tasting tortilla chips I have ever had! I have become allergic to tomatoes, but I love tortilla chips. There is so much flavor in these chips that I no longer miss pico de gallo. I prefer to eat them plain. They also have just the right amount of heat to make them flavorful, but not overpoweringly spicy. | These are the best tasting tortilla chips I have ever had! I prefer to eat them plain. There is so much flavor in these chips that I no longer miss pico de gallo. |
| 676 | These potato chips are DELICIOUS! I have not had potato chips in approximately two years as it has been difficult to find organic chips. Amazon lowered the price on these, and I finally had a chance to order them. I most definitely will be ordering them again! My family and I love them. They are pure and void of all artificial flavorings. The true flavor is present, and it satisfies the need for something salty, sweet, spicy, and crunchy. A++++ | These potato chips are DELICIOUS! I have not had potato chips in approximately two years as it has been difficult to find organic chips. My family and I love them. |
| 678 | I love these chips. The flavor is not plain. They are sweet and spicy all at the same time. The only drawback is it has a tad bit too much salt. But, it still a great flavor! | I love these chips. They are sweet and spicy all at the same time. The only drawback is it has a tad bit too much salt. |
| 679 | thesedon't like hot food they might be a bit much for you. They have a great balance of sweetness and spice. Of course, Kettle Chips are just good chips - they use good oil to make them and even the plain ones are tasty. I also like that they are ridged chips - those are usually too crunchy and hard to chew for me - I don't want to have to work that hard for my deliciousness. If you like spicy barbecue you will definitely like these chips. | They have a great balance of sweetness and spice. thesedon't like hot food they might be a bit much for you. Of course, Kettle Chips are just good chips - they use good oil to make them and even the plain ones are tasty. |
| 684 | These are the best chips I have ever eaten. Everyone in our family loves them. Sweet but spicy- crispy....really good. Delivery was perfect, no crushed chips. Fantastic overall. | These are the best chips I have ever eaten. Sweet but spicy- crispy....really good. |
| 686 | I ordered these this week from my organic foods delivery service. OH MY WORD! Spicy (but not burning spicy, more like tongue-warming), sweetish, salty...a really strongly-flavored and delicious chip. If you like barbecue flavor, this is a nice sweet-Mexi-fied barecue. I also like that it's organic. I ate the 5 oz bag in less than 15 minutes. My bad. But dang, if they're not sinfully delicious. Granted, 5oz is not a whole lot (it was skimpy for the price, which is often the case when it comes to organic), but it was 750 calories at a pop. Geesh. Yes, 150 cals per 1 oz serving. That's about par for the course for fried chips. Verdict: Fattening, crispy, flavorful, delicious. Best to stick to very small servings on the side of a low-fat sandwich or soup. Enjoy. Mir | OH MY WORD! If you like barbecue flavor, this is a nice sweet-Mexi-fied barecue. I also like that it's organic. I ate the 5 oz bag in less than 15 minutes. But dang, if they're not sinfully delicious. Granted, 5oz is not a whole lot (it was skimpy for the price, which is often the case when it comes to organic), but it was 750 calories at a pop. |

| | | |
|-----|---|--|
| 688 | I can't say enough good things about Plocky's chips!! I have purchased this flavor and the black bean flavor Plocky's Tortilla Chips, Black Beans 'N Rice, 7-Ounce Bags (Pack of 12) and I love them! They taste better than more well known brands and are very satisfying. I have never eaten a tortilla chip that didn't make me feel guilty afterwards. Not with Plocky's...I always eat less and feel satisfied. I actually prefer these eaten by themselves..no dips...and I keep a bag in my desk at work. I have even had them for lunch when there is no time to grab something. I bring them to work to share with friends and they love them too. I am a fan of Plocky's chips and will continue to purchase them on Amazon. | They taste better than more well known brands and are very satisfying. I have even had them for lunch when there is no time to grab something. I actually prefer these eaten by themselves..no dips...and I keep a bag in my desk at work. |
| 690 | I was so excited thinking they had my favorite discontinued Kettle flavor, but was disappointed when I opened the box and found this substitution. I am keeping them but would not have ordered 15 bags of this flavor. It is a very good bbq chip but I could get this flavor at the grocery store. Why oh why do my favorite food items always get discontinued??? The one star is for the substitution. The country bbq is a 4 start chip, but not the chip I longed for. | I am keeping them but would not have ordered 15 bags of this flavor. It is a very good bbq chip but I could get this flavor at the grocery store. The one star is for the substitution. |
| 692 | I bought these chips, and wanted to try if they were tasty. It sure is! Unique and different flavor and the right thickness. It remains crunchy, spicy and flavorful with a hint of tabasco and paprika sauce for heat. There are some rice granules embedded with the tortilla chips. However, some of the spices are lacking from this chip. But I liked this very much. I would recommend this to anyone who wants to try a red beans and rice tortilla chips. Go ahead-- you can put other ingredients as nachos except the cheese. Maybe some el pastor, shredded meat, tomatoes, etcetera. | It sure is! Go ahead-- you can put other ingredients as nachos except the cheese. Maybe some el pastor, shredded meat, tomatoes, etcetera. |
| 697 | The first time I ate these chips was in Aruba in 2007. I couldn't find them in our area (CT) so you can imagine my joy when I found them on Amazon. I love these and hope you continue to carry them. Your prices are terrific too. I pay $2.99 in Aruba and they run about $2.46 a bag when I buy the case of 12 through Amazon. Good job!!!! Only problem is, now everybody wants them here and they steal my bags when the case comes in, but that's ok...sharing is good. | I pay $2.99 in Aruba and they run about $2.46 a bag when I buy the case of 12 through Amazon. Good job!!!! Your prices are terrific too. |
| 700 | Plocky's Red Beans and Rice Tortilla Chips are really tasty. I shared a few bags with my daughter in Iraq. She said Ummm they are Good. They are good for you too. No artificial stuff. | Plocky's Red Beans and Rice Tortilla Chips are really tasty. She said Ummm they are Good. No artificial stuff. |
| 709 | We ordered these only because the Black Beans and Rice,which we really. really love, was out of stock. After about a week, we finally opened up a package and then kicked ourselves for not having tried them earlier. There is a little kick to them after you swallow them to let you know you have had a hint of hot pepper of some sort. We took them to a pot luck that night and came home with an empty bag. I used them, from another bag, as a garnish on a salad that I took to the pot luck and we came home with an empty salad bowl! We will definitely order these again.Plocky's Tortilla Chips, Red Beans 'N Rice, 7-Ounce Bags (Pack of 12) | We ordered these only because the Black Beans and Rice,which we really. We took them to a pot luck that night and came home with an empty bag. I used them, from another bag, as a garnish on a salad that I took to the pot luck and we came home with an empty salad bowl! We will definitely order these again.Plocky's Tortilla Chips, Red Beans 'N Rice, 7-Ounce Bags (Pack of 12) |
| 710 | I was first introduced to the Red Rice & Beans chips in my hometown of Bethlehem, PA. When I moved to North Carolina I was unable to find these chips in my local area. On my trips back home, I would buy a bunch of bags to bring back with me to NC. Then I discovered that I could order them on-line and life was great. These chips are my all time favorite and everyone that I serve them to loves them just the same. You just gotta try them ... you'll be hooked !!! Nancy Walsh | I was first introduced to the Red Rice & Beans chips in my hometown of Bethlehem, PA. When I moved to North Carolina I was unable to find these chips in my local area. These chips are my all time favorite and everyone that I serve them to loves them just the same. |

| | | |
|-----|---|--|
| 711 | Ok. If you don't want to get addicted, don't try Plocky's Red Beans and Rice Tortilla Chips! My husband and I started with one seemingly anodyne bag from a store. Now, we've just received our second case. It won't last long. Beware. | If you don't want to get addicted, don't try Plocky's Red Beans and Rice Tortilla Chips! Now, we've just received our second case. |
| 712 | My husband (who, being Mexican, is very picky about his tortilla chips) and I absolutely love these! The texture is light and crispy, rather than thick and crunchy. He actually usually prefers a very hearty, cruncy chip (Like El Ranchero), but the flavor of these is so fantastic that we're both thrilled with them. The bean, rice and corn base makes them incredibly flavorful, and they have a touch of onion and garlic in addition to that. We go through an embarrassing amount of them. I never, ever like plain chips, but these I can eat without anything else, although they're particularly amazing with a fresh salsa. I highly recommend these! | The bean, rice and corn base makes them incredibly flavorful, and they have a touch of onion and garlic in addition to that. I never, ever like plain chips, but these I can eat without anything else, although they're particularly amazing with a fresh salsa. I highly recommend these! |
| 713 | http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/B000GWLUGU >Plocky's Tortilla Chips, Red Beans 'N Rice, 7 Ounce Bag (Pack of 12) I first tasted these chips while visiting relatives in KY. They are not available where I live, so I ordered them from Amazon. WOW! My friends and family are all addicted to them. The spicy flavor grabs you at the first bite. Once a bag is open, it is gone! | http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/B000GWLUGU >Plocky's Tortilla Chips, Red Beans 'N Rice, 7 Ounce Bag (Pack of 12) I first tasted these chips while visiting relatives in KY. They are not available where I live, so I ordered them from Amazon. My friends and family are all addicted to them. |
| 715 | I guess there's no telling what will tickle the palate. I'm a huge Tabasco fan, and I love unconventional snacks. But these don't taste to me even remotely like the wonderful sauce they're made from; I didn't find them to have much of a kick at all. Practically bland, in fact. Even with my strong aversion to wasting food, I had to throw out or give away most of the case. Do yourself a favor and find a bag of these locally before taking a chance on 12. | But these don't taste to me even remotely like the wonderful sauce they're made from; I didn't find them to have much of a kick at all. Practically bland, in fact. I'm a huge Tabasco fan, and I love unconventional snacks. |
| 716 | "Yeast Extract" is listed as an ingredient. Sounds harmless, right? Specifically, these chips contain autolyzed yeast extract, which is, on a chemical level, monosodium glutamate. It's just derived from a different source, but it has all the same toxic properties. Kettle still advertises their products as containing "No MSG" while they acknowledge that their chips are not safe for people with MSG sensitivities. | Sounds harmless, right? Specifically, these chips contain autolyzed yeast extract, which is, on a chemical level, monosodium glutamate. It's just derived from a different source, but it has all the same toxic properties. |
| 718 | Plocky's chips are made of several whole grains and have a touch of sweetness. They are a little lower in fat and sodium than regular tortilla chips. The flavor out performs any tortilla chip I have ever eaten. They hold up great to salsas and dips. Nothing wimpy about them. I just wish the company made a bigger bag! Love them. Usually found in the organic foods section of the grocery, but seem to be difficult to obtain as the shelf is always empty. Order by the case. You'll be glad you did as they disappear fast. | Plocky's chips are made of several whole grains and have a touch of sweetness. Nothing wimpy about them. Usually found in the organic foods section of the grocery, but seem to be difficult to obtain as the shelf is always empty. |
| 719 | I love these chips and ordered them after I had some in Florida. My case of chips came without any packing inside. All bags in a box with no cushioning at all. Needless to say most of the chips were broken and I would not order them again. A great item but if they can't package to aid in minimal chip breakage then one is wasting their money. | I love these chips and ordered them after I had some in Florida. All bags in a box with no cushioning at all. My case of chips came without any packing inside. |
| 720 | I received this chips in a gift basket and absolutely loved them. I searched high and low, but was unable to find them until I saw them here. I immediately ordered a case. These chips are light, crispy, flavorful, and good for you. I love them with dip, in chili, or just plain. Once you try them, you'll be hooked! | I immediately ordered a case. I love them with dip, in chili, or just plain. I searched high and low, but was unable to find them until I saw them here. |
| 721 | These chips are truly amazing. They have it all. They're light, crisp, great tasting, nice texture, AND they're all natural... AND low in fat and sodium! Need I say more? I recently bought a bag of them at a regular grocery store, and couldn't believe my taste buds. That's why I excited why I saw them here on Amazon, and decided to buy a case! | These chips are truly amazing. Need I say more? They're light, crisp, great tasting, nice texture, AND they're all natural... AND low in fat and sodium! |

| | | |
|-----|--|---|
| 722 | These are the most fantastic chips I've ever had! I could eat the whole bag myself! They're made with lots of whole grain and beans, and make a complete protein, so I have no qualms about feeding them to my kids as snacks. They are great! The only problem I have with them: The bag is too small!!! We need a bigger bag!! :) | They're made with lots of whole grain and beans, and make a complete protein, so I have no qualms about feeding them to my kids as snacks. I could eat the whole bag myself! They are great! |
| 732 | Expiration date 1-13. Smashed and. stale. edible, not real enjoyable for the price I paid, One of the best pretzel's I had when i purchased them from Publix. They stopped carrying them, I must find another addiction. | Expiration date 1-13. stale. |
| 735 | I opened the can and immediately became concerned when I saw what looked like dried white crust, rather than fluffy frosting. The package recommended stirring before use, so I gave that a try and under the crust was an indescribable gelatinous goo. The best I can equate it to is a white version of the blue goop the mother serves for dinner in "Better of Dead" (no raisins in it though!). I tried to stir it together and the end result was gelatinous goo with white crusties in it. When lifting the knife to spread it long strings on goo trailed from my knife. I opted for making my own frosting instead - very easy! A little Sprectrum palm shortening, a lot of powdered sugar, a tiny splash of vanilla, a tiny bit of salt, and rice milk as needed for consistency, beat for 5 minutes, and I had the fluffy 'butter' cream frosting I thought I'd get from Cherrybrook. I wonder if our can was overheated in the store (whole foods) or something... I've read positive reviews of their frosting mix, so maybe I'll try that next time. | I opened the can and immediately became concerned when I saw what looked like dried white crust, rather than fluffy frosting.). I tried to stir it together and the end result was gelatinous goo with white crusties in it. The package recommended stirring before use, so I gave that a try and under the crust was an indescribable gelatinous goo. |
| 737 | I love Cherrybrook Kitchen and have tried almost all of their products. I was excited to try the Ready to Spread frosting, as I do not usually keep the needed ingredients on hand for their box frosting. I am not a picky eater, especially if the item contains sugar... but this was horrible! The consistency is absolutely nothing like regular canned frosting. It is not light and fluffy. It is very gooey. I cannot even imagine trying to spread it on a cake - it would rip it to pieces because it is so thick and gooey. I did not even try it on a cake, because the taste and texture were so off-putting. Seriously, do not waste your money! | I am not a picky eater, especially if the item contains sugar... but this was horrible! I did not even try it on a cake, because the taste and texture were so off-putting. Seriously, do not waste your money! |
| 738 | This product was such a disappointment! As all the other reviewers said, it's a gluey, sticky texture more akin to Elmer's Glue than to an edible food product. The flavor was sickening sweet. I actually thought that the frosting had spoiled. It was that bad! Save yourself the time and $$ (I paid $4.99) and make your own frosting or go with another brand. Cherrybrook cake and cookie mixes are so good. It's hard to believe they even sell this. | Save yourself the time and $$ (I paid $4.99) and make your own frosting or go with another brand. I actually thought that the frosting had spoiled. It was that bad! |
| 739 | I am glad I found this on the reduced rack for 99c. The taste was not bad but no way I could frost my cake. It stuck to the knife,ran down in strings,what a mess. I too thought I had gotten a bad batch.My GDs birthday cake looks like crap. Who would buy this mess. Horrible | I am glad I found this on the reduced rack for 99c. The taste was not bad but no way I could frost my cake. Who would buy this mess. |
| 740 | I recently purchased this on sale at my local grocery store... now I know why it was on sale! This is not a fluffy, creamy white frosting you'd expect to find when opening the jar. Now, I wasn't expecting it to be just like Betty Crocker, but it was pretty bad. Like others said, it is a gluey/tacky mess that would completely ruin a cake if you tried to spread it on. It reminds me of taffy that hasn't quite hit the right stage in the candy making process. The taste isn't that great either, and it's sickeningly sweet (even for frosting). The only thing it might be used for is a frosting for cinnamon buns? I still don't think it would be the right consistency... | I recently purchased this on sale at my local grocery store... now I know why it was on sale! This is not a fluffy, creamy white frosting you'd expect to find when opening the jar. Now, I wasn't expecting it to be just like Betty Crocker, but it was pretty bad. The taste isn't that great either, and it's sickeningly sweet (even for frosting). |

| | | |
|-----|---|---|
| 741 | I can honestly say this is the worst frosting we have ever bought. It's kind of generous to call it frosting, it has more the consistency of rubber cement. And since we were in a time crunch, we didn't have the luxury of going back out to the store for a different frosting, so we forged ahead and decorated a cake with it. Horrible experience, bad enough to put us off cake decorating forever. It spread about as easily as chewing gum, stuck to everything it came in contact with, and got crumbs of the cake mixed up in it. On top of all this, it didn't even taste good. By the time we were done decorating, we knew there was no way we could feed this mess to our family. So we ended up going to the store anyway to buy a pre-made cake. Our cake, which took twice as long to decorate because this stuff is so gooey, was used as a centerpiece. A really ugly centerpiece, that cracked and peeled as the frosting dried. | I can honestly say this is the worst frosting we have ever bought. Our cake, which took twice as long to decorate because this stuff is so gooey, was used as a centerpiece. So we ended up going to the store anyway to buy a pre-made cake. A really ugly centerpiece, that cracked and peeled as the frosting dried. |
| 743 | Well worth the money. I did the calculations on different bags and this dollar amount is an excellent value. There are approx 2338 pops in the box. So far I've been through about half the box and have found about 3 without wrappers. That's pretty good considering. If you need 30lbs of dum-dums go for this product. Enjoy. | Well worth the money. There are approx 2338 pops in the box. That's pretty good considering. |
| 744 | This is pretty good canned meat. The sausage I used in dirty rice, the hamburger I used for taco salad, the chicken with wild rice, and the pork with stuffing. the turkey I gave to a neighbor because I don't eat it. The various meats are all pretty good quality and was enough for 3 large portions each can. There weren't large chunks of fat or gristle in any of the cans, which I've experienced plenty with some brands of canned meats. The proportion of liquids to meat was fair too, it's not one of those with a spoonful of meat and the rest is liquid either, though it does all need to be cooked and shrinks quite a bit due to high fat content in the meat. None of the meat was seasoned, at all. This is very helpful as the meat can be used with any flavoring. There is a mild "spam"-like texture and taste to the meats(but way better than spam any day), almost a brine or something, that's why I heavily seasoned it. Don't plan on frying anything in the fat from these meats, it gave everything a slightly rancid, soury taste...no idea why! Due to the higher calories and higher price, I will only stock this as emergency food. I will buy more for that reason. | The sausage I used in dirty rice, the hamburger I used for taco salad, the chicken with wild rice, and the pork with stuffing. the turkey I gave to a neighbor because I don't eat it. The proportion of liquids to meat was fair too, it's not one of those with a spoonful of meat and the rest is liquid either, though it does all need to be cooked and shrinks quite a bit due to high fat content in the meat. I will buy more for that reason. |

| | | |
|-----|---|--|
| 745 | Bear with me while I do amazon's work for them and copy from the Lakewood website:  >----- Nutrition Facts >32oz UPC 042608460503 Serving Size 8 oz >Serving Size 240 ml Amount Per Serving >Calories 125 Calories from Fat 25 % Daily Value* >Total Fat 3.5g 6% Saturated Fat 0.5g 4% Trans Fat 0g Cholesterol 0mg 0% Potassium 370mg 10% Sodium 25mg 1% Total Carbohydrate 28g 9% Dietary Fiber 4g 16% Sugars 21g Protein 2g Omega 3 40mg, Omega 6 600mg, Omega 9 2400mg, Vitamin A 20%, Vitamin C 100%, Calcium 6%, Iron 8%, Vitamin E 6%, Vitamin B1 (Thiamin) 6%, Vitamin B2 (Riboflavin) 4%, Niacin 6%, Vitamin B6 8%, Folate 8%, Magnesium 8%, Zinc 2%, Phosphorous 4%, Vitamin K 15%, Percent Daily values are based on a 2,000 calorie diet Ingredients Certified Organic Juice Blend (Organic Acai, Organic Apple, Organic Concord Grape, Organic Grape, Organic Pomegranate, Organic Blackberry, Organic Blueberry, Organic Red Tart Cherry, And Organic Acerola Cherry From Concentrate); Organic Goji Berry, Natural Fiber (Organic Guar, Xanthan, Carrageenan, Sodium Alginate And Organic Locust Bean), And Organic Rose Hip. Gluten FREE Casein FREE GMO FREE* 100% Fruit Juices are Gluten-Free ----- This is an excellent Lakewood juice- they call it juice but it's as thick as an Odwalla drink like a smoothie. With all that's in it, this is a very good value. Considering you can pay as much for any one of the ingredients in it. My personal use is to add this to kombucha, maximizing it's longevity that way, I've tried many but this one is the best for kombucha. They say an 8oz glass has 2 servings of fruit on the Lakewood website. It's quite tasty in that it's not too sweet, very thick textured even with the tiny bits of seed in it reminiscent of a banana smoothie. The ingredient list is somewhat confusing but note that only the Acerola Cherry is from concentrate, everything else is fresh pressed. Acai is very high on the ORAC scale of anti-oxidants, Rose Hips are also very high, everything else is in the mid to high range of fruit. Pomegranate has many beneficial properties beyond just anti-oxidants as well, it's a noteworthy fighter of heart disease and Alzheimer's type dementia. Considering the price of Goji berries I really like their inclusion in this drink, albeit at a lesser level. BTW: Amazon had only 1 day wait before shipping. | Bear with me while I do amazon's work for them and copy from the Lakewood website: ----- >Nutrition Facts 32oz UPC 042608460503 Serving Size 8 oz Serving Size 240 ml Amount Per Serving >Calories 125 Calories from Fat 25 % Daily Value* Total Fat 3.5g 6% Saturated Fat 0.5g 4% Trans Fat 0g Cholesterol 0mg 0% Potassium 370mg 10% Sodium 25mg 1% Total Carbohydrate 28g 9% Dietary Fiber 4g 16% Sugars 21g Protein 2g Omega 3 40mg, Omega 6 600mg, Omega 9 2400mg, Vitamin A 20%, Vitamin C 100%, Calcium 6%, Iron 8%, Vitamin E 6%, Vitamin B1 (Thiamin) 6%, Vitamin B2 (Riboflavin) 4%, Niacin 6%, Vitamin B6 8%, Folate 8%, Magnesium 8%, Zinc 2%, Phosphorous 4%, Vitamin K 15%, Percent Daily values are based on a 2,000 calorie diet Ingredients Certified Organic Juice Blend (Organic Acai, Organic Apple, Organic Concord Grape, Organic Grape, Organic Pomegranate, Organic Blackberry, Organic Blueberry, Organic Red Tart Cherry, And Organic Acerola Cherry From Concentrate); Organic Goji Berry, Natural Fiber (Organic Guar, Xanthan, Carrageenan, Sodium Alginate And Organic Locust Bean), And Organic Rose Hip. Gluten FREE Casein FREE GMO FREE* 100% Fruit Juices are Gluten-Free ----- This is an excellent Lakewood juice- they call it juice but it's as thick as an Odwalla drink like a smoothie. With all that's in it, this is a very good value. Acai is very high on the ORAC scale of anti-oxidants, Rose Hips are also very high, everything else is in the mid to high range of fruit. Pomegranate has many beneficial properties beyond just anti-oxidants as well, it's a noteworthy fighter of heart disease and Alzheimer's type dementia. |
| 746 | A watered down perversion of the acai berry. This juice comes on strong and harsh. With tart aftertaste and no texture. That's because it is mostly apple juice, grape juice, pomegranate juice, blackberry juice, blueberry juice, and tart cherry juice. Oh yeah there is some acai berry juice mixed into this concoction. You shall not find that distinctive smooth chocolaty acai flavor here. There is no milky mouth pleasing texture neither. For that exotic unique acai experience try Zola or Samzon brands. I'm not saying that this Lakewood juice product isn't nutritious. That's not my point. I'm saying that it's a juice blend that does not taste anything like the real acai juice. | With tart aftertaste and no texture. That's because it is mostly apple juice, grape juice, pomegranate juice, blackberry juice, blueberry juice, and tart cherry juice. A watered down perversion of the acai berry. This juice comes on strong and harsh. That's not my point. |

| | | |
|-----|--|---|
| 747 | This product is made by Annie's Inc. in Berkely, CA--made in the USA. The product maintains excellent organic integrity, and it is stored in 100% recycled paperboard packaging. The manufacturers also support family farms - use organic milk, butter, and yogurt. The product takes approximately 10 min. to prepare. The product contains dairy and wheat, and it has been exposed to equipment that also processes egg and soy products. The ingredients include organic whole wheat shell pasta, organic valley organic cheddar cheese (organic cultured pasteurized milk, salt, non-animal enzymes), organic whey, salt, and sodium phosphate. This is a mildly flavored whole wheat macaroni & cheese dinner. This mac and cheese is a wonderful comfort food. The pasta is firm, and it has an excellent flavor. There are no artificial flavors, synthetics colors, or preservatives. The pasta was produced without antibiotics, synthetic hormones, or persistent pesticides. This pasta is simple to make and it has a wonderful texture. There are 2.5 servings per box (2.5 oz). Each serving contains 250 cal., 4.5 g fat, sat. 2 g fat, 10 mg cholest., 570 mg sodium, 43 g carb., 5 g fiber, 6 g sugars, 9 g protein. However, the cheese envelop is not exactly sufficient even when you add the butter, milk, or yogurt. To add that wonderful rich smooth cheese flavor that accompanies mac and cheese, you will have to add your own organic cheese. The cheese packet falls flat on flavor and it does not contain a sufficient amount to coat the pasta. I give this mac and cheese a 5/5 on packaging, 5/5 for maintain organic integrity, 5/5 on texture, and a 2/5 for flavor. | The product maintains excellent organic integrity, and it is stored in 100% recycled paperboard packaging. The manufacturers also support family farms - use organic milk, butter, and yogurt. The product takes approximately 10 min. To add that wonderful rich smooth cheese flavor that accompanies mac and cheese, you will have to add your own organic cheese. The cheese packet falls flat on flavor and it does not contain a sufficient amount to coat the pasta. There are 2.5 servings per box (2.5 oz). |
| 751 | This is pretty good regular style soy sauce. But it is not super-wonderful-better than any other good quality soy sauce you can buy in an Asian market. The main value is as a unique gift. In the Japanese soy sauce world, there are 4 types: regular, mild (usukuchi), for raw fish (sashimi) and light colored. Bluegrass soy sauce is regular style. Compared to Kikoman (a good commercial brand that is widely available) Bluegrass starts saltier, is flat in the middle, then ends with a complex & interesting flavor. Kikoman is less salty initially and has a round, full flavor in the middle. Doesn't have the complex ending flavors. For me, the initial saltiness of Bluegrass is a minus and Kikoman's full middle flavor is a plus. I prefere Kikoman, especially for dipping sushi where the flavor is more direct. But I lived in Japan for many years and am used to the standard Japanese flavor. I haven't tried Bluegrass blended in other food as a background flavor, which is how soy sauce is usually used. Bluegrass is a perfectly good soy sauce. Each brand has a different flavor and everyone has their favorite. If you want a unique Kentucky gift for an Asian friend, this is different than the standard bottle of Bourbon or box of chocolate. | This is pretty good regular style soy sauce. Bluegrass soy sauce is regular style. The main value is as a unique gift. In the Japanese soy sauce world, there are 4 types: regular, mild (usukuchi), for raw fish (sashimi) and light colored. If you want a unique Kentucky gift for an Asian friend, this is different than the standard bottle of Bourbon or box of chocolate. |
| 752 | I watched an episode o "How Things are Made" on Discovery Channell and saw Bluegrass Soy Sauce featured. On a whim, I ordered a bottle. It took several weeks to arrive, but when it did - what a surprise. My teenage son wanted to try it, and did. He loved it immediately. Now he puts it on many things. My wife and I were very pleasantly surprised and liked it very much. In the past, I made many trips to the Far East and developed a real liking for Soy Sauce (where virtually all of it is made). What a treat to find a handmade American product, that competes with (and wins), against a Japanese/ Chinese national staple! | On a whim, I ordered a bottle. I watched an episode o "How Things are Made" on Discovery Channell and saw Bluegrass Soy Sauce featured. It took several weeks to arrive, but when it did - what a surprise. |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 753 | My bottle arrived just in time for a sushi dinner and game night planned with friends. I had three soy sauces to choose from. After some sampling we were all using the Bluegrass! Everyone enjoyed the light smoothness a subtle sweetness. We were splashing right on every piece, rather than dunking/dipping. Friends wanted to know where I found it. I'm going back to order more right now, and I'll be ordering 3 extra bottles because they are going to make a great little gift that's affordable and unique; instead of the traditional bottle of wine that so common it's boring. | We were splashing right on every piece, rather than dunking/dipping. Everyone enjoyed the light smoothness a subtle sweetness. I'm going back to order more right now, and I'll be ordering 3 extra bottles because they are going to make a great little gift that's affordable and unique; instead of the traditional bottle of wine that so common it's boring. |
| 760 | I'm pleased with these- wasn't sure how they'd be able to replicate the autumn classic flavors of caramel apples, but figured Werther's was a good bet. I'm diabetic, so wolfing down a real caramel apple when the mood strikes just can't happen as often as I'd like to do so. But these are tasty enough to get me through until I can 'carb budget' the real thing. These are made with sugar alcohols, so it's wise to limit how many are eaten in a day unless you're going to be near home and have turbo-flush on your toilet. (TMI???) This pack of 6 will last a while, but they're definitely a 'will reorder'. :) | I'm pleased with these- wasn't sure how they'd be able to replicate the autumn classic flavors of caramel apples, but figured Werther's was a good bet. I'm diabetic, so wolfing down a real caramel apple when the mood strikes just can't happen as often as I'd like to do so. These are made with sugar alcohols, so it's wise to limit how many are eaten in a day unless you're going to be near home and have turbo-flush on your toilet. |
| 762 | This is a bold blend that has a great taste. The flavor comes bursting through. I usually brew & drink Organic Sumatra Mandeling from BJ's. I use this blend exclusively, so to get a cup that rivals the complex flavor from my Tassimo brewer is fantastic. Come on Amazon add it to the subscription service. | The flavor comes bursting through. I usually brew & drink Organic Sumatra Mandeling from BJ's. I use this blend exclusively, so to get a cup that rivals the complex flavor from my Tassimo brewer is fantastic. |
| 763 | We've tried many Tassimo flavors. This is by far our favorite. Our normal cup of coffee is Starbucks' house blend out of a Cuisinart pot but one or two days a week we use our Tassimo. This coffee is rich but not too strong. I don't understand the current price over $20 for 14 disks and hope that it will be lowered on Amazon. For now, we'll buy elsewhere. | We've tried many Tassimo flavors. This is by far our favorite. I don't understand the current price over $20 for 14 disks and hope that it will be lowered on Amazon. |
| 764 | This is one of the best choices, in my opinion. I also adore Amazon, but they need to negotiate a better price for their Tassimo Disks. These are available at BedBath & Beyond for $10. and I always get 20% off which brings it down to $8.00 --- they were $7.50 (before the 20% off readily available coupons) until about 3 months ago. Again, this is an excellent blend with full flavor - not bitter - I think it's my favorite. | I also adore Amazon, but they need to negotiate a better price for their Tassimo Disks. Again, this is an excellent blend with full flavor - not bitter - I think it's my favorite. These are available at BedBath & Beyond for $10. |
| 765 | I have tried about 75% of the available T-Discs, and the Kona Blend is one of the best regular/unflavored coffees for Tassimo. It has a nice smooth flavor that is not overpowering, and has a pleasant aroma. Personally, I would enjoy it more if it were stronger/bolder. However, being a bit mild, it goes well with breakfast and/or (gluten-free) baked goodies. I find it mildly perplexing that this product is not available from tassimodirect, nor is a subscription service available. Originally found this at (Dead Bats from) Beyond, used a 20% coupon, and was happy with the final price. | Personally, I would enjoy it more if it were stronger/bolder. However, being a bit mild, it goes well with breakfast and/or (gluten-free) baked goodies. Originally found this at (Dead Bats from) Beyond, used a 20% coupon, and was happy with the final price. |

| | | |
|-----|--|---|
| 766 | This coffee is good but, for me, it's nothing special. I will buy it again because it's a nice, mellow blend, and my favorite daily coffee, Nabob, must now be shipped from Canada. However, on my first order to the Canadian company, it's taking a long time to be delivered (still haven't gotten it). The reason for only three stars is not about the quality of the coffee but the fact that the description of the product does not mention the fact that this "Kona coffee" is actually only 15% Kona. If you look very carefully at the photo of the disc, you can see that information, and there's a legal disclaimer saying that the product may not match exactly with the description. So it's my fault for not reading more carefully, but I was happy to see what I thought was 100% Kona and wasn't careful. I've bought the 15% Kona before in a local store and did know that there was such a product in the Tassimo discs, but I just read the product title and ordered. As I said, the coffee tastes good, the amount of coffee is the usual amount, neither the small cups of some European coffees or the extra large size, and I would recommend the coffee. Just be aware that this is blended coffee with only 15% Kona. And don't expect it to come in a flash, as it did when Amazon Prime delivered it. | This coffee is good but, for me, it's nothing special. I've bought the 15% Kona before in a local store and did know that there was such a product in the Tassimo discs, but I just read the product title and ordered. As I said, the coffee tastes good, the amount of coffee is the usual amount, neither the small cups of some European coffees or the extra large size, and I would recommend the coffee. If you look very carefully at the photo of the disc, you can see that information, and there's a legal disclaimer saying that the product may not match exactly with the description. |
| 770 | The Milka Naps Mix Gift Box is a fun, unique gift for those tired of Whitman's and the usual American brands. Nothing wrong with Whitman's, but sometimes a change of look and flavor is nice. As a sampler, it provides only a few of the Milka options. Four flavors are here: noisette, hazelnuts, alpine milk and strawberry. All are delicious, though I don't like strawberry/chocolate (in any candy) personally, and give those away to eager friends. The Naps box are perfect for coffee tables and as a standalone dish at work. Milka and its famous purple cow, is owned by Kraft, is an eastern European chocolate originally produced in Switzerland and is available in Germany, Austria, Hungary and other nearby countries. Distribution is still weak in the United States, but can be found increasingly in larger cities. Usually, then, it is found only in international grocery stores, though it pops up in eclectic grocers from time to time. It has been around 100 years. Whether or not Kraft will change the recipe has yet to be seen. For now, the texture and taste are better than Hershey's and Nestle. It is a smoother, creamier basic chocolate. I fully recommend the Milka Naps Mix Gift Box. Anthony Trendl editor, HungarianBookstore.com | Four flavors are here: noisette, hazelnuts, alpine milk and strawberry. For now, the texture and taste are better than Hershey's and Nestle. It has been around 100 years. It is a smoother, creamier basic chocolate. I fully recommend the Milka Naps Mix Gift Box. Anthony Trendl editor, HungarianBookstore.com |
| 772 | Great candy and our family loved it. It was smaller than I imagined it and I thought it was expensive for how small it was. However, I am in Germany and can get it easier here. The shipping to the USA makes it expensive. Great product and fun for our USA family to receive. | Great candy and our family loved it. However, I am in Germany and can get it easier here. The shipping to the USA makes it expensive. |
| 776 | Bought this at a local specialty-item store because I adore chutney. Because of the higher price and being sold like a gourmet item I wrongly thought it would be better than the affordable brands sold at the supermarket. Wrong. It is mostly gel (jelly) with a few fruits sprinkled throughout and tastes like cheap thickened jelly you put on sandwiches...I've had much better and that's just talking about the supermarket brands. Very disappointed. Money does not buy quality. | Wrong. It is mostly gel (jelly) with a few fruits sprinkled throughout and tastes like cheap thickened jelly you put on sandwiches...I've had much better and that's just talking about the supermarket brands. |

| | | |
|-----|---|---|
| 778 | My son made this. He didn't have the patience to be precise about the water temperature and when, half an hour before it was done, it appeared not to have risen at all--I feared for the worse. Determined to be polite, I agreed to have a sandwich using the bread. It was amazing. Apparently it rises during the baking or something. Great tangy flavor (perfect for a meat sandwich imho) and not heavy at all. Fortunately we had lots of deli meats, since the whole loaf disappeared within the hour. We've had all but the sourdough peasant bread so far; I'm sure that will be delicious as well. | My son made this. Fortunately we had lots of deli meats, since the whole loaf disappeared within the hour. We've had all but the sourdough peasant bread so far; I'm sure that will be delicious as well. It was amazing. |
| 782 | Really easy project for family fun anytime not just for Christmas. Just put icing between cookies and stack. Then ice outside and decorate. Great for all ages. Strawberry licorice rope looks like stuck together but just find end and unwind. * CAUTION UNDER 3 Small hard candy decorations swallowing hazard. Comes with everything you need except bowls and spoons. contains : cookie pieces Large bag yellow colored icing (Easy to mix with just fork, you add water slowly as to not get too thin) small white icing bag (you add water slowly) green color to add to small amount of white 3 clear decorator 4 plastic decorator tips (can save to reuse) small bead candy for decoration 9chokign hazard) strawberry licorice rope 1 small tube of orange writing icing Hard candy wreath decoration about 2" diameter Gummy Spongebob about 4" tall Gummy Patrick about 4" tall Icing set up hard so when you go to eat it has to be pried apart in pieces. Cookies do get a little softer in the middle. Make anytime of year. Leave off wreath and Patrick and cut out Spongebob's head so does not look like chirstmas. | Just put icing between cookies and stack. Really easy project for family fun anytime not just for Christmas. Cookies do get a little softer in the middle. Make anytime of year. |
| 785 | I am a preschool teacher and do a G is for Gingerbread unit every January. I was on vacation during Christmas and when I got back not a gingerbread kit was to be found. Which is odd. I needed one for my preschool class and needed it in less than a week. I looked everywhere and could not find ont. So I had one overnighted from Amazon on NYE and it came yesterday. I pick this one because of the Rudolph theme. The gingerbread itself came broken. Like unable to use would need a glue gun to get it to work broken. It's non returnable. I called Amazon, they were nice enough to order me a second one since I spend a ton of money each year with them. This one also came broken. I order A LOT from Amazon and things do not come broken. I think only one time have I had returned something because it was broken in 100's of orders. But two of the same thing in a row?! I think it's the kit itself and nothing to do with how it was shipped. I will say most come UPS and overnight comes Fed Ed. But it's bubble wrapped very well. I think the gingerbread isn't good and cracks in shipping and breaks off. The rest of the kit is very cute. The first kit the candies had spilled out and where a mess in the box. But the second kit while the gingerbread was all broken up again the candies were all in their bags. Too bad. But I would try something else, stay away from this one. | Which is odd. It's non returnable. I will say most come UPS and overnight comes Fed Ed. I think only one time have I had returned something because it was broken in 100's of orders. But the second kit while the gingerbread was all broken up again the candies were all in their bags. |
| 786 | I was pleasantly surprised to find this item had been delivered the day after my order, my speediest delivery to date. It probably helps my location is near. Everything looks just as described and pictured and I'm very happy to have done business with this seller. The Gingerbread house was carefully packaged as not to harm the fragile pieces inside. I'm excited to give this item as a gift. | I was pleasantly surprised to find this item had been delivered the day after my order, my speediest delivery to date. The Gingerbread house was carefully packaged as not to harm the fragile pieces inside. I'm excited to give this item as a gift. |

| | | |
|-----|--|---|
| 789 | The whole idea of a Spongebob Ginger Bread Pineapple is really great, but the sticker that says "Use By" Has a 10 JN 16 date on it. If thats 2010- this is not good! I think it would be fun to make and a cute decoration, but my son is going to want to eat it. The least the seller could do is to check the expiration date! Its right on the front of the box! Not happy at all!!! | If thats 2010- this is not good! The whole idea of a Spongebob Ginger Bread Pineapple is really great, but the sticker that says "Use By" Has a 10 JN 16 date on it. Not happy at all!! |
| 790 | This tea carries the flavor one would expect from the smell: terrible. It invigorates like a puncture wound, and the only revival is that, after drinking, you discover that you are still alive. Well, one tea bag was enough for me. My mother-in-law said, "Oh, that smells kind of like wine." Okay, kind of like wine, with a hint of rot and a moldy aftertaste. If she likes it, she can have the whole box. | It invigorates like a puncture wound, and the only revival is that, after drinking, you discover that you are still alive. Well, one tea bag was enough for me. Okay, kind of like wine, with a hint of rot and a moldy aftertaste. If she likes it, she can have the whole box. |
| 791 | If it were possible to give this product zero stars, I would have done so. I am a huge fan of Twinings teas, and was very excited to try this new blend. After arriving home from the grocery, I immediately started the kettle to enjoy a cup while prepping dinner. Between sorting, washing, and chopping items, the hot water was added to the bag to steep. Preparation continued, until a distinctly off odor hit me. I thought one of my ingredients must be rancid! I hunted around for almost four minutes before I realized it was the tea. Even after cleaning up, and airing out the kitchen, my roommate later came in and asked about the smell. Save your money to purchase ANY other Twinings product. | I hunted around for almost four minutes before I realized it was the tea. Preparation continued, until a distinctly off odor hit me. Between sorting, washing, and chopping items, the hot water was added to the bag to steep. |
| 794 | The best chocolate in the world, in this critic's humble opinion, is made in the United States. And the best chocolate in the United States is made in California, by the Ghirardelli Chocolate Company. It is surely the best chocolate that one can find in so many stores, malls, etc. throughout the United States. Their actual stores are rare, but Kroger, Wal-Mart, Martin's (formerly Ukrops) and a long list of other grocery stores and many malls stock their products. I have never encountered milk chocolates with caramel filling to surpass the quality of these. These are chocolates deserving of poetry. You can eat them quickly, or take your time and savor every moment of eating every one. The choice is up to you. | Their actual stores are rare, but Kroger, Wal-Mart, Martin's (formerly Ukrops) and a long list of other grocery stores and many malls stock their products. I have never encountered milk chocolates with caramel filling to surpass the quality of these. throughout the United States. You can eat them quickly, or take your time and savor every moment of eating every one. |
| 797 | This is the best caramel/chocolate combination I have ever tasted. The caramel is liquid and complements the Ghiradelli chocolate perfectly. Do not try this brew if you are attempting to lose weight - you will end up an addict like me. The Ghiradelli product is far better than the Caramello/Hershey product in every way. The Caramello chocolate lacks the refined taste of the Ghiradelli squares, and the Caramello caramel is harder and not as sublime in taste. Comparing the two is like comparing Warren Buffett to myself in terms of wealth. Unfortunately I am the Caramello bar in this regard. At the very least try the Ghiradelli. | This is the best caramel/chocolate combination I have ever tasted. The Caramello chocolate lacks the refined taste of the Ghiradelli squares, and the Caramello caramel is harder and not as sublime in taste. Do not try this brew if you are attempting to lose weight - you will end up an addict like me. The Ghiradelli product is far better than the Caramello/Hershey product in every way. |
| 803 | This was really a disappointment. While the products included are fine, the real disappointment was the travel mug. It is a cheap plastic cup with the nutritional information for the cookies on it! So it is basically just a cookie package! Yeah, that is really what I want to use as a travel mug. I agree with the review that it looks like it came from a dollar store. The product description says the polka dot tumbler is "definitely a keeper." What? It is simply cheap packaging! Not something of quality to enjoy. Had I known that I would not have purchased the set. I really was looking forward to using the cute looking mug on a daily basis. I like the products inside and the basket is OK, but really this what not what it appeared to be. | This was really a disappointment. While the products included are fine, the real disappointment was the travel mug. What? I really was looking forward to using the cute looking mug on a daily basis. |

| | | |
|-----|---|--|
| 810 | Delicious chocolate cups, each in its own aluminum holder. I could not find these in any local store, so was happy to find them on-line. Most people are unaware of them, so they are impressed when I serve them a little cordial or other liquor in a chocolate cup. After sipping the liquor, you can eat the cup. What could be nicer? Excellent product. | After sipping the liquor, you can eat the cup. I could not find these in any local store, so was happy to find them on-line. Most people are unaware of them, so they are impressed when I serve them a little cordial or other liquor in a chocolate cup. |
| 812 | strawberry twist has a long-lasting pleasant flavor SWEET-but, not excessively so. delivery is timely and price is just right. Supieror to other TRIDENT flavors! Though, SPEARMINT isn't bad either. My next pick would be blueberry | Though, SPEARMINT isn't bad either. Supieror to other TRIDENT flavors! delivery is timely and price is just right. |
| 818 | My father could no longer take care of his beloved 6 year old Cocker Spaniel, so I decided to take her into my family. When I brought her to NYC she had ear and eye discharge. She was also slightly overweight. After a check up with a vet that ruled out infection, I decided to try Royal Canin based on the numerous good reviews.Within a week her ear and eye problems were gone and she dropped a good amount of weight. This is going to be the only food that we will be feeding her! | My father could no longer take care of his beloved 6 year old Cocker Spaniel, so I decided to take her into my family. She was also slightly overweight. This is going to be the only food that we will be feeding her! |
| 819 | Our Spaniel has tried several foods in her 6 years, and this is the only one she will eat by itself without any "people food" being added (of course, we still treat her occasionally). When we went in for our 12 month tooth-cleaning appointment, the vet told us to take her home as her teeth didn't need any cleaning for another 6 months, at least. It is specially designed for their teeth and health needs, and she loves it. And it is actually cheaper here than at the fancy pet store! What more could you ask? | When we went in for our 12 month tooth-cleaning appointment, the vet told us to take her home as her teeth didn't need any cleaning for another 6 months, at least. Our Spaniel has tried several foods in her 6 years, and this is the only one she will eat by itself without any "people food" being added (of course, we still treat her occasionally). What more could you ask? |
| 822 | I tired many different dog foods over the 3 yrs I have my cocker spaniel. I then came upon this breed specific dog food & figured I'd try it. My dog loves this food and always finishes his food. I've used this for over 1 yr now & he has not tired of it. I have seen a significant change (for the better) in him, he's more active and doing well. I only buy this brand food for him now. Buster gives it 2 paws up & I give it 5 stars. | I tired many different dog foods over the 3 yrs I have my cocker spaniel. My dog loves this food and always finishes his food. I've used this for over 1 yr now & he has not tired of it. |
| 823 | I bought this for my one year old Cocker. However all the dogs love it. All their coats look better, they all shed less, eat less, use the bathroom less, my Cocker used to have this one chronic ear since the time I have had her as a puppy that it just gave her problems. It seems to have cleared up, no more smell. Her eyes give her less problems. And my 7yr old Yorkie he eats less, he used to throw up all the time had the most sensitive tummy. Our black lab mix, hot spots and she would just lick her fur off. All these great changes in a matter of a month. I do mix it roughly 50/50 with Naturals dog food blend. They are doing great. Sept 2012 I love this breed specific food, however I just went to place my next bi-monthly order and I am shocked at the price hike in just over a month! I paid $41.79 on Aug 3 for a 25lb bag and here it is Sept 20Th and the price has is now $53.94, a difference of $12.15 in price! This is a huge amount to go up considering that I am assuming this is a price gouge; due to the speculation over crops :(I will look to my local vet for this product. I can get a large bag now less at Petco as well with the discounts they offer. They will order a larger bag if you ask. | Her eyes give her less problems. All their coats look better, they all shed less, eat less, use the bathroom less, my Cocker used to have this one chronic ear since the time I have had her as a puppy that it just gave her problems. Our black lab mix, hot spots and she would just lick her fur off. All these great changes in a matter of a month. |
| 825 | We are Chocolate Moose & Mickey Moose, Our nice owner bought this great food for us. We love it very much, I have gained 5 lbs. because I eat all of Mickey's food when he isn't looking! Our skin and fur is much better now too. :) | because I eat all of Mickey's food when he isn't looking! We love it very much, I have gained 5 lbs. |

| | | |
|-----|---|---|
| 833 | My first taste of this tea saved my trip home from Santa Cruz, when both the hotel and a restaurant had stale powder in the tea bags. How I needed my fix! A tourist stop with a giant artichoke beckoned, and this Chinese Breakfast / Yunnan Black Tea set me straight. Other reviewers have said it tastes odd. The flavor is strong and a bit smoky, like Darjeeling, only earthier. Like Darjeeling or Earl Grey, it has enough flavor on its own -- no milk or sugar needed. But it's expensive by the box of teabags. Finding it loose in large quantities at this price is fantastic! It arrived promptly, well-sealed, and true to the label -- unlike some "loose" tea that's actually cut up, this has the whole leaves that unfurl. Ahhh. | How I needed my fix! Like Darjeeling or Earl Grey, it has enough flavor on its own -- no milk or sugar needed. But it's expensive by the box of teabags. |
| 838 | I grew up on Yunnan tea as a child - it was always my mother's favorite - so I was happy to find an economical source of it of a quality that was great for a "large volume" habitual tea drinker like me. This tea is my daily regular tea. Yunnan is nice in that it will brew dark so you do not need much at a time. It's aromatic and flavorful without any additives. If you want something that is flowery yet more subtle than Earl Grey this Yunnan or a Keemun may be a nice option to explore. | This tea is my daily regular tea. I grew up on Yunnan tea as a child - it was always my mother's favorite - so I was happy to find an economical source of it of a quality that was great for a "large volume" habitual tea drinker like me. It's aromatic and flavorful without any additives. |
| 839 | It always amazes me that there are not dozens of reviews here extolling the fine qualities of this tea. I have drunk it pretty much every day for the last five years and I never get tired of it. It's an excellent morning tea, is smooth without being insipid, and is almost impossible to ruin by oversteeping. Just use decent water. I like a little stevia in it, as I'm a wimp. It brings out the natural sweetness of its malty, slightly floral style. I just bought another two pounds. | It's an excellent morning tea, is smooth without being insipid, and is almost impossible to ruin by oversteeping. I have drunk it pretty much every day for the last five years and I never get tired of it. I like a little stevia in it, as I'm a wimp. |
| 840 | I hardly ever write reviews but this tea is quite excellent. I decided to try it without any sweetener or any other added taste enhancers. It is flavorful without being overpowering. It is a great pleasure to have a fine tea like this loose and reasonably priced. After the first try I have continued to drink it just as it comes. You can see by the leaves once they are soaked that it is a premium tea. | I decided to try it without any sweetener or any other added taste enhancers. It is flavorful without being overpowering. You can see by the leaves once they are soaked that it is a premium tea. |
| 850 | If you are concerned with an aluminum free product, then this is the product for you. Too bad that baking SODA does not in any form contain aluminum. This is, however a concern for baking POWDER which can, depending on manufacturer, contain aluminum. Save your hard earned money and buy Bob's Red Mill regular baking soda. Arm & Hammer is great for general cleaning purposes, but for natural beauty and health care, this brand is perfect. Just thought you'd all like to know. I almost fell for it myself until I did a little digging around. :) P.S- So as not to let all of amazon.com -land feel I am one of those "haters who don't really know what they're talking about", I LOVE Bob's Red Mill Co. and shall continue purchasing their excellent products. | This is, however a concern for baking POWDER which can, depending on manufacturer, contain aluminum. Arm & Hammer is great for general cleaning purposes, but for natural beauty and health care, this brand is perfect. Just thought you'd all like to know. I almost fell for it myself until I did a little digging around. |
| 851 | The product is of high quality, and has a rich full flavor. Delivery was unexpectedly fast. The only negative I would like to see addressed is that the product is packed in a heavy paper sack. While this may be commonplace, a significant improvement would be to have an inner liner of a heavy weight, food grade, plastic bag that can be sealed after each time you open the bag. Could be either a zip-lock bag or a twist tie closure... doesn't make any difference... just need a practical way to preserve the freshness of the product and keep the bugs out of it. This is a health and spoilage issue... 50#'s of oatmeal is a lot of product and needs to either be repackaged by the consumer in small food grade bags or containers (very expensive and hard to find). I am a single senior who likes to buy staple goods in bulk to save money and provide food security. Long term storage is a big issue with people like me. Thom (Missouri) | Could be either a zip-lock bag or a twist tie closure... doesn't make any difference... just need a practical way to preserve the freshness of the product and keep the bugs out of it. This is a health and spoilage issue... 50#'s of oatmeal is a lot of product and needs to either be repackaged by the consumer in small food grade bags or containers (very expensive and hard to find). I am a single senior who likes to buy staple goods in bulk to save money and provide food security. Long term storage is a big issue with people like me. Thom (Missouri) |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 859 | I'm not sure how you review something that's as subjective as taste, but suffice to say that if you like chocolate and graham cracker, you'll like this (it doesn't taste exactly like either of those, but that's the closest analogy for me). The sticks themselves are a cracker of some kind, dipped in chocolate, with one end left just normal cracker to you don't get your fingers covered in chocolate while eating. Here's some of the nitty gritty details - each of the boxes contain two individually sealed packets, that contain probably 20 or so of the sticks. The packets themselves are really cleverly designed, with a little slit cut in the folded part, you just grab both sides and pull, and it opens up the package without any hassle - gotta love Japanese product design! :) Another nice design touch is that when you open it properly the grabbing-side of the stick is right at the top. Each of the packets has 210 calories (90 from fat), and about 80mg of sodium - so in terms of snacks this is a pretty good option. It does contain milk, wheat, soybeans and sheanut - so if any of these are an issue for you, then you'll want to pass. It also says on the packaging that the facility they're manufactured in also processes eggs and peanuts - the product doesn't use either of them, but the disclosure is nice if you're particularly sensitive to either. Overall a great snack at a great price - the 10 pack really is 20 of the packets, so that's quite a few snacks. One note, if you live in a hot climate, don't order them in the summer because they will melt together (in shipping)! Duh! :) | I'm not sure how you review something that's as subjective as taste, but suffice to say that if you like chocolate and graham cracker, you'll like this (it doesn't taste exactly like either of those, but that's the closest analogy for me). It also says on the packaging that the facility they're manufactured in also processes eggs and peanuts - the product doesn't use either of them, but the disclosure is nice if you're particularly sensitive to either. Overall a great snack at a great price - the 10 pack really is 20 of the packets, so that's quite a few snacks. One note, if you live in a hot climate, don't order them in the summer because they will melt together (in shipping)! |
| 862 | I bought these back in January and never got around to reviewing them. I had heard many people rave about a Japanese snack called Pocky so I figured I would try it out. Just like the description states, its a biscuit stick covered in chocolate. I wouldn't say the taste is mind boggling but its very easy to eat and virtually no mess, well, as long as the chocolate doesn't melt. Anyways, in case anyone is wondering, I ordered from a seller named Very asia (amazon.com/gp/help/seller/at-a-glance.html?ie=UTF8&isAmazonFulfilled=0&orderID=103-7071944-5595443&marketplaceSeller=1&seller=A3JW437I54SEI1). I believe it took around a 3 weeks to actually get to me (maybe it had to be imported) but when it did, it came well packed and not damaged whatsoever. I'm definitely considering re-stocking on this in the future if I can't find a local store >EDIT: Oct 11, 2012 >Inquire the type of pocky from seller before finalizing purchase >So I decided to restock after I couldn't fight the craving anymore. Unfortunately the batch this time was not so good (ordered from different seller because it was cheaper and through Amazon Prime). What I received was not the picture shown on the front page (2 per pack japanese pocky), it was a 1 per pack pocky-ish thing from Thailand. In my opinion, the 1 giant pack compared to 2 smaller packs is definitely a step back. Packaging was fine and I ordered in October when the weather was a bit cooler aka no melted chocolate arriving at the front door. The sticks were coated in some type of thick chocolate that was a bit bitter to the taste, more similar to dark chocolate than milk chocolate. The original Japanese pocky melted almost immediately in your mouth, this one melts slowly as it sits in your mouth. >Personally I like the taste of dark chocolate but not when used here as a pocky flavor. I also have terrible self control so I buy things that come in small portions in order to a) not eat everything at once and b) avoid making the fridge a mess by cluttering it with tons of opened items. I can honestly say that I won't be overeating when it comes to this batch of pocky because I and my stomach dislike it so much. I won't change my original rating because that still holds true for the Japanese pocky but if I were to rate only the Thailand pocky it would be a 3. The taste isn't "terrible" but its definitely not to my liking. If possible I will be uploading some pictures of what I received. | I'm definitely considering re-stocking on this in the future if I can't find a local store >EDIT: Oct 11, 2012 >Inquire the type of pocky from seller before finalizing purchase >So I decided to restock after I couldn't fight the craving anymore. I believe it took around a 3 weeks to actually get to me (maybe it had to be imported) but when it did, it came well packed and not damaged whatsoever. Just like the description states, its a biscuit stick covered in chocolate. I wouldn't say the taste is mind boggling but its very easy to eat and virtually no mess, well, as long as the chocolate doesn't melt. In my opinion, the 1 giant pack compared to 2 smaller packs is definitely a step back. |

| | | |
|-----|---|---|
| 865 | Pocky is just plain fun to eat. I discovered these snacks at an anime convention (though I'd heard about them before and had seen manga characters eating them). They are very, very slim sticks of biscuity stuff (the flavor to me is a cross between waffle cones and pretzels) that have a charming tiny popping crispness. The chocolate flavor, a nice non-bitter, non-dark, generically pleasing choco-taste, seems to be the most popular (given how fast they sell out at cons), but I prefer the flavor of the strawberry which is like strawberry ice cream. Very nice. This is by no means a health food (it's in the same category as a cookie, it's got fat and sugar and non-healthy ingredients). But hey, it's junk food. We all know it's supposed to be OCCASIONAL and not habitual in the diet. Unless you're really prone to binge-eating or can't stop yourself a whole one of these smaller boxes is not a huge calorie splurge if you stick to a reasonable number. 10 of the chocolate pocky sticks will set you back 125 calories with 5 grams of fat, 3 of them saturated. I wouldn't recommend just scarfing down multiple boxes. In fact, just nibble these slowly and have fun with the cool texture effect. If you love the flavor of coconut-chocolate together (like Almond Joy) try the coconut chocolate ones. They're really so good, oh man. Hubby says the taste reminds him of the Girl Scout 'caramel delights' cookies which are, in turn, similar to the old Yes Yes cookies (from the seventies or so). Anyway, if you have read manga or seen anime with young folks eating those stick-looking treats, or seen footage of cute Japanese girls nibbling at skinny little stick treats, this is what they were eating. :) Fun treats. However, with this crazy hot summer, I'd recommend you look for a local retailer or wait until fall's cooler weather. You might get a sticky, clumped mess of Pocky sticks in this deep summer weather. (Look for local stores that specialize in Japanese anime or manga and they'll likely carry Japanese snacks like these. In South Florida, Tate's Comics has them in a variety of flavors..and FRESH and NOT MELTED). | Very nice. This is by no means a health food (it's in the same category as a cookie, it's got fat and sugar and non-healthy ingredients). In fact, just nibble these slowly and have fun with the cool texture effect. If you love the flavor of coconut-chocolate together (like Almond Joy) try the coconut chocolate ones. I wouldn't recommend just scarfing down multiple boxes. They're really so good, oh man. Hubby says the taste reminds him of the Girl Scout 'caramel delights' cookies which are, in turn, similar to the old Yes Yes cookies (from the seventies or so). Anyway, if you have read manga or seen anime with young folks eating those stick-looking treats, or seen footage of cute Japanese girls nibbling at skinny little stick treats, this is what they were eating. |
| 866 | Pocky is an incredibly good snack, but more than that, I was impressed with Very Asia's packaging. I had stupidly ordered something as easy to melt as chocolate in the dead heat of summer. On top of that the package of dessert pocky I ordered in 100 degree weather melted into this liquid goo. T_T So of course I was expecting all the pocky in my 10 boxes to be melted away, but they took the special care to put the pocky in a box reading "PROTECT FROM HEAT" and my pocky arriving in perfect condition! (Well, they did stick together just a bit). I love Very Asia more than anything now. | T_T So of course I was expecting all the pocky in my 10 boxes to be melted away, but they took the special care to put the pocky in a box reading "PROTECT FROM HEAT" and my pocky arriving in perfect condition! (Well, they did stick together just a bit). I love Very Asia more than anything now. |

| | | |
|-----|---|--|
| 872 | This product must qualify for some sort of deceptive packaging award. The box only contains 5 bars and the wrappers are smaller than normal, so at least 50% of the interior of the box is air. Then when you unwrap the bar you find they are only about 60% the length of a "normal" snack bar. The rest of it is empty air inside the wrapper. If they were to not include wrappers those 5 bars would occupy less than 25% of the space inside the box. As far as taste goes they are so-so. On the dry side with a hint of berry flavor. Celiacs, who are used to inferior products, won't be disappointed in the taste of this one. I've also had their cookies and they suffer from the same sort of deceptive packaging. The picture on the side of the box shows what most of us would consider a normal sized cookie. But when you open the box you find that it mostly contains a plastic tray holding cookies about the size of a quarter. I really want to like this company. They seem to be trying hard and coming out with new products and keeping allergens out of the production process. That is why I've continued to try their products. I bought their granola many times, always wanting to like it, but it is some of the worst food I've ever had. The "clusters" are hard as the partially popped kernels at the bottom of your bag of popcorn and more fitting for gerbils than people. All in all I would not recommend Enjoy Life foods. | This product must qualify for some sort of deceptive packaging award. The rest of it is empty air inside the wrapper. The box only contains 5 bars and the wrappers are smaller than normal, so at least 50% of the interior of the box is air. But when you open the box you find that it mostly contains a plastic tray holding cookies about the size of a quarter. I really want to like this company. |
| 873 | This was the first peanut free product I bought for my son. I thought they were tasty. The kids liked them too. For some reason they think they are strawberry bars. I love the soft texture and the non crumbly state. It makes for clean car rides. Since then they like the apple and chocolate bars the best. Berry is always left for last. Amazon has a wonderful price and I just wish it could be a subscribe item. | For some reason they think they are strawberry bars. I love the soft texture and the non crumbly state. This was the first peanut free product I bought for my son. |
| 875 | My daughter had extensive food allergies as an infant/toddler and we bought these bars consistently. She still has the nut and egg allergy so I like that I can trust the manufacturer and know the food is safe. Unfortunately the last few times we have purchased the bars (all varieties) they have been hard as a rock and my daughter won't eat them. I have tried them myself and thought I might break a tooth. I had them on subscribe and save; which I have now cancelled and have several boxes which no one in my family will eat. I agree with a previous post. I want to love these bars and I love everything the company stands for (and actually really like their cookies), but something has changed with these bars and they are just not even appetizing. I hope they address the issue and I will certainly try them again if they do something to enhance the taste and address the issue with the texture. A total bummer - they were better in the past but something changed with the taste, along with their new packaging!! | My daughter had extensive food allergies as an infant/toddler and we bought these bars consistently. I had them on subscribe and save; which I have now cancelled and have several boxes which no one in my family will eat. I agree with a previous post. |
| 877 | i love them. not too sweet but just right. any allergy free food is great in my book. hope non of these ingredients contains Corn...thats a no no for me too. HOWEVER I DONT APPRECIATE THE FACT THAT I OPENED MY NEW BOX AND THE CUT 1/4 OF IT OFF. IF THE SIZE IT LESS THEN SO SHOULD THE CHARGE. THIS WILL EFFECT MY DECISION IN BUYING AGAIN. I AM NOT A TODDLER I NEED A REAL SIZE BAR PLEASE | i love them. HOWEVER I DONT APPRECIATE THE FACT THAT I OPENED MY NEW BOX AND THE CUT 1/4 OF IT OFF. hope non of these ingredients contains Corn...thats a no no for me too. |

| | | |
|-----|---|---|
| 878 | I was extremely disappointed when I opened my shipment of Enjoy Life On The Go Bars (Very Berry, Carmel Apple, and Cocoa Loco). The boxes are now a plain, generic design..you know, the kind all brands change to when they want to make their products look cheaper. I then compared the ingredients of the new shipment with the older boxes I still had at home. Guess what?! Cheaper ingredients! Next, I taste-tested, and let my 3 year old help. He wouldn't eat the new ones...and I can't blame him. They are oily and bland. I thought Enjoy Life was a brand that actually cared about using quality ingredients to make a good-tasting product. I was wrong. In summary, these are way too expensive to be made with low-quality, unpalatable ingredients. | He wouldn't eat the new ones...and I can't blame him. Next, I taste-tested, and let my 3 year old help. They are oily and bland. |
| 879 | Refer to the picture I posted above. The bar is half the size you think it is going to be...It is literally a two-bite bar. Very deceptive advertising. That and the fact that they are ridiculously expensive is the reason for the one star. My 10 year old son ate one and didn't like them. I ate one and agreed as did my husband. Couldn't give it away! Everyone has different tastes but these are no tasty treat as far as I'm concerned. | Very deceptive advertising. The bar is half the size you think it is going to be...It is literally a two-bite bar. Couldn't give it away! |
| 880 | With all the allergies in our family, these ended up working out great. We don't have any negative reactions to the ingredients and though we don't buy many pre packaged foods, these work for 'on-the-go'. Our family tried several varieties and I prefer the Cocoa Loco Bars; they're almost like a Tootsie Roll to me-though I can't eat Tootsie Rolls, so this is a great substitute for that occasional craving. My family prefers the Very Berry Bars because they can eat those when they miss breakfast, need a healthy snack, or my son will take them on his cross country running meets. They are very dense and filling-not a 'soft bar' and we always eat them while having some liquid to drink at the same time. | With all the allergies in our family, these ended up working out great. We don't have any negative reactions to the ingredients and though we don't buy many pre packaged foods, these work for 'on-the-go'. They are very dense and filling-not a 'soft bar' and we always eat them while having some liquid to drink at the same time. |
| 881 | I'm new to food allergies. My 6mo son was diagnosed with some severe FA and since he's still breastfed, I had to drastically alter my diet. Before learning about this brand, I was stuck eating chicken breasts with potatoes for every meal. So when I stumbled upon this at my local Whole Foods, I was very excited to try it. Overall, I really like them. It's got pretty good texture, taste and heft. It's not so dense that you want to gag after two bites but also not so light that you can eat the whole box (which really isn't that big). I know alot of people complain about the size/packaging and I agree somewhat. But each bar is an ounce and 120 calories... on par with many other breakfast bars. I like the Berry flavor the best, it's the closest to real, non FA specialty flavor. Overall, I'm grateful for these bars because now I can tote several in my diaper bag and car and know that when I really need a quick snack, I won't be left stranded. | I'm new to food allergies. My 6mo son was diagnosed with some severe FA and since he's still breastfed, I had to drastically alter my diet. Before learning about this brand, I was stuck eating chicken breasts with potatoes for every meal. It's not so dense that you want to gag after two bites but also not so light that you can eat the whole box (which really isn't that big). I know alot of people complain about the size/packaging and I agree somewhat. |
| 885 | This brand of granola bars are really good. The very berry are my favorite. However, the bars are almost ridiculously small. Yeah, we're gluten free, so our food is a lot more dense than other food, but honestly, can we not have normal sized, good tasting granola bars? They really are tiny. So, the taste is GREAT but the bar is small. | This brand of granola bars are really good. The very berry are my favorite. They really are tiny. |
| 886 | They are OK, but my husband only eats them when we are in car. We keep them there for a celiac snack. (Hard to find when roaming around.) He won't eat them otherwise. They are definitely raspberry, but are kind of dry. We have never tried any other snack bars, so in all honesty they may be the norm. I don't know. We DO like Enjoy Life's other products. They are GF, have no MSG or related products or aspartates. | They are OK, but my husband only eats them when we are in car. (Hard to find when roaming around.) I don't know. We DO like Enjoy Life's other products. They are GF, have no MSG or related products or aspartates. |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 887 | Great taste. Great ingredients. Great texture. Absolutely delicious! They are a little smaller and you may still be hungry if it is for a meal. I give one to my 5 year old son for breakfast and he is still a little hungry for more. Either that or they taste so good he wants more. | Great taste. Great texture. |
| 891 | Imagine taking some kids' playground chalk, perhaps that tan colored one and grinding it into powder with plenty of chunks. Then scoop it up and put it in your mouth. That's how disgusting this bar is. I have no idea how and who is rating this as flavorful, IT HAS NONE. I've done nutritional coaching for 30 years and watched healthy foods progress from painfully bad to barely edible to excellent. This neanderthal-era gluten free bar is so bad I want to go to my local grocery store, take all the boxes off off the shelf and hide them in a different part of the store (perhaps, if there's a trash compactor?) just to protect people from the experience my daughter had with this product. Save your money for these ridiculously expensive and spend it on anything else. "Enjoy Life" bars? Being ill is better than putting this garbage in your mouth. | Imagine taking some kids' playground chalk, perhaps that tan colored one and grinding it into powder with plenty of chunks. just to protect people from the experience my daughter had with this product. Save your money for these ridiculously expensive and spend it on anything else. "Enjoy Life" bars? Being ill is better than putting this garbage in your mouth. |
| 892 | My brother bought me a pound of this coffee for Christmas. He told me that "weaver" was the original roaster for Pete's coffee, he eventually split off and started his own roaster. Well let me tell you the stuff is delicious! I've never been married to a brand of coffee, usually would buy the Starbucks 2.5 lb bag at Costco, or whatever looked good at Trader Joes, but Weavers is in a class of it's own. I'm subscribing to guarantee I can have this stuff delivered to me regularly. TRY IT!! | Well let me tell you the stuff is delicious! He told me that "weaver" was the original roaster for Pete's coffee, he eventually split off and started his own roaster. I'm subscribing to guarantee I can have this stuff delivered to me regularly. |
| 894 | This is the best coffee we've ever had. I run The American Pavilion in Cannes and Weaver's was by far and away our most popular coffee sponsor! Hundreds of people come to The Pavilion every day looking for American coffee and they were not disappointed. We did a booming business this year! Buy it! You'll be so happy you did! Julie | This is the best coffee we've ever had. Hundreds of people come to The Pavilion every day looking for American coffee and they were not disappointed. Buy it! |
| 895 | For those looking for a more exotic tea drinking experience and who like white Jasmine tea, Numi's Flower Jewel is worth a look. About the size of a gum-ball, these jewels slowly open in water to form a flower shape around the central amaranth flower. They are meant to be decorative so glass teapot is a must when preparing this tea. Decorative does not mean tasteless. As a white tea, the flavor is mild, but rich and soothing. The jasmine is wonderful but does not overpower the tea. I have had stronger jasmine teas, but this one is quite balanced and tasty. I used a small glass pot when preparing it and was able to get more than 7 yummy infusions out of the jewel before the flavor and scent began to fade. The white tea tips are plentiful and of a high quality and don't get bitter if seeped for long periods. I must deduct some points though for the high price to tea ratio and the fragility of the flower jewels. Pouring hot water directly on them can cause pieces to fall of and after the 3rd or 4th infusion more of the flower starts to fall apart, though to be fair the main flower shape remains fairly intact. Some even come out of the box starting to missing the central flower or bits of leaf. Better packaging might solve this. If you want a tea experience that looks as good as it tastes and smells, or are entertaining and want a conversation piece, then Numi Tea Flower Jewel should be on your short list. | For those looking for a more exotic tea drinking experience and who like white Jasmine tea, Numi's Flower Jewel is worth a look. I have had stronger jasmine teas, but this one is quite balanced and tasty. Pouring hot water directly on them can cause pieces to fall of and after the 3rd or 4th infusion more of the flower starts to fall apart, though to be fair the main flower shape remains fairly intact. Better packaging might solve this. If you want a tea experience that looks as good as it tastes and smells, or are entertaining and want a conversation piece, then Numi Tea Flower Jewel should be on your short list. |

| | | |
|-----|--|--|
| 898 | The product is all that it says it is which is why I gave it 5 stars. However, I do have issues with the product, namely, me and my family members can't take the smell. The taste is horrible so I put it in a lotion cream and rubbed it on my skin. This was a few weeks ago and though I've since changed my sheets, the scent is still in my bed. Ultimately, I stopped using it because it made me smell in a way I did not like. It smells like an Indian spice and while it didn't work for me, scent-wise, it may work fine with someone else. | The product is all that it says it is which is why I gave it 5 stars. It smells like an Indian spice and while it didn't work for me, scent-wise, it may work fine with someone else. This was a few weeks ago and though I've since changed my sheets, the scent is still in my bed. |
| 899 | Both our twins love this one right from the start but it's not loaded with lentils (see ingredients below). We introduced it when they were 7 months old and now they're 10 months. I'm glad they are eating something green because we couldn't get them to eat the one with peas when we tried at 7 months, but we got them to eat the peas later at 9 months. Their favorite vegetable is sweet potato and we've also tried sweet potato with cinnamon. They love all the fruit varieties. I'm glad they love this one because lentils and brown rice form a complete protein, although a view of the ingredients shows that lentils is not one of the prime ingredients. This one also has carrots and I've heard all babies like carrots. I don't know if they would like it without the carrots. I haven't seen this one - lentils and brown rice - in our local stores, so I'm glad to get it here. Along with some others, we get this one with the subscription. Of course, with twins one is forced to buy more in bulk and we're so busy that it's great to get these delivered. The packaging is excellent. I've ordered an unbelievable number of cases of jars of different types and only had one jar arrive broken. Ingredients per label: Water, organic apples, organic carrots, organic brown rice, organic lentils, organic canola oil. This has 70 calories, 10% protein, 100% vitamin A, 4% vitamin C, 2% calcium and 4% iron. I'm informed that the daily intake percentage is based on an adult. | We introduced it when they were 7 months old and now they're 10 months. Both our twins love this one right from the start but it's not loaded with lentils (see ingredients below). I've ordered an unbelievable number of cases of jars of different types and only had one jar arrive broken. Ingredients per label: Water, organic apples, organic carrots, organic brown rice, organic lentils, organic canola oil. This has 70 calories, 10% protein, 100% vitamin A, 4% vitamin C, 2% calcium and 4% iron. I'm informed that the daily intake percentage is based on an adult. |
| 900 | My twin 10-month old babies treat this one as dessert. Their first Earth's Best jar they loved was straight sweet potatoes. After water, sweet potatoes are the first ingredient in this one, followed by apricot puree. That's dessert for them right there. After that comes the chicken and then brown rice flour (not as good as brown rice though). This is a meal that babies around the age of mine are probably almost all going to love instantly. Almost all babies love sweet potatoes for starters. Add apricot puree and there's really not much one could do to discourage babies after that. I recommend this flavor brand. Ingredients per label: Water, organic sweet potatoes, organic apricot puree, mechanically separated organic chicken, organic brown rice flour. The rice flour absorbed the water and gave it a real nice consistency, and the sweet potatoes gave it a nice color. Nutrition per label: 80 calories, 15% protein, 90% vitamin A, 2% vitamin C, 2% calcium and 6% iron. This one had the most vitamin A of all Earth's Best jars I've tried. I've been informed that the percentage of daily needs met is based on an adult. | After that comes the chicken and then brown rice flour (not as good as brown rice though). This is a meal that babies around the age of mine are probably almost all going to love instantly. After water, sweet potatoes are the first ingredient in this one, followed by apricot puree. I've been informed that the percentage of daily needs met is based on an adult. |

| | | |
|-----|---|---|
| 901 | I liked getting this one for my twin 10-month olds because it has such interesting ingredients, particularly the zucchini and the garbanzo beans. I like the fact that it's vegetarian yet I believe it has a complete protein since it also has brown rice. This list of ingredients looks excellent and it's a green color naturally. The babies liked it. They have liked everything that has carrots. I have the subscription for this one as I really like the ingredients and the fact that I'm giving the babies food that is naturally green. Ingredients per the label: Water, organic corn, organic zucchini, organic green beans, organic brown rice, organic carrots, organic garbanzo beans, organic canola oil. This has 70 calories, 8% protein, 40% vitamin A, 10% vitamin C, 2% calcium and 2% iron. I've been informed that the percentage of daily needs met is based on an adult. | I like the fact that it's vegetarian yet I believe it has a complete protein since it also has brown rice. They have liked everything that has carrots. I have the subscription for this one as I really like the ingredients and the fact that I'm giving the babies food that is naturally green. Ingredients per the label: Water, organic corn, organic zucchini, organic green beans, organic brown rice, organic carrots, organic garbanzo beans, organic canola oil. This has 70 calories, 8% protein, 40% vitamin A, 10% vitamin C, 2% calcium and 2% iron. I've been informed that the percentage of daily needs met is based on an adult. |
| 903 | Earth's Best Turkey Vegetable Dinner hits the spot with apples with turkey. You can add cranberries if you want to take it to the next level. I just can't find non-sweetened and non-dried cranberries even at the better food stores. Apples, carrots and turkey taste good to my 10-month old growing twin girls. Babies love carrots since they're sweet to their taste, so that made a great addition. The whole barley flour absorbs the water to give it an acceptable consistency. The ingredients per the label: Water, organic apples, organic carrots, mechanically separated organic turkey, organic whole barley flour. In addition to 12% protein and 50% vitamin A, it has 6% calcium and 4% iron. I'm very pleased my babies like this food and are being introduced to so many foods through Earth's Best. I've been informed that the percentage of daily needs met is based on an adult. | I just can't find non-sweetened and non-dried cranberries even at the better food stores. Apples, carrots and turkey taste good to my 10-month old growing twin girls. Babies love carrots since they're sweet to their taste, so that made a great addition. I've been informed that the percentage of daily needs met is based on an adult. |
| 906 | Wow, i am shocked to find clear plastic pieces in the jars. The other posters say they notified Earth's Best about this in August and they are still selling it without checking or recalling!! No more earth's best for my little guy. I am taking my business elsewhere and I am very sad that organic company is selling baby food with plastic and bpa in their jars. They gotta do better than this to get my business. | I am taking my business elsewhere and I am very sad that organic company is selling baby food with plastic and bpa in their jars. No more earth's best for my little guy. They gotta do better than this to get my business. |
| 907 | I like the Earth's Best baby food line because of the organic ingredients. Amazon has great prices (especially if you subscribe) and free delivery to your doorstep, which is convenient when you're a busy mom. My daughter doesn't like a lot of baby foods, but will eat this one. As other reviewers have stated, it's a bit runnier than other EB's stage 2 foods, so I add some oatmeal to it. It's also a bit bland, so I add a dash of cinnamon after heating it up. As an added bonus, it works wonders for her digestive tract! She had problems with constipation for about 2.5 months, sometimes going up to 10 days before we had to give her a suppository, and then I discovered that this food makes her poop every time (I also started giving her a sippy cup of water with meals and during the day to help with the fiber). I rated it 4 instead of 5 stars because the main ingredients are sweet potatoes and apricots rather than sweet potatoes and chicken. I wish there were more chicken in this so there was more protein. | As other reviewers have stated, it's a bit runnier than other EB's stage 2 foods, so I add some oatmeal to it. She had problems with constipation for about 2.5 months, sometimes going up to 10 days before we had to give her a suppository, and then I discovered that this food makes her poop every time (I also started giving her a sippy cup of water with meals and during the day to help with the fiber). As an added bonus, it works wonders for her digestive tract! |
| 908 | This is my son's favorite dinner! Best of all it seems it has the best combo of protein (21%) , vitamin A (100%) and C (30%). It is runnier than most of their dinners which was a great start for solids with protein in it. Love love love this brand and flavor. I think I purchased 50 jars so far. | Best of all it seems it has the best combo of protein (21%) , vitamin A (100%) and C (30%). Love love love this brand and flavor. I think I purchased 50 jars so far. |

| | | |
|-----|--|---|
| 911 | I would love to say that I have the time to make my son's food everyday. Its not the case. Honestly, I do make it most of the time, but some days, you just don't have the time/energy to get it all done. Enter this product. Before I bought this baby food, I read the reviews and all these people were saying that it has fruit in it, its like a dessert, yadda yadda yadda. The truth is, is that yes, it has a bit of fruit in it, but its not sweet at all. The fruit merely brings out the flavors naturally so that you don't have to add anything else. Its a great product to enter proteins into baby's diet. The consistency is smooth enough that if you wanted to add cereal to it also, baby will not choke on it. I highly recommend. | Honestly, I do make it most of the time, but some days, you just don't have the time/energy to get it all done. Enter this product. The fruit merely brings out the flavors naturally so that you don't have to add anything else. I highly recommend. |
| 916 | My daughter was not a big fan of baby food, especially any with proteins, but she did LOVE this one! The flavor is just right, not too sweet or too savory, and doesn't have a strong chicken flavor. Almost like plain sweet potatoes but not as sharp, thus it's a very good first protein to offer, and good for picky eaters. My nephews and my niece also liked this flavor, so it's a pretty safe bet to keep on hand if you don't know a particular baby's preferences. Something I wish I had known was that it is quite a bit runnier than other Stage 2 Earth's Best, especially for having chicken. I added quite a bit of rice cereal to thicken it up after my daughter had gotten tired of the runny texture, and she liked that just fine, but it is an extra step. However the runnier texture makes it workable for younger babies or those with gagging/texture problems. | The flavor is just right, not too sweet or too savory, and doesn't have a strong chicken flavor. My nephews and my niece also liked this flavor, so it's a pretty safe bet to keep on hand if you don't know a particular baby's preferences. Something I wish I had known was that it is quite a bit runnier than other Stage 2 Earth's Best, especially for having chicken. However the runnier texture makes it workable for younger babies or those with gagging/texture problems. |
| 920 | I normally love Earth's Best products (as does my son). However, tonight after I'd given him half the jar I thought I would try some since it was a new flavor and I realized that there were little pieces or soft shredded plastic in it. I was appalled! As this is my first child and I don't have any experience with this kind of thing, I called poison control. They said he would be ok and once I knew he was fine, I got really angry. I looked it up online and found that Earth's Best has actually known about the plastic for some time but are still selling it. Don't buy Earth's Best! Really disappointing. | I was appalled! I normally love Earth's Best products (as does my son). I looked it up online and found that Earth's Best has actually known about the plastic for some time but are still selling it. |
| 922 | I introduced my daughter to Earth's Best Organic Turkey Vegetable Dinner at 4 months. A bit early, but she's advanced, as she was 6 weeks overdue. She loved it at first. But, I bought every other kind and now this is her least favorite. I've tried some of it as well. Of all of them, this is also my least favorite. | I introduced my daughter to Earth's Best Organic Turkey Vegetable Dinner at 4 months. A bit early, but she's advanced, as she was 6 weeks overdue. But, I bought every other kind and now this is her least favorite. |
| 923 | We received this in a dinner variety pack and tried it for the first time today. I always try her baby foods to make sure they are the right temperature (I put them in a bowl and microwave for 6-9 seconds) and taste ok. When I tasted this, I made a face because it was so yucky! I added sweet potatoes and a dash of cinnamon. To her credit, my (8 month old) daughter ate some bites, but not nearly as enthusiastically as the other flavors. I like that it has a mixture of organic vegetables in it and beans for protein. | I always try her baby foods to make sure they are the right temperature (I put them in a bowl and microwave for 6-9 seconds) and taste ok. When I tasted this, I made a face because it was so yucky! I like that it has a mixture of organic vegetables in it and beans for protein. |
| 929 | My 7-1/2 month old absolutely loves this one...by far, it is her favorite jarred baby food. I like it because the lentils add a bit more protein than your average baby food, and I'm not ready to introduce her to meats yet. I do subscribe & save, which brings the price down to $0.80/jar. That's a fair price - not an amazing deal, but roughly equivalent to sale prices at the grocery store. The bigger issue is that this particular blend is hard to find - I have to go to Whole Foods. My regular grocery store and Target carry Earth's Best, but not this blend. My daughter likes it so much, though, that I would still buy even if the price were a bit higher than store prices. It's a good one! | My regular grocery store and Target carry Earth's Best, but not this blend. My daughter likes it so much, though, that I would still buy even if the price were a bit higher than store prices. It's a good one! |

| | | |
|-----|---|--|
| 931 | From 6 month to 12 month, my son barely ate any solid food. He was so picky. We tried many different flavor from various brands and this was the only baby food that he'd actually finish the whole jar. I didn't expect him to like this since it has very green vegetable scent to it, but I guessed it wrong. Now he is 18 month old and he is a pretty healthy eater. His current favorite seems to be tofu, but he still loves corn, zucchini, brown rice and carrot which are the ingredients of this. I highly recommend to try this baby food. Also, Earth's Best makes not only the best baby foods but their toddler foods are fabulous as well. My son doesn't really like any snacks from Gerber brand, but he likes most of the products from Earth's Best. Their foods taste great(even for us adult) and so good for you too. | He was so picky. We tried many different flavor from various brands and this was the only baby food that he'd actually finish the whole jar. Their foods taste great(even for us adult) and so good for you too. |
| 935 | My son started eating this when he was around 8 months old; he's now 14 months old and it's one of his favorites. Unfortunately, they don't carry it at the local grocery store (they carry other varieties of Earth's Best; just not this one or his other favorites, Spinach/Potatoes and Spaghetti with Cheese); they do carry it at some of the Whole Foods so I buy them there. I'm so glad to find them on Amazon! I get TIRED of ringing up a gazillion little jars at the store. We use this as a base and mix in other things - bits of cooked broccoli, small pieces of meat. I've also started adding spices to introduce him to new flavors. | My son started eating this when he was around 8 months old; he's now 14 months old and it's one of his favorites. I'm so glad to find them on Amazon! I get TIRED of ringing up a gazillion little jars at the store. We use this as a base and mix in other things - bits of cooked broccoli, small pieces of meat. |
| 943 | This is my daughter's most favorite baby food by far. This is the only ones she'll eat and rarely will eat the other kinds. However, the taste is very bland, for me as an adult at least. After you put the unfinished portion in the fridge, it may become sort of watery at which point I throw it out. It is unique from the others in the combination of vegetables it has, especially zucchini. I had to update my review today, because I saw little pieces of thin stretchy plastic in two jars of this baby food. PLASTIC IN BABY FOOD? I notified Earth's Best about it and will be sending them these pieces of plastic for testing, but I am not giving my baby this food any more, even though she likes it, that's it for us. | I notified Earth's Best about it and will be sending them these pieces of plastic for testing, but I am not giving my baby this food any more, even though she likes it, that's it for us. It is unique from the others in the combination of vegetables it has, especially zucchini. I had to update my review today, because I saw little pieces of thin stretchy plastic in two jars of this baby food. PLASTIC IN BABY FOOD? |
| 946 | I didn't eat any but my baby liked it. She said it was savory but sweet and it reminded her of fine dining in Tuscany. Also I like that with the jarred foods is you know when you recycle it will never become waste. I just learned this and am telling everyone - only glass recycles forever. And if you don't recycle then you and I have nothing in common and you should stop reading here. It's not even a hard thing to do anymore. Nobody else in my building recycles and it drives me crazy. You just rinse it and put it in a different bin and still put it out on trash day. Stop being lazy. | And if you don't recycle then you and I have nothing in common and you should stop reading here. It's not even a hard thing to do anymore. Stop being lazy. |
| 947 | I just wanted to post here that I found small bits of plastic in this food as I was feeding my 9 month old. Plastic!!! in food!!!! baby food!!!! So please be careful if you buy this or are considering it. My daughter LOVES this food-- it's actually her favorite. This is the first time we have noticed plastic in it in over 2 months. | I just wanted to post here that I found small bits of plastic in this food as I was feeding my 9 month old. in food!!!! |
| 951 | This fruit gift really was the perfect gift! Everything was fresh, well packed and tasty looking! And the people that received it assured me that it was quite tasty tasting too. And tried the chocolate covered cherries ad was surprised at how delicious they were! So thank you! I needed something in a pinch and it came even earlier than expected!SO THANK YOU AGAIN! Dharana,San Francisco | And the people that received it assured me that it was quite tasty tasting too. So thank you! Dharana,San Francisco |
| 953 | As a child my facorite memory was drinking Sassafras tea made from fresh sassafras with my Granddad. I have never seen it in a tea bag before. I found that to get the taste I remember I needed 2 bags per cup. The bags are rather fragile but all in all it is a really great product that I will buy again and again. Plus the shipping time was great. | As a child my facorite memory was drinking Sassafras tea made from fresh sassafras with my Granddad. I have never seen it in a tea bag before. Plus the shipping time was great. |

| | | |
|-----|---|--|
| 954 | I grew up in Ohio and lived in the woods where sassafrass trees were plentiful. I would dig tender roots or "bark" a few trees for a delightful tea. I purchased Breezy Morning Sassafrass tea and although was quite good it was very expensive for only 20 average size tea bags and shipping was as much as the product. Not a good bargain. I switched to Pappy's extract. | I grew up in Ohio and lived in the woods where sassafrass trees were plentiful. I would dig tender roots or "bark" a few trees for a delightful tea. I purchased Breezy Morning Sassafrass tea and although was quite good it was very expensive for only 20 average size tea bags and shipping was as much as the product. |
| 957 | I heard some great things about Sassafras and wanted to try it. I was worried about the taste but it turned out to be a lot better than i anticipated. I'm actually gonna order the 4-pack and continue drinking it over time. Don't trust the FDA!! | I was worried about the taste but it turned out to be a lot better than i anticipated. Don't trust the FDA! |
| 959 | I first tasted Sassafras tea in a local restaurant and really liked it. So I started looking in grocery stores and online for it in a teabag form. After several weeks of investigation I called the restaurant and asked what they used to make the tea. I was told is was Pappy's Sassafras Concentrate. I looked online and found it at Amazon.com . As I was ordering it I also saw the Sassafras Teabags. I thought I'd order a box to try. I was very dissapointed. It didn't taste like the flat rootbeer I was expecting. It was more like black licorice, which I hate, with a very mild rootbeer undertone. It also didn't have the distinctive red color that you get by steeping the sassafras root. I've never had real Sassafras tea made with the root so I don't know if the teabags are more like the real thing or not. Bottom line: I won't buy the teabags again. | I was told is was Pappy's Sassafras Concentrate. So I started looking in grocery stores and online for it in a teabag form. I was very dissapointed. It also didn't have the distinctive red color that you get by steeping the sassafras root. I've never had real Sassafras tea made with the root so I don't know if the teabags are more like the real thing or not. |
| 965 | I purchased this for a friend who loves to cook only to find out that I paid 3 times more than what I should be. $13.95 for 4 cans is highway robbery now that I know that I can purchase one can for around $1.09. Now as far as the item itself, this brand of Panang Paste is excellent. The beef panang dish my friend made using this paste was as good as the ones in the Thai restaurant. I would recommend the paste but not the price. | I purchased this for a friend who loves to cook only to find out that I paid 3 times more than what I should be. $13.95 for 4 cans is highway robbery now that I know that I can purchase one can for around $1.09. Now as far as the item itself, this brand of Panang Paste is excellent. |
| 966 | Best paste I have tried! So easy to use. Just saute you meat, add veggies, paste, and a tin of coconut milk. Quick and tasty! I am on weight watchers and tried using the light coconut milk instead of the full fat. It works for the panang paste especially if you add a heaping tablespoon of crunchy peanut butter.. but the yellow, green, and red are spicy and need the full fat coconut milk to balance it out. | Best paste I have tried! So easy to use. It works for the panang paste especially if you add a heaping tablespoon of crunchy peanut butter.. but the yellow, green, and red are spicy and need the full fat coconut milk to balance it out. |
| 967 | OMG I would love these cookies except for the chocolate mixed in makes it taste medicinal. DEGUSTING isn't even a strong enough word. A horrible horrible mistake...an expensive mistake....they advertised it as peanut butter cookies which is why I bought them since everyone else had peanut butter chocolate cookies when I just wanted plan peanut butter cookies....however when I received them I found out they were the chocolate peanut butter ones but I thought okay I'll try them and omg I almost threw up from the taste. HORRIBLE, HORRIBLE, DISGUTINGLY, MEDICINAL TASTE. DO NOT BUY!!! If they had a zero before the stars I would rate it a zero instead of 1 star. | A horrible horrible mistake...an expensive mistake....they advertised it as peanut butter cookies which is why I bought them since everyone else had peanut butter chocolate cookies when I just wanted plan peanut butter cookies....however when I received them I found out they were the chocolate peanut butter ones but I thought okay I'll try them and omg I almost threw up from the taste. HORRIBLE, HORRIBLE, DISGUTINGLY, MEDICINAL TASTE. DO NOT BUY!!! |
| 969 | I'm not from the south, but live in SoFla; where sometimes we get a southern influence. The gravy mix I am reviewing, PIONEER COUNTRY GRAVY is DE-LICIOUS!!! I've tried others Publix brand, Mc Cormick, ect, but this is the BEST! BY FAR! I chose to mix 1/2 water 1/2 milk, + 2 cooked, chopped sausage links, and it was phenomenal on my [...]. BISQUICK CHEESE GARLIC BISQUITS (Like Red Lobster's), served with a small side of watercress scrambled eggs. It's super easy to make and THICK! FINGER LICKIN! MMMmmmm. I heard you can put it on potatoes/veggies and chicken, make soups and add for seasoning. PIONEER BRAND as the name says is A HOMESTYLE, AMERICAN CLASSIC! | I've tried others Publix brand, Mc Cormick, ect, but this is the BEST! The gravy mix I am reviewing, PIONEER COUNTRY GRAVY is DE-LICIOUS!!! BY FAR! |

| | | |
|-----|---|--|
| 970 | Nothing easier. Nothing better. Even beats grandmother's white gravy recipe. Already peppered for you. You do nothing but mix it with water. Takes only a minute or two. I highly recommend this gravy mix. It will not disappoint. | You do nothing but mix it with water. Even beats grandmother's white gravy recipe. Takes only a minute or two. |
| 973 | I am a coffee fanatic but have always stayed away from these because I never liked instant coffee and my assumption was that this would be similar. I really enjoy the Starbucks VIA instant coffee - but I drink so much, it is rather expensive so I thought I would give this a try. Both my wife and I were pleasantly surprised with the taste. I don't think it equals fresh brewed but it is very acceptable. I bought my first 38 pack at my local grocery store for about $7. That seemed a little high but I figured I would check online to find the best price. As I started calculating all of the online prices, they are charging about $7 bucks for the 19 count. I would suggest that you check your local grocery stores as you might be able to find it cheaper. So you don't have to do the math...$7 / 38 = .184 per single. Online price $27 / 114 = .236 (shipping not calculated in). Looking at a supposed discount coffee supplier, you can get a case of 12 boxes for $69, no sales tax and free shipping...sounds like a great deal?? 12 x 19 = 228 singles so $69 / 228 = .302 per single - the most expensive at all. | I am a coffee fanatic but have always stayed away from these because I never liked instant coffee and my assumption was that this would be similar. Looking at a supposed discount coffee supplier, you can get a case of 12 boxes for $69, no sales tax and free shipping...sounds like a great deal?? Online price $27 / 114 = .236 (shipping not calculated in). So you don't have to do the math...$7 / 38 = .184 per single. |
| 974 | I don't think these coffee bags are as good as fresh ground fresh brewed coffee, but they taste far better than instant coffee. At work, we have a water cooler with hot water dispenser. This brewed in hot water just like a tea bag making tea tastes far better than any instant coffee. I highly recommend it to any coffee lover when you have access to very hot water but don't have access to a coffee maker. Individual wrapped and sealed bags allow you to take one tiny tea like bag with you in your pocket or purse to your early morning meetings. | This brewed in hot water just like a tea bag making tea tastes far better than any instant coffee. At work, we have a water cooler with hot water dispenser. I highly recommend it to any coffee lover when you have access to very hot water but don't have access to a coffee maker. |
| 977 | My primary point with this review is to note that this packaging is less expensive than the other size offered by Folger. You get more coffee for less money. I recently started drinking coffee again after a lapse of many years. Since I didn't know how many cups a day I would use, I wanted to avoid the fuss of a coffeemaker. I don't particularly like instant coffee. I was delighted to find these Folger's bags. They brew a very nice tasting cup of coffee. I'm not any kind of coffee expert, so I don't know what special terms might be used. All I know is that if I let the bag seep for a bit more than a minute, it sure tastes good. Thanks to my very much better half, I've also learned that each of these bags will produce at least two good cups of coffee. Very convenient, very easy, very tasty. I intend to take some of these with me when I travel as an alternative to the in-room coffee makers or (yeck!) vending machines. Jerry | Thanks to my very much better half, I've also learned that each of these bags will produce at least two good cups of coffee. Very convenient, very easy, very tasty. I don't particularly like instant coffee. Since I didn't know how many cups a day I would use, I wanted to avoid the fuss of a coffeemaker. vending machines. Jerry |
| 978 | We can't have any kind of coffee maker at work, so we're forced to buy at the in-house coffee shop or Starbuck's across the street. In this economy, no one wants to pay those high prices, so we started a coffee club. 20 of us buy these coffee bags and separate creamer and enjoy fresh, hot, tasty coffee every day without paying the coffee shop prices. thanks Folgers!!! | In this economy, no one wants to pay those high prices, so we started a coffee club. 20 of us buy these coffee bags and separate creamer and enjoy fresh, hot, tasty coffee every day without paying the coffee shop prices. |
| 981 | I gave this tea a try to add variety to my tea habit. And I'm glad I did. It has a somewhat sweet and almost minty taste and a wonderful aroma. It has a nice reddish color. This tea probably has more of a taste factor than any of the wonderful japanese green matcha tea I've had, and I look forward to experiencing any of the purported health benefits of rooibos that I've read about. | And I'm glad I did. I gave this tea a try to add variety to my tea habit. It has a nice reddish color. |

| | | |
|-----|---|--|
| 983 | I previously tried other matcha products and was generally satisfied with the quality but not the price. I decided to give Pure Matcha green and rooibos a try because the price seemed to be very competitive. The quality of Pure Matcha's products surpasses that of all others I have tried- stays fresh, has a consistent texture and tastes great. Both the quality and price are better than others that I have purchased for the same quantity. I highly recommend Pure Matcha and will continue to purchase. | The quality of Pure Matcha's products surpasses that of all others I have tried- stays fresh, has a consistent texture and tastes great. Both the quality and price are better than others that I have purchased for the same quantity. I highly recommend Pure Matcha and will continue to purchase. |
| 987 | This hot sauce is one of my favorites. Its a perfect balance of tasty and spicy. You can smell the flavors immediately when you open the bottle. A mix of garlic, habanero, and other spices. I put this on everything and tend to go through one bottle a week. I highly recommend this to anyone who likes hot sauce. | This hot sauce is one of my favorites. A mix of garlic, habanero, and other spices. You can smell the flavors immediately when you open the bottle. |
| 988 | I was never much of a hot sauce fan until I tasted Black Market Hot Sauce. I was listning to the radio one morning and the creator/owner was giving an interview, It sounded interesting. The D.J.'s were sampling the sauce and raving about it, So I picked up a bottle at the local grocery, It's so good ! I keep a bottle in the kitchen and an extra bottle on hand for gifts and for taking to potlucks,barbecues and party's. Happy to see I can buy it online at Amazon. | 's were sampling the sauce and raving about it, So I picked up a bottle at the local grocery, It's so good ! The D.J. Happy to see I can buy it online at Amazon. |
| 990 | They have this in a local diner that I eat in regularly. I use it on all kinds of foods and I love it. It's hot, but not without flavor. I don't like those sauces that just burn but have no taste. This has both burn and and awesome flavor. I was surprised to find it on Amazon (just stumbled across it). I would highly recommend it to anyone who likes a good hot sauce. | They have this in a local diner that I eat in regularly. It's hot, but not without flavor. This has both burn and and awesome flavor. |
| 991 | I was browsing around on Amazon looking for gifts and was very pleased to see my favorite sauce on here. I will just order and have shipped to my friends. Habanero is my favorite, I love the heat and the tangy spiciness. I also love the pineapple. You will not go wrong ordering this up. | I was browsing around on Amazon looking for gifts and was very pleased to see my favorite sauce on here. I will just order and have shipped to my friends. Habanero is my favorite, I love the heat and the tangy spiciness. |
| 992 | This is my favorite hot sauce. I buy it locally and love the flavor that they all have. Hopefully the other flavors will show up on amazon for people to enjoy! My favorites are the medium and pineapple flavored ones so far. Thank you for making a flavorful hot sauce! | This is my favorite hot sauce. I buy it locally and love the flavor that they all have. Thank you for making a flavorful hot sauce! |
| 993 | So far I have had the habanero and the medium sauces and they were amazing. My fiance and I use them nearly daily and I just picked up 3 more. It goes really well on all sorts of dishes to add the extra kick. The sauce itself lasts a lot longer than it appears. It is thick and a bottle will last us a couple of weeks of heavy use. We love to use it for breakfast on eggs or in burritos and for dinners or soups for added spice. | So far I have had the habanero and the medium sauces and they were amazing. It goes really well on all sorts of dishes to add the extra kick. The sauce itself lasts a lot longer than it appears. We love to use it for breakfast on eggs or in burritos and for dinners or soups for added spice. |
| 995 | BLACK MARKET HOT SAUCE IS WONDERFUL.... My husband Loves this Habenero sauce, its very very flavorful with a nice kick to it. I in fact love the medium sauce- the taste is so yummy with a bit of zing behind it. We used it for everything and you can use it with any meal. I like the fact that there are so many different levels of spicyness. We love the medium & habenero. Kind of like a "HIS & HERS package". Thank you for your hard work guys! Keep up the hard work. | I in fact love the medium sauce- the taste is so yummy with a bit of zing behind it. We used it for everything and you can use it with any meal. I like the fact that there are so many different levels of spicyness. Keep up the hard work. |
| 996 | Man what can i say, this salsa is the bomb!! i have all the different kinds. i have it with almost every meal. the owner is a cool dude, He's dropped off free bottles to me in my mailbox. i stole the first bottle out of a friends fridge after i tasted and been hooked since. dont sleep on this hot sauce!! | Man what can i say, this salsa is the bomb!! i have it with almost every meal. dont sleep on this hot sauce! |

| | | |
|------|---|--|
| 999 | I have to admit, I was a sucker for the large quantity, 12 oz, when shopping for hot sauces ...but now seeing the size of the bottle, it reminds of wing-sauce bottle sizes. Plastic bottle. It does have a convenient squirt top. But overall, not very hot or tasty, and made mostly from jalapeños. If I had seen the ingredients list I would not have bought it: Jalapenos Water Vinegar Brown Sugar Lime Juice Fish Sauce Cilantro Habanero Garlic Spice Blend Salt Potassium Sorbate Xanthan Gum | I have to admit, I was a sucker for the large quantity, 12 oz, when shopping for hot sauces ...but now seeing the size of the bottle, it reminds of wing-sauce bottle sizes. But overall, not very hot or tasty, and made mostly from jalapeños. |
| 1007 | The smell at first was just like a bed of fresh roses. Even though the rose content is very minimal I found the smell overwhelming. I did not like that this brand of spices does not have a seal in place and only a loosely screwed on lid. There is no shaker lid either. You open it and it dumps. I am questioning how only a few minute pieces of roses could produce such a perfume odor. I hope it is not chemically enhanced. With the lid being loose and not sealed I have doubts about the safety of the product. | The smell at first was just like a bed of fresh roses. I did not like that this brand of spices does not have a seal in place and only a loosely screwed on lid. There is no shaker lid either. |
| 1008 | I was hoping these were more true caramels, not caramel-flavored truffles, but they're still delicious. Would definitely order them again, and maybe extra for gifts. The salt just makes them extra amazing. Bummer about the shipping-- shipping on this item is reasonable, but we bought the chocolate covered pretzels at the same time, and shipping was charged for both items even though they arrived in the same box. There wasn't even anything fancy about the packaging! edit: okay, these actually bother my stomach a little after one truffle. the package wasn't shipped with an ingredients list, and i had to go to the company site directly and find a well-hidden and hard to follow ingredients page to discover there's a lot of shady ingredients, including high fructose corn syrup. For $40 a box, I expect NO CORN SYRUP. I also don't expect propylene glycol (antifreeze) in vanilla, which I expect to be 100% vanilla beans, and NOT artificial vanillin (which sometimes comes from the anal glands of beavers). I'm disappointed in the ingredient quality. http://www.premiumchocolatiers.com/ingredient_info.php Review goes from 5 stars to 3. I'd make it 2, but the extra star is because they ARE quite delicious. | the package wasn't shipped with an ingredients list, and i had to go to the company site directly and find a well-hidden and hard to follow ingredients page to discover there's a lot of shady ingredients, including high fructose corn syrup. The salt just makes them extra amazing. Bummer about the shipping-- shipping on this item is reasonable, but we bought the chocolate covered pretzels at the same time, and shipping was charged for both items even though they arrived in the same box. I'm disappointed in the ingredient quality. http://www.premiumchocolatiers.com/ingredient_info.php Review goes from 5 stars to 3. |

| | | |
|------|--|--|
| 1016 | On a trip to Italy, muesli is what all the hotels had for breakfast as their cold cereal and I loved it. Imagine how excited I was when I saw that Kellogg's sold this product. What did I learn?: despite the similar name, this cereal is quite unlike European-style muesli. While the overall mix of grains and fruits is similar, this cereal is mostly a flake cereal, while a true muesli has no cereal flakes at all. "Real" muesli is made of rolled (not flaked) grains; this has pluses and minuses. On the plus side, milk does not turn European mueslis to mush in a couple of minutes like it does flake cereals. On the minus side, European mueslis have to be soaked in milk or yogurt for about ten minutes or so (i.e. while you are in the shower, or while the coffee is brewing) or the cereal will be a bit on the chewy side. For those that are concerned about eating processed foods, rolled grains have been processed less than flaked ones. (Rolled grains are lightly steamed and then rolled and lightly toasted; flaked grains are fully steam-cooked until they are mush, pressed into flakes, fully baked and then usually sprayed with sugar to extend "time-to-mushiness.") And certainly only the Kellogg's product contains HFCS. You owe it to yourself to try one of the many other mueslis from Amazon (or better yet, single boxes from a local health-foods store if you have one) and see what you prefer. I eat the Bob's Red Mill product available on Amazon (and one of my local grocery chains) instead of this, and am much more satisfied. I haven't tried Familia (but I'm not crazy about the idea of the "fruit flakes"), and the Dorset products are too fruit and nut heavy for me. The other products are a hair more expensive than the Kellogg's, but I'm willing to plunk down an extra dime or so per breakfast for a far superior product. I'm surprised Quaker doesn't sell a muesli product... Given that they have to be the largest producer of rolled grains in the U.S., you'd think it would be a natural fit for them. | What did I learn? While the overall mix of grains and fruits is similar, this cereal is mostly a flake cereal, while a true muesli has no cereal flakes at all. "Real" muesli is made of rolled (not flaked) grains; this has pluses and minuses. I haven't tried Familia (but I'm not crazy about the idea of the "fruit flakes"), and the Dorset products are too fruit and nut heavy for me. (Rolled grains are lightly steamed and then rolled and lightly toasted; flaked grains are fully steam-cooked until they are mush, pressed into flakes, fully baked and then usually sprayed with sugar to extend "time-to-mushiness.") |
| 1018 | I bought this product online because, although it is a Kellogg cereal, I cannot find a retail store which carries it, and incidentally I would like to know why. I called Kellogg and they could really give me no good answer, and suggested I try another product of theirs, which i found not as good as this. I appreciate that Amazon offers this, and I will continue to order it. By the way, it really keeps me "regular", better than any other cereal. Try it, you'll like it. | I called Kellogg and they could really give me no good answer, and suggested I try another product of theirs, which i found not as good as this. By the way, it really keeps me "regular", better than any other cereal. Try it, you'll like it. |
| 1023 | Have been enjoying Mueslix since early '90s. Some reason, I can not locate mueslix in local supermarkets in New York, so I order through Amazon. Taste is perfect not so sweet. I do not care too much about raisins but in this cereal I do enjoy greatly. It is enjoyable way to supplement fibers with whole grain, a perfect breakfast that lasts until lunch time! Tried all different kind & choices of many cereals out there but there is nothing like Mueslix; | Have been enjoying Mueslix since early '90s. Taste is perfect not so sweet. I do not care too much about raisins but in this cereal I do enjoy greatly. |
| 1027 | Mueslix has been my favorite cereal since it came out years ago. HOWEVER, they have (improved????) it by adding more raisins and nuts to the point of making it too rich! I simply add about half of a grain cereal, such as cornflakes which also reduces the high price. Stores keep discontinuing Mueslix to the point that it is hard to find! Thank you Amazon! | Mueslix has been my favorite cereal since it came out years ago. Stores keep discontinuing Mueslix to the point that it is hard to find! Thank you Amazon! |
| 1036 | My Mom who is in now New York, in an assisted living facility love's this ceral. She was buying Kellogg's Mueslix when she lived in Florida, but when I went to buy it for her in NY where she is, I had no luck. I called Kellogg's themselves and they directed me to Amazon.com. I was so please that they sold the ceral and I can have it shipped for free to her. I also save money on each box and I also do not have to pay for the shipping. So now you have two happy people, my mom who gets her favorite ceral shipped directly every few months(they send 5 boxes)and me for saving money and time shopping and shipping the package to my mom. | My Mom who is in now New York, in an assisted living facility love's this ceral. I called Kellogg's themselves and they directed me to Amazon.com. I was so please that they sold the ceral and I can have it shipped for free to her. |

| | | |
|------|--|---|
| 1040 | It's no secret that high fructose corn syrup is detrimental to your health. Unfortunately, it's also no secret that it has replaced other forms of sugar in a disturbingly large number of manufactured foods. Even worse is that most high fructose corn syrup is made from genetically modified corn. Since the late 1980s, HFCS has replaced regular table sugar, honey, and similar sweeteners in practically everything. Prolonged consumption of HFCS is now the topic of much debate and we are learning that it can cause long-term damage to the body. High Fructose Corn Syrup Dangers <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Significant Risk of Weight Gain & Obesity 2. Increased Risk of Developing Type-2 Diabetes 3. Hypertension and Elevated "Bad" Cholesterol Levels 4. Long-Term Liver Damage 5. Mercury Exposure from HFCS Kelloggs and other manufacturers know this and are slowly getting rid of this sweetener. Look at the cover of Post Rain Bran. They are advertising that it contains NO HIGH FRUCTOSE CORN SYRUP. I applaud them for this. High Fructose Corn Syrup is made from genetically modified corn from Monsanto which uses systemic pesticides in their seeds which is causing Colony collapse disorder in bees. I am a bee keeper and have been avoiding all products with HFCS in them to save my family and the bees. Watch vanishing of the Bees, Food Matters and Food Inc. They are all sold on Amazon. Excellent movies which will change your health dramatically and the way you think and eat. | Significant Risk of Weight Gain & Obesity <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 2. Prolonged consumption of HFCS is now the topic of much debate and we are learning that it can cause long-term damage to the body. High Fructose Corn Syrup Dangers <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Hypertension and Elevated "Bad" Cholesterol Levels 4. I am a bee keeper and have been avoiding all products with HFCS in them to save my family and the bees. |
| 1044 | Wow, this is soooo good and has easily become my favorite dressing! I typically make my own dressings, however I do use this one as a treat! It was given to me as a gift and I absolutely love it! It's a perfect balance of sweet and oily and bitter. Granted, it needs a good shaking since it's oil based! I absolutely love this and am sad I am running out! If you eat salads like me every day, then you will want this dressing! It's unique and I NEVER had somebody over who didn't love it! :) | Wow, this is soooo good and has easily become my favorite dressing! I typically make my own dressings, however I do use this one as a treat! It was given to me as a gift and I absolutely love it! It's unique and I NEVER had somebody over who didn't love it! |
| 1045 | i bought the liter size bottles of this dressing on Amazon, so i am assuming they are the same since they have the same name and the nutritional facts are identical. This dressing is definitely too sweet for my taste. My wife agrees. Otherwise very good. I use it on tossed salads only. | i bought the liter size bottles of this dressing on Amazon, so i am assuming they are the same since they have the same name and the nutritional facts are identical. This dressing is definitely too sweet for my taste. My wife agrees. |
| 1047 | This coffee company delivers on great coffee taste!! I like my coffee with deep, robust taste and Jeremiah's always is!! It makes me glad to purchase it!! Thanks!! | This coffee company delivers on great coffee taste!! I like my coffee with deep, robust taste and Jeremiah's always is!! |
| 1051 | This is the first time I've used the coconut oil from Manila Coco Factory and I was so pleased with the taste, smell and overall incredible quality that I will buy more and recommend it to my family and friends. I am so glad I tried it. I have been using coconut oil for several years and it has changed my life and health. This oil ranks high in my book. Also, I liked ordering this product through amazon because they make it fast, easy and painless. Thank you for having this product on your site Amazon. | I am so glad I tried it. This is the first time I've used the coconut oil from Manila Coco Factory and I was so pleased with the taste, smell and overall incredible quality that I will buy more and recommend it to my family and friends. This oil ranks high in my book. |

| | | |
|------|---|---|
| 1052 | They claim this product is "unadulterated", which would make you think "oh! sweet! it's going to be the BEST, because nobody else's coconut oil says it's "unadulterated". I checked out their website, and for those of you who don't know... you want to go for COLD PRESSED oils. If they're not cold pressed, it means they've been processed with major machinery and subjected to high heats, which as anything goes, can and usually does, kill any good minerals and vitamins. Their site posts information on their extraction process. As of today, this is what it states: "Manila Coco oil extraction method is through a proprietary, state-of-the-art mechanical expeller (Manila VirginFlo), thermo-stable to hold off the lowest moisture possible (0.1%) to avoid rancidity and keep shelf life consistent up to 3 years under normal conditions. Our oils are 1st and 2nd stage press-induced, without chemical solvents, no bleaching, no deodorizing, no hydrogenation, no fermentation enzymes - to keep its natural light sweet coconut aroma and taste. This method sustains its unique character even when subjected to high (up to 170 degrees Celsius) heat temperatures." Mechanical Expeller is their form of extraction. And they also say it sustains unique character... blah blah blah... when subjected to high heat temperatures. Therefore, in my personal opinion, it is not as "unadulterated" as their information on their products on Amazon make them sound. I will be steering clear of their products. I'm sorry if my review offends some, but if you're going to pay good money for something, you should know about it. I would use different brands before sticking yourself with this one. I was looking for larger quantities, which is why I looked at this product, however I will be sticking with Nutiva. As their coconut oil is cold pressed soon after the coconuts are cut open. The information below is direct from their website. "What makes Nutiva's virgin coconut oil so special? Much of the magic lies in the way the oil is processed. Within several hours of the coconuts being chopped, the meat is cold-pressed, unlike other varieties of coconut oil which can be left for more than 10 hours before pressing. Nutiva's approach preserves as much of the oil's natural color, flavor and aroma, giving you the best results for any use." If you don't care about how it's processed, it is still going to be much healthier than your average grocery store found vegetable and canola oils. If you want to read some scary things, look up the dark information on how those are processed. YUCK! Talk about horrifying. Thank you for your time. -Amy PS. I used to be one of those "organic? what kind of fruitcake are you? Think you're more special than anybody else?" people. But I have learned so much in the past year and a half, dealing with my son's allergies and intollerances. There's more to it than "oh it's more expensive, so it's just making me feel special because I can afford it." No. There's WAY more to it than that. I urge everybody to talk to people about organic foods. It's a way of life, a healthier way of life. We all deserve to live healthier. If you live healthier, even though it costs more, in the long term you're saving money because you are healthier. So that means less doctor visits, less expensive (and nasty harmful) medications, etc. | If they're not cold pressed, it means they've been processed with major machinery and subjected to high heats, which as anything goes, can and usually does, kill any good minerals and vitamins. Talk about horrifying. Thank you for your time. -Amy PS. As their coconut oil is cold pressed soon after the coconuts are cut open. I checked out their website, and for those of you who don't know... you want to go for COLD PRESSED oils. And they also say it sustains unique character... blah blah blah... when subjected to high heat temperatures. it's going to be the BEST, because nobody else's coconut oil says it's "unadulterated". |
| 1053 | I ordered the White Christmas, Christmas Eve, and Christmas Morning blends last year for the holidays and fell in love with the Christmas eve. It's the smoothest of the bunch and has such a wonderful flavor, I use it for iced teas all year round. I can honestly say that I never got into tea that much until I tried STASH teas. I sent the licorice and lemon flavors to my father, and he called me to ask where I'd gotten it, because his neighbor wanted to get some for his wife, too. Once tried, you will be addicted. Visit the stashtea website for lots of tea related bits and baubles. These make perfect hostess gifts over the holidays along with a plate of cookies. | It's the smoothest of the bunch and has such a wonderful flavor, I use it for iced teas all year round. I can honestly say that I never got into tea that much until I tried STASH teas. Visit the stashtea website for lots of tea related bits and baubles. |

| | | |
|------|--|---|
| 1055 | Christmas Eve tea (which does not actually contain tea) is not just for Christmas Eve. (Although if you are frazzled, it does releave the stress.) Christmas Eve is good any time. I do not know anyone who doesn't like it, and have often given it as gifts. It is especially nice in the winter when mint teas are a little too brisk and do not produce the same level of cozy comfort as Christmas Eve which is a soothing combination of spices and mint. It is almost as comforting as a cup of warm milk, but without the calories. | Christmas Eve tea (which does not actually contain tea) is not just for Christmas Eve. I do not know anyone who doesn't like it, and have often given it as gifts. It is almost as comforting as a cup of warm milk, but without the calories. |
| 1056 | Riba foods based in Houston, Texas makes this awesome black bean dip. It is pretty much all natural and without the lard that regular refried bean dip has in it. I am not sure why in Dallas TX it's so hard to find - maybe because Riba has SO Many good flavors??? I make the traditional 7-layer dip with this instead of the refried beans, and am thinking about creating a breakfast quesadilla with this and some verde sauce. Try it, it's not too too spicy but is very good! | Riba foods based in Houston, Texas makes this awesome black bean dip. I make the traditional 7-layer dip with this instead of the refried beans, and am thinking about creating a breakfast quesadilla with this and some verde sauce. I am not sure why in Dallas TX it's so hard to find - maybe because Riba has SO Many good flavors??? |
| 1058 | The Good: Walker shortbread cookies are my favorite, I love them. I bought the highlanders and each set of cookies came individually wrapped with two cookies each. If this were the end of it, a five star review. The Bad: Unfortunately, Amazon shipped them in a box that was about the same size as the container they came in from the Walkers cookie company. After UPS was through with the shipment, my cookies were reduced to crumbs. I contacted Amazon about this problem without ever receiving a response. Since I bought these "Shipped and Sold by Amazon", I won't be purchasing these cookies from Amazon again. | I bought the highlanders and each set of cookies came individually wrapped with two cookies each. If this were the end of it, a five star review. The Bad: Unfortunately, Amazon shipped them in a box that was about the same size as the container they came in from the Walkers cookie company. I contacted Amazon about this problem without ever receiving a response. |
| 1059 | Walkers Shortbread Highlander Shortbread Portion Pack, 1.4 Ounce Units (Pack of 24) My family loves these! It's a great 'snack' to carry in the car or it's a wonderful surprise in a lunchbag. The flavor is so rich and pure...I forgot how wonderful these shortbread cookies were. And the price is nice, too...as well as Amazon.com . I love this place! | Walkers Shortbread Highlander Shortbread Portion Pack, 1.4 Ounce Units (Pack of 24) My family loves these! The flavor is so rich and pure...I forgot how wonderful these shortbread cookies were. It's a great 'snack' to carry in the car or it's a wonderful surprise in a lunchbag. |
| 1062 | My cookies were in such tiny broken pieces ,they were useless. Upon complaint, a second mailing arrived several weeks later. The cookies were again in crumbs. The cookies were packed in a box with a pitiful single air bubble. I gave this feedback and expected some effort to improve on the packing. But no, same packaging, same useless cookies. Having enjoyed these Highlanders in the past, it was both a disappointment and a big waste of money. | Upon complaint, a second mailing arrived several weeks later. Having enjoyed these Highlanders in the past, it was both a disappointment and a big waste of money. But no, same packaging, same useless cookies. |

| | | |
|------|--|--|
| 1064 | Yes, these cubes are expensive; in fact, I almost gave them four stars for the expense. Regardless, these sugar cubes are my favorite sugar product. I've tried every brown sugar and cane sugar product you can find on Amazon and in your grocery store, and none of them compare to the rich, sweet, unique flavor of the brown sugar cubes by La Perruche. Because I've tried so many brown sugar products, I believe the difference is the terroir, or the ground/land, where this sugar is grown. La Perruche sugar cubes are made from African grown sugar; more specifically, sugar grown in Swaziland and/or the Congo. Also, the cubes are denser than many sugar cubes. I don't know from a scientific perspective how this is accomplished, but the cubes are not regularly sized, but are large and irregularly shaped, and heavier/sturdier than "cut" cubes by other producers. The flavor is a rich, distinct and more molasses-y flavor than other brown sugar cubes, and is somewhat darker as well. I wish I could describe the flavor better, but it has been several months since I was able to find a somewhat affordable supply. BTW, now that this product is being sold with free shipping via Amazon Prime, I just purchased several boxes - it is a much better deal as of the date of this review than it was a few months ago. Recommended! | Regardless, these sugar cubes are my favorite sugar product. I don't know from a scientific perspective how this is accomplished, but the cubes are not regularly sized, but are large and irregularly shaped, and heavier/sturdier than "cut" cubes by other producers. The flavor is a rich, distinct and more molasses-y flavor than other brown sugar cubes, and is somewhat darker as well. BTW, now that this product is being sold with free shipping via Amazon Prime, I just purchased several boxes - it is a much better deal as of the date of this review than it was a few months ago. |
| 1068 | Due to my husband's and son's inability to eat gluten, cornstarch is used very frequently in many gluten free recipes. I am very concerned with the prolific use of GMOs in corn especially and my family's increased consumption of it. I wanted to find an affordable GMO free cornstarch product to use in all my baking. Rumford Natural Cornstarch is the one! I've been using it for months now with great success & satisfaction. | I wanted to find an affordable GMO free cornstarch product to use in all my baking. I've been using it for months now with great success & satisfaction. Rumford Natural Cornstarch is the one! |

| | | |
|------|---|---|
| 1069 | I purchased this product because of its name, "Rumford NATURALS Corn Starch" (the word "Naturals" appears large and clear on the pictured product label). Also, the Amazon description said it was made from "Non-Genetically Modified Corn". The label on the product that I ACTUALLY received does NOT say Rumford NATURALS, but it is still MADE WITH Non-Genetically Modified Corn. I say "made with" because this product now contains more than ONE ingredient. Its ingredients are: Cornstarch, Calcium Sulfate*, and ONE of the suggested servings (1 Tblsp) contains 15% of the "Daily Value" of CALCIUM. That makes this product potentially a good source for dietary calcium supplementation. ON THE OTHER HAND, for persons who must restrict their calcium intake (example, some persons with kidney stones), it can pose a potential problem, even danger. Amazon provides themselves with a nice "out" for this. They list the following: Legal Disclaimer: "Actual product packaging and materials may contain more and different information than what is shown on our website. We recommend that you do not rely solely on the information presented and that you always read labels, warnings, and directions before using or consuming a product." BUT, IT IS NOT FAIR FOR AMAZON TO NOT AT LEAST LIST THE CORRECT INGREDIENTS AND PHOTO OF THE PACKAGE SO THAT YOU DO NOT HAVE TO ORDER THE PRODUCT IN ORDER TO "READ LABELS" AND FIND OUT WHAT YOU HAVE PURCHASED. I WILL NOT BUY THIS PRODUCT AGAIN: * because I don't need extra calcium * because I don't believe that the Calcium Sulfate was added out of interest in the consumer's health but to make the product cheaper to produce so it can be priced competitively with other brands and still be touted as having been made from/with Non-Genetically Modified Corn and just on principal because I can't afford to throw it away and did not want the hassle of returning it. I am very, very displeased with Amazon's incorrect listing of the product, which was brought to their attention when I purchased it in February 2012, and so far nothing has been done. Although Calcium Sulfate is considered a safe food additive it is basically the same thing as Plaster of Paris. AND, if you use too much of this product (basically the same amount as I had previous used of pure CORN STARCH), the very stiff sediment in the bottom of the cooking container (I make pudding in Pyrex in a microwave and usually stir it only every 30 seconds) will remind you of damp plaster! | I purchased this product because of its name, "Rumford NATURALS Corn Starch" (the word "Naturals" appears large and clear on the pictured product label). Its ingredients are: Cornstarch, Calcium Sulfate, and ONE of the suggested servings (1 Tblsp) contains 15% of the "Daily Value" of CALCIUM. AND, if you use too much of this product (basically the same amount as I had previous used of pure CORN STARCH), the very stiff sediment in the bottom of the cooking container (I make pudding in Pyrex in a microwave and usually stir it only every 30 seconds) will remind you of damp plaster! We recommend that you do not rely solely on the information presented and that you always read labels, warnings, and directions before using or consuming a product." |
| 1072 | These things are AWESOME. Perfect size, truly wafer thin, consistent thickness of dark chocolate over minty interior. They are like what would happen if you could run a steamroller over a junior mint. I first tried them when I was living in Germany 16 years ago, and to this day no other mint comes close. And the copycat ones? Disgusting. Go for the original. You won't regret it. Each mint is in its own sleeve, so you can pass them out without ever touching one. Elegant and delicious. Love them! | These things are AWESOME. Perfect size, truly wafer thin, consistent thickness of dark chocolate over minty interior. They are like what would happen if you could run a steamroller over a junior mint. |
| 1073 | Love these mints. They melt in your mouth and taste better than any others I have tried. Just wish they weren't so expensive. You can't eat just one, a couple. They are addictively delicious. | Love these mints. You can't eat just one, a couple. They are addictively delicious. |
| 1075 | A friend's favorite candy is "After Eight", but they are not available anywhere in my area. I couldn't find them on-line either. Amazon.com came through. These are imported from England and the most delicious peppermint. These are so thin with a smooth mint cream center and a dark chocolate shell. If you just want a little taste of mint, this is for you. Really special with a cup of hot coffee! | A friend's favorite candy is "After Eight", but they are not available anywhere in my area. Amazon.com came through. Really special with a cup of hot coffee! |

| | | |
|------|---|---|
| 1076 | Nature's Recipe is now a division of that mega company Del Monte Foods. The Test The neat thing about this food is that it really does look like the photograph on the bag. It consists of smallish kibble with pieces of dried carrots and peas mixed in. When the bag was first opened the girls ate small amounts of Farm Selects unmixed and readily took to it. Since then they've been eating it mixed with their Blue food. I thought Evie and Piper might fuss with the dried vegetables in there, but they don't specifically target the vegetables to leave behind. The quality of this food is obvious to one who reads the ingredient list. Only one ingredient, that animal digest, makes me cringe a little. The girls don't mind it a bit. For goodness alone I can heartily recommend this natural food, but the price on it is relatively high. Rachel Ray's dry dog food, for example, is about half the price of Farm Stands Selects, and Buffalo Blue is about the same price. For a household like ours with three dogs, the Farm Stands Selects is too pricey to feed the girls exclusively. We'd feel obliged to mix another good, but less expensive food with it. For those with one pet and for whom money is not an issue, I say you can't go wrong with Farm Selects. | It consists of smallish kibble with pieces of dried carrots and peas mixed in. Only one ingredient, that animal digest, makes me cringe a little. The girls don't mind it a bit. Since then they've been eating it mixed with their Blue food. I thought Evie and Piper might fuss with the dried vegetables in there, but they don't specifically target the vegetables to leave behind. The quality of this food is obvious to one who reads the ingredient list. |
| 1077 | You will not find a better loose green tea for the price. I was able to get free shipping as well since I bought it with something else that totaled over $25. This is the tea used by many Japanese people. Do not fall for those high-priced "organic" green teas produced by American companies. They are good...but you are not getting anything better than Hime Ban Cha Tea. | I was able to get free shipping as well since I bought it with something else that totaled over $25. This is the tea used by many Japanese people. Do not fall for those high-priced "organic" green teas produced by American companies. |
| 1078 | This is the favorite green tea in our household. Been using it for years. Was happy to find it here on Amazon, otherwise we had to travel about forty miles to an oriental grocery store to purchase it. Can't even buy any leaf tea of any kind in regular grocery stores any more. By the way "Ban Cha" in Japan simply means common or everyday tea. Not ceremonial. | This is the favorite green tea in our household. Been using it for years. Was happy to find it here on Amazon, otherwise we had to travel about forty miles to an oriental grocery store to purchase it. |
| 1079 | I love this tea!! It is so flavorful yet there is no cut grass or off flavor as with some green teas. It is so mild that even left steeping it does not become bitter.It has a very mellow flavor that my kids enjoy too.It's great without sweeteners. It is a loose leaf tea and when steeped the leaves unfurl,long and slender. A little tea goes a long way. Enjoy! | I love this tea!! It is so flavorful yet there is no cut grass or off flavor as with some green teas. |
| 1081 | This is the real deal. Genmai Cha. Loose green tea and roasted brown rice. Not in bags. Originally known as the "Peoples Tea" for those who couldn't afford better. Very popular because of its mild flavor. You can drink it all day long (like I do). You won't be disappointed. | Genmai Cha. Not in bags. You can drink it all day long (like I do). |
| 1083 | All my fault. I thought this would be a carton of 3 boxes of cereal. Instead it was 1 box of cereal for 12.99. Who sells cereal for this price plus $8.00 shipping ? I feel stupid! Buyer Beware! | All my fault. I thought this would be a carton of 3 boxes of cereal. |
| 1085 | I ordered both the beef and Turkey flavors. My dogs would not even take these in their mouths. Both flavors were very dry and had no real aroma to them. Try a small quantity first. i donated the entire order to the Humane Society. | My dogs would not even take these in their mouths. i donated the entire order to the Humane Society. Both flavors were very dry and had no real aroma to them. |

| | | |
|------|--|---|
| 1090 | I originally ordered two teas from Art of Tea - the Silver Needles and the Coconut Creme. When my package came in, they had shipped the Coconut Creme and mistakenly bundled it with this Mandarin Silk tea by accident. I contacted Amazon and they refunded the Silver Needles and told me I could "dispose of the Mandarin Silk Oolong as I saw fit." Well, since I'm never one to turn down tea, I chose to dispose of it by, well, drinking it. This isn't a bad tea, first off. I don't have too much experience with oolongs, but I do like the flavor of this. However, I don't taste too much of the mandarin. It almost tastes sort of like a straight green tea, and it has a similar light green/yellow color. I drink it with a little honey. All in all, it's a decent tea. I don't think I'll order it again, but I'll certainly finish off this tin. | When my package came in, they had shipped the Coconut Creme and mistakenly bundled it with this Mandarin Silk tea by accident. Well, since I'm never one to turn down tea, I chose to dispose of it by, well, drinking it. This isn't a bad tea, first off. It almost tastes sort of like a straight green tea, and it has a similar light green/yellow color. |
| 1091 | These are identical to "Jay's hot chips" (are they made by the same company?). They have a slightly sweet taste, with a nice bit of heat. Definately not overwhelming heat, on a heat scale of 1-5, I would give these about a 2. Regarding the texture, these are not kettle cooked chips, so they do not have much crunch, they are comparable to regular Lays chips. For about $1 a bag, they are a great deal. | These are identical to "Jay's hot chips" (are they made by the same company?). For about $1 a bag, they are a great deal. Regarding the texture, these are not kettle cooked chips, so they do not have much crunch, they are comparable to regular Lays chips. |
| 1092 | I first had these Uncle Ray's chips a few years ago while traveling out west. I tracked them down on Amazon and recognized the name. They are just as good as I remember: smoky sweet with just enough kick, and there's adequate seasoning on all of the chips. Each bag also has a little story, courtesy of Uncle Ray, that usually has some moral message or anecdote. They are pretty funny, but not intentionally. My only problem with these chips is their texture. They're a bit thin, and there's not much of a crunchy texture. Otherwise, these are good chips and well worth trying out. | Each bag also has a little story, courtesy of Uncle Ray, that usually has some moral message or anecdote. They are pretty funny, but not intentionally. They are just as good as I remember: smoky sweet with just enough kick, and there's adequate seasoning on all of the chips. |
| 1093 | I am from Michigan but have a vacation home in Canada. I have always been a fan of the primarily Canadian product "ketchup chips". Uncle Rays is a brand I've seen around there frequently. Since this is such a hard to find product I expected to pay big bucks to buy it online. Imagine my surprise when I found these chips on Amazon for a little over a dollar a bag- CHEAPER than the retail I would pay in Canada. Unbelievably delicious! Ps. The dill pickle chips are really good too :) | Imagine my surprise when I found these chips on Amazon for a little over a dollar a bag- CHEAPER than the retail I would pay in Canada. Uncle Rays is a brand I've seen around there frequently. Unbelievably delicious! |
| 1094 | Mine came with stickers to sell them for $1.59 but they cost more like $1.25 so if for retail that is not much of a mark up. I bought these for myself so that doesn't really matter and they are cheap. Similar to Lay's but cheaper. Unlike other knockoffs these seemed to taste fresher and the convenient size minimizes stale chips. Great product. Great price. | Mine came with stickers to sell them for $1.59 but they cost more like $1.25 so if for retail that is not much of a mark up. Unlike other knockoffs these seemed to taste fresher and the convenient size minimizes stale chips. |
| 1096 | These are some of my favorite chips on the planet! They are light, crisp, & not too greasy. The flavor is very Dilly. Love that! Great chips. Just hard to find. | These are some of my favorite chips on the planet! They are light, crisp, & not too greasy. |
| 1097 | These chips are really good. They taste better than other name brands. They're cheaper too!! They aren't too salty like other brands. The flavors blend really well. Just the right amount of sour cream and onion flavor with a little salt mixed in. Once I start eating them, it's hard to stop!! LOL I will definitely be buying these potato chips rather than another name brand. Not sure if I can state the name brand or not. :) | LOL I will definitely be buying these potato chips rather than another name brand. The flavors blend really well. Once I start eating them, it's hard to stop!! |
| 1100 | We have ordered Uncle Rays BBQ chips many times before. Always been pleased, except this order! Just NOT the same Seasoning as usual. Generally lacked much for taste! Not sure if they have reduced the seasoning, in their processing? But out of case we bought, we have opened and thrown away 3 bags already, VERY disappointed with this order! | We have ordered Uncle Rays BBQ chips many times before. Generally lacked much for taste! But out of case we bought, we have opened and thrown away 3 bags already, VERY disappointed with this order! |

| | | |
|------|--|---|
| 1101 | I have loved ketchup flavored potato chips since I was a kid and spent my summers at my grandparents in Canada. This is a very popular flavor there and seems to be always available. I recently got back from a trip to Montreal, where I ate at least a pack a day. I decided I really wanted some around and was happy when I found these on Amazon. Unfortunately, the flavor is nowhere close to the brands I've tried before. There's a sort of smoky, barbeque sauce thing going on. Not that they're as good as BBQ potato chips (which I love), they just don't taste like ketchup. I tried to get through a bag over a couple of weeks to see if they would grow on me, then just threw them all out. Yuck! | I tried to get through a bag over a couple of weeks to see if they would grow on me, then just threw them all out. I have loved ketchup flavored potato chips since I was a kid and spent my summers at my grandparents in Canada. There's a sort of smoky, barbeque sauce thing going on. |
| 1105 | I love uncle ray's potatoe chips. They have alot of spice on each chip. They taste spicy with a tang of sweet. When I order a box, I pass them out to friends who love them. My husband, my kids and I eat a whole bag at a time. I limit myself to ordering only twice ayear. The salt content makes me blow up, but I still love them. | They taste spicy with a tang of sweet. The salt content makes me blow up, but I still love them. I limit myself to ordering only twice ayear. |
| 1106 | I LOVE Old Dutch Ketchup chips but they are no where to be found in the US and pricey on eBay. I tried Herr's but they were dull - very ketchupy but not the tangy-vinigary ketchup bite that Old Dutch has (makes your mouth hurt in a good way if you eat too many!). Uncle Rays are decent - more of a kick - many "loaded" chips which I like, still, not the addictive bite I love. So - if you love Herr's these may be too much for you. If you love Old Dutch give these a shot. I am still on my quest for something equal to Old Dutch!! | Uncle Rays are decent - more of a kick - many "loaded" chips which I like, still, not the addictive bite I love. So - if you love Herr's these may be too much for you. If you love Old Dutch give these a shot. |
| 1107 | I confess, I was originally looking at a different "name" brand, but they were out of the salt and vinegar, which is the only flavor I eat. I had never even heard of Uncle Ray's, let alone tried them, but the price was reasonable and it helped me qualify for free super saver shipping. I am happy to say I was very pleasantly surprised with these chips. Somehow or another, even though they just seem to be in a normal box, when I opened that first bag I had a nice mix of big chips and little chips. The salt and vinegar blend well, so much so that the flavors sometimes sneak up on you-- it sometimes seems that with the first crunch you taste salt and the second crunch gives the vinegar. In any case, they're terrific. I was a little reluctant about buying a somewhat large quantity of an unknown product, but I'm very glad I took the chance. | I am happy to say I was very pleasantly surprised with these chips. I confess, I was originally looking at a different "name" brand, but they were out of the salt and vinegar, which is the only flavor I eat. I was a little reluctant about buying a somewhat large quantity of an unknown product, but I'm very glad I took the chance. |
| 1108 | It's difficult to purchase "no-salt" potato chips at most retail stores, so I ordered a case of 3 ounce bags of Uncle Rays. They are great. Not oily and they taste great. You get the potato flavor instead of just salt. I'll be buying these from now on! | They are great. It's difficult to purchase "no-salt" potato chips at most retail stores, so I ordered a case of 3 ounce bags of Uncle Rays. Not oily and they taste great. |
| 1110 | These had heat and had good enough coating of the seasoning. The first 2 cases were amazing best i had ever. Then they restocked and tried 4-5 cases and they taste either like plain chips or slight hint of seasoning on them. What a shame they seemed to cut back on quality to save money. Bad Uncle Ray! | The first 2 cases were amazing best i had ever. Then they restocked and tried 4-5 cases and they taste either like plain chips or slight hint of seasoning on them. Bad Uncle Ray! |
| 1111 | The flavor combination of the ketchup chips was very good. However, the coating was applied so heavily that the chips were gritty, and thickly encrusted with it. The flavoring grit coated my lips and mouth with grit and crumbled and fell off all over my clothes. Messy and unpleasant. Needs lighter flavor coating. | The flavoring grit coated my lips and mouth with grit and crumbled and fell off all over my clothes. Messy and unpleasant. Needs lighter flavor coating. |

| | | |
|------|--|--|
| 1113 | Bought Uncle Ray's Wavy's 16 oz potato chips because purchased Uncle Ray's 16 oz barbque potato chips in the past and was very pleased. Oh how wrong we were. Do not purchase the Wavy's chips!!!!!!!!! They are the quality of buying a no name bag of chips from a roadside service station store; broken, brown, very poor quality. Very, very disappointed. DO NOT.....DO NOT.....DO NOT purchase Uncle Ray's 16 oz Wavy potato chips OCTOBER 03, 2012 Bought Uncle Ray's sour cream and onion flavored chips for the 5th shipment with extreme disappointment. The other (4) four shipments were very good which is why we continued to buy this flavor. The additive that when you like an item and start to buy a lot, it will change for the worse is proving to be true for us. This shipment of chips are awful. Bags are extremely deflated, so was expecting to be stale; however, was not so - cannot not explain the semi-flat bags. Chips seem to be the bottom of the barrel flakes. You know when you try to salt your food and the top comes off, the seasoning on these chips is like that. It appears that the top came off a full bottle or these are the bottom of the barrel crumbled chips where the seasoning has covered the chips too, too much. . We just opened (3)three bags just now because the first bags was awful, opened second bag - awful, opened 3rd bag - also was awful. LEFT WITH 6 MORE ,PROBABLY NOT EDIBLE, BAGS. THE CHIPS REALLY APPEAR TO BE THE NOT SO FRESH, BURNED/BOTTOM OF THE BARREL, GET RID OF LEFTOVERS. VERY, VERY, DISAPPOINTED. WILL NOT BUY AGAIN!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! | DO NOT.....DO NOT.....DO NOT purchase Uncle Ray's 16 oz Wavy potato chips OCTOBER 03, 2012 Bought Uncle Ray's sour cream and onion flavored chips for the 5th shipment with extreme disappointment. The other (4) four shipments were very good which is why we continued to buy this flavor. The additive that when you like an item and start to buy a lot, it will change for the worse is proving to be true for us. It appears that the top came off a full bottle or these are the bottom of the barrel crumbled chips where the seasoning has covered the chips too, too much. Very, very disappointed. We just opened (3)three bags just now because the first bags was awful, opened second bag - awful, opened 3rd bag - also was awful. |
| 1114 | I have now tried both the Ocean Fish and Tuna and the Duck and Chicken variety of this food. My cat seems to prefer the taste of the duck and chicken a little better, but I will probably rotate them both because of the health benefits he's gotten (especially from the ocean fish and tuna) that have included a softer coat and less scratching and biting of himself and shedding. Also, with this food, he doesn't drink much water, but still goes potty alot, so I feel good that he's getting plenty of fluids in his diet. My only complaint with this brand, and why I only give it 4 stars, is that it has little pieces of potato? and whole peas in it, which my cat eats around and ends up being wasteful, which I don't like given the price. Not that big of a deal, but it is a minor inconvenience that I have to clean leftover bits out after each feeding as opposed to just washing his empty bowl daily. (In case you are wondering, it is approximately 4 to 6 whole pea/1.5 pea size potato? bits per 1/4 to 1/2 can.) | I have now tried both the Ocean Fish and Tuna and the Duck and Chicken variety of this food. and whole peas in it, which my cat eats around and ends up being wasteful, which I don't like given the price. bits per 1/4 to 1/2 can.) |

| | | |
|------|---|---|
| 1119 | Just in case, if anyone doesn't know what WHITE tea is, as opposed to green or black, let's quote Wikipedia: "white tea is fast-dried, while green tea is roasted in an oven or pan (while kept moving for even curing). Oolong and black teas are fermented before curing." What does it mean? For me, it translates into my favorite beverage to start the day with and to keep me going through the day. Objectively and scientifically speaking, white tea is said to have more anti-oxidants and less caffeine so, in my view, it's overall better than coffee or the black or green varieties. This particular product, while it comes in tea bags, it's not exactly your 'supermarket' variety. Unlike the cheap teas, black, green, herbal or white that are delivered crushed inside paper bags, the 'Choice' brand is delivered in pyramid shaped, biodegradable, nylon-like bags that ensure that what you get is actual leaves, not some indistinct crushed powder. This being a white tea, 'delicate' and 'subtle' and the required adjectives to use but they may not apply in this case. I found the added flowers to be a little too strong, bordering to overpowering for my taste. The Lychee and Osmanthus aromas can be an acquired taste - think of sweet, green apples for an equivalent more familiar aroma. If it's not 'love at the first sip', give it some time and you may not only tolerate it but prefer it to other flavors. Or not. INGREDIENTS: - organic, fair trade certified White Tea - natural Lychee flavor - organic Osmanthus flavor - contains caffeine The somewhat off-balance added flavors and the premium price are not likely to turn me into a repeat customer. Time will tell but at this time 3 stars (meaning 'it's Okay') seem to be the fair rating. | Oolong and black teas are fermented before curing." What does it mean? Objectively and scientifically speaking, white tea is said to have more anti-oxidants and less caffeine so, in my view, it's overall better than coffee or the black or green varieties. This particular product, while it comes in tea bags, it's not exactly your 'supermarket' variety. If it's not 'love at the first sip', give it some time and you may not only tolerate it but prefer it to other flavors. |
| 1120 | As soon as I opened the teabag envelope, the smell was truly Divine Nasal Candy :-). As good as the bag and the lingering scent on the envelope smelled, the tea proved to be rather bitter. I may have steeped it too long, so will see if the bitterness abates steeping less. However, as I prefer milk or cream products in flower teas, the bitterness was soon dispelled with a little soy creamer and an enjoyable cup was had. Lychee is truly a wonderful flavor for tea. I suspect the flowers added to this lychee tea may contribute to the bitterness in the straight tea. Will definitely reorder. | As good as the bag and the lingering scent on the envelope smelled, the tea proved to be rather bitter. However, as I prefer milk or cream products in flower teas, the bitterness was soon dispelled with a little soy creamer and an enjoyable cup was had. Will definitely reorder. |
| 1127 | Even though the item says "Pack of 6," I only received one. I called them up to see where the other 5 were, and they said that Amazon put it incorrectly. Seriously?? They are issuing a refund, but still. I wanted 6, which is what the item says, and instead and only getting the 1. Should we just not trust what's on Amazon now??? | They are issuing a refund, but still. Seriously?? I wanted 6, which is what the item says, and instead and only getting the 1. |
| 1132 | My cats (7 of them) love this food so I was glad to see Amazon is carrying it again. The local stores do not carry a 15 lb bag, only the 3.5lbs and 12 lbs. This food is sealed very well, and is fresh. I have tried expensive brands and really cheapo brands of cat food, and so far 9 lives agrees very well with my cats. This food does not "rifle" through them or cause overly offensive litter pan odors (like cheapo cat food) and their digestive and urinary tracts are all healthy. My cats ages range from 3 years to 18 years old, and believe me, this 9 Lives brand and flavor are something they all like. The price is a really good deal especially for prime as the shipping is free. I also buy the lams in the orange bag for my cats for a variety and putting some of that in a bowl dry as well as wetted down with water in another bowl is something they really love. Again, no intestinal issues or litter pan issues as they have been eating this combination for several years now. If you do try this, or switch your cat(s) over, be patient as it may take a week or so for your cats digestive system to adjust. In the end, I think you will be very pleased with the quality and price. Also, we used to take in foster cats, and fed them this 9 Lives brand, and they all did very well. | In the end, I think you will be very pleased with the quality and price. Also, we used to take in foster cats, and fed them this 9 Lives brand, and they all did very well. Again, no intestinal issues or litter pan issues as they have been eating this combination for several years now. If you do try this, or switch your cat(s) over, be patient as it may take a week or so for your cats digestive system to adjust. This food does not "rifle" through them or cause overly offensive litter pan odors (like cheapo cat food) and their digestive and urinary tracts are all healthy. |

| | | |
|------|---|---|
| 1135 | There are 4 kittens that started hanging outside the house and I started feeding them. Rather than buying the smaller bags, this is a great value for multiple cats. The kittens love the food and always look forward to eating it. Shipped right to your door. Can't go wrong with that! | The kittens love the food and always look forward to eating it. Shipped right to your door. Can't go wrong with that! |
| 1136 | I purchase 2 15 pound bags of 9 Lives Daily Essentials a month for my daughter's cats. They love it. She says they often gather around the carton and wait for her to open it. They know what's in there and can't wait for it to be opened. If the cats love it, we love it. Isn't that how it goes? | I purchase 2 15 pound bags of 9 Lives Daily Essentials a month for my daughter's cats. If the cats love it, we love it. They know what's in there and can't wait for it to be opened. |
| 1139 | I have 6 feral cats that I trapped, neutered/spayed and released. They still hang around our property so of course we feed them. They really like 9 lives and I believe it is good for them. Being old and my husband handicapped, it is so easy for us to have it delivered right to our door step instead of wrestling with the bags at the store and unloading when we get home. I am very satisfied with the product and Amazon. The subscribe and save option is even better as I don't have to remember to order it. | I have 6 feral cats that I trapped, neutered/spayed and released. Being old and my husband handicapped, it is so easy for us to have it delivered right to our door step instead of wrestling with the bags at the store and unloading when we get home. I am very satisfied with the product and Amazon. |
| 1140 | My two cats love this cat food more than the kirkland signature brand. It's also very cheap and affordable cat food at walmart. I would recommend this cat food over meow mix or friskies any day. Get 9lives dry cat food. It's one of the better brands out there. | My two cats love this cat food more than the kirkland signature brand. Get 9lives dry cat food. It's one of the better brands out there. |
| 1143 | i love these pop. these are rather small pops about 1/2 the size of a tootsie pop. they come in many flavors. i think this bag is great in the long run. 300 just think Halloween. | i love these pop. they come in many flavors. i think this bag is great in the long run. |
| 1146 | Not paying attention, I thought this product was simply vanilla extract when I purchased it, tried it in my coffee, and got a shock. Yummy! I had to go examine the bottle, and realized my yummy mistake. I wonder what glycerin is, what it's made of...? is it a fat? At any rate, it is delicious! | Not paying attention, I thought this product was simply vanilla extract when I purchased it, tried it in my coffee, and got a shock. I had to go examine the bottle, and realized my yummy mistake. |
| 1150 | I just received these bricks today and was very disappointed to find that BOTH of the bricks were broken and unusable as a serving/cooking plate. They were busted completed in half. They were packaged in one sleeve of small bubble wrap in a shallow box with no other protection or packaging in the box. I went online to try and return them and they are not eligible for return. This is the first return I've ever tried to do in over 7 years of purchasing items off of amazon (to the tune of several orders a month!) and yet the one time that I want to return a defective product, I can't do it. I will be much more careful about what is eligible for returns and what isn't in the future. | They were busted completed in half. I just received these bricks today and was very disappointed to find that BOTH of the bricks were broken and unusable as a serving/cooking plate. and yet the one time that I want to return a defective product, I can't do it. |
| 1151 | Excellent in cereal, or on top icecream sundae. I use them in my ramen noodle hot/sour soup as well. very very GOOD. almost a lite peanut flavor. not too much salt, very lightly seasoned. a must try for anyone wanting a low calorie addition of protien into diet. even the dog loves them. thinks they are some special treat. | very very GOOD. I use them in my ramen noodle hot/sour soup as well. even the dog loves them. |

| | | |
|------|---|--|
| 1155 | Buying this product seems to be almost literally like rolling the dice in a game of craps! My experience with this seems to be similar to the experience of "Peter R.", unfortunately. The price was excellent. I ordered mine after the date of " J. Robert Bois'" positive experience / review was written but before the date of "Cindy 2366's" positive experience / written review. I bought these & gave them to my Dad, as he LOVES dates. I noticed when I was visiting him, the dried fruit basket was hanging around in his 'fridge a lot longer than any other date basket I had ever ordered for him. Finally I asked him about them. He said that he did not want to be rude to me or hurt my feelings but.... the dates, well, he was wondering if he should try & eat the seeds in the center & see if they were soft, because the dates themselves were hard as a rock & tasted stale. I was mortified to say the least... Then he wanted to know (jokingly) if he had done something to make me mad & I bought these for him as his punishment. (No, but I had to laugh when he asked about that.) Me personally, I have not tried them. I will take his word for it! :) I told him to throw it away or put it out for the squirrels. After a week of offering the dates, I picked them up out of his backyard and threw them away. The squirrels, opossums, & raccoons declined to dine on the dates. It seems to be hit or miss with the "Broadway Basketeers Irish St. Patrick's Dried Fruit Gift Basket" purchase. I will not say flat out "NO! Do Not Purchase This Item, It is Not Good!" That is a choice you will have to make on your own. I just wanted to pass along my experience with the gift basket. Thank Goodness I caught it when it was on special & did not have the full current purchase price invested in the box! I would have been really sad then! Amazon, as usual, did a fabulous job with the shipping, packaging, and they arrived quickly, in the time frame advertised / promised. Best of luck & I hope others have better experiences than my Dad / I had! Broadway Basketeers Irish St. Patrick's Dried Fruit Gift Basket | I was mortified to say the least... Then he wanted to know (jokingly) if he had done something to make me mad & I bought these for him as his punishment. I would have been really sad then! Amazon, as usual, did a fabulous job with the shipping, packaging, and they arrived quickly, in the time frame advertised / promised. Best of luck & I hope others have better experiences than my Dad / I had! Broadway Basketeers Irish St. Patrick's Dried Fruit Gift Basket I noticed when I was visiting him, the dried fruit basket was hanging around in his 'fridge a lot longer than any other date basket I had ever ordered for him. Finally I asked him about them. I will take his word for it! |
| 1157 | These dates were absolutely delicious. I was a little bit worried because the one product review that it had was only one star. But as I looked at all the other date reviews, the trend seemed to be bad reviews in the Fall timeframe. I had these delivered mid-January and must say they were quite exquisite. Many thanks for a great treat at a large dinner party. | These dates were absolutely delicious. But as I looked at all the other date reviews, the trend seemed to be bad reviews in the Fall timeframe. Many thanks for a great treat at a large dinner party. |
| 1163 | If you like soft licorice, these cats aren't for you. A perfect anise-y balance of salty and sweet, these little licorice kitties are perfect! You pop one (or several) in your mouth and let them melt a bit before you embark on your flavorful chewy journey. Hard exterior. Lasts forever if you suck on them. Everlasting licorice Katjes!! Very fresh. Super fast shopping too. Thank you guys! | If you like soft licorice, these cats aren't for you. A perfect anise-y balance of salty and sweet, these little licorice kitties are perfect! Everlasting licorice Katjes! Lasts forever if you suck on them. |

| | | |
|------|--|---|
| 1164 | After searching for a more constant and less expensive supply of "real" licorice over my favorite (more about that later), I decided to try this one based upon other reviews and the description. I have to say that I was disappointed. It is not intense enough and a bit too salty for my preference since all that I noticed was salt and more salt until it got down to the licorice flavor which I would characterize as "modest". My all time favorite licorice was discovered years ago while visiting a St. Louis mall has been and remains an excellent choice made by Bissinger's Chocolate Company and they call it French Long Licorice. It is not noticeably salty and packed with flavor without being a sickly-sweet candy. I say that and caution licorice lovers to know their favorite "type" of licorice; this is important when reading reviews and purchasing. I was looking for something not American-style junk candy, with actual licorice extract not anise, chewy, lasting, with true strong licorice flavor and no other flavor overtones. As far as Bissinger's is concerned, they do not make this licorice year round nor advertise it on their website or in their catalogs so you have to call their toll free number and ask if it has been in production. It is expensive but well worth it for excellent flavor and lasting ability (I can enjoy one for at least 15 minutes if I don't chew). These are my favorite thing to have when reading a great book and I limit myself to 2 at a sitting for my "fix"; okay, sometimes 3 if it is a superb book:D. The last time I ordered it they were generous and added a pound of their premium chocolate as a thank-you for being a customer that troubled to find their particular product because I do not live near one of their stores and unless I visit say St. Louis (where it is headquartered) I have to mail-order. Anyway, I prefer my licorice hard and let it soften in my mouth so when I get an order ($56 for 2lbs) I leave it out lightly wrapped for a few days to harden off. That makes it last longer in my mouth and does not affect flavor but that is my personal mouth feel preference. It freezes without problems so I will just have to go back to that and pay for my pleasure and stock up :). Licorice-gotta have it! | I have to say that I was disappointed. I was looking for something not American-style junk candy, with actual licorice extract not anise, chewy, lasting, with true strong licorice flavor and no other flavor overtones. As far as Bissinger's is concerned, they do not make this licorice year round nor advertise it on their website or in their catalogs so you have to call their toll free number and ask if it has been in production. It is not intense enough and a bit too salty for my preference since all that I noticed was salt and more salt until it got down to the licorice flavor which I would characterize as "modest". Licorice-gotta have it! |
| 1167 | This was a disappointment. I use other products from this line/manufacturer on a regular basis. I bought this item as a convenience to carry liquid Stevia in my purse. The first time I went to use it, the liquid was a dark color...almost black..and I had to throw out the latte I was trying to sweeten. All the manufacturer's other liquid products are clear, and, in fact, this is titled "clear liquid". It must have been outdated/spoiled. I had already thrown the packing out, so don't know how it was dated. I tried calling the Amazon supplier, but the call rolled into voice mail. It's not enough money to spend time following-up, but it was disappointing. | I use other products from this line/manufacturer on a regular basis. I had already thrown the packing out, so don't know how it was dated. It must have been outdated/spoiled. |
| 1169 | These tomatoes taste like home canned. When summer is over and heirloom tomatoes no longer are available at the farmers market, these serve as an excellent reminder of the past season and a promise of the next. I originally bought these organic tomatoes for my stepfather, whose heart disease dictated a low sodium diet. And they are incredibly low in sodium. But I soon bought them for myself after I tried them just once. When the local organic grocery store and then Sprouts stopped carrying them, I turned to Amazon for a case. They are as much a staple in my pantry as olive oil. | These tomatoes taste like home canned. They are as much a staple in my pantry as olive oil. But I soon bought them for myself after I tried them just once. |
| 1171 | These are the best canned tomatoes I have tasted. They have a fresh flavor, similar to home-canned. This is my second time buying a set. They are a little more acidic/bright, and have a rounder flavor than other tomatoes. Comes with a basil leaf in each can. Note, the 28 oz tins are a better value than the 14 oz ones. | These are the best canned tomatoes I have tasted. This is my second time buying a set. Note, the 28 oz tins are a better value than the 14 oz ones. |

| | | |
|------|--|---|
| 1176 | I ordered these lollipops for a friends Wizard of Oz themed shower. The arrived packaged well but I noticed the box said they're from "Oriental Trading Company". If I wanted a cheap product that I knew was low quality and from China then I would have bought them directly from their site at $7 for 38 of them!!! However, from the picture these looked well made. The picture is very deceiving and so is the description. They show 16 same-colored lollipops...mine came in a variety of colors. They also gave dimentions that the lollipops were 6"x2". I noticed they looked a bit small and when I measured they didn't even come to 5" long, not any of them...even though they're all differnet lengths. This was very disappointing since I planned to stand them up in a vase of lemon drops. Overall, I'm very disappointed in this product and the seller for not being honest about the product they're providing to consumers. | I ordered these lollipops for a friends Wizard of Oz themed shower. However, from the picture these looked well made. This was very disappointing since I planned to stand them up in a vase of lemon drops. They also gave dimentions that the lollipops were 6"x2". |
| 1181 | I purchased these for my candy buffet at my wedding and I'm not impressed at all. I could have saved money by ordering them directly from Oriental Trading Company which is clearly where they came from. they look cheap and they're not as colorful as shown in the picture. the Oriental Trading Company information is on the back of the wrappers on the lollipops. most of the lollipop sticks are bent and two lollipops arrived broken. the box only has 12 lollipops, but in the description it says there's 16. I would have expected that if I knew they were coming from Oriental Trading Company, but that's not in the description, so I feel ripped off. | I would have expected that if I knew they were coming from Oriental Trading Company, but that's not in the description, so I feel ripped off. the box only has 12 lollipops, but in the description it says there's 16. most of the lollipop sticks are bent and two lollipops arrived broken. |
| 1182 | I had purchased these to go along with a Candyland costume for Halloween. They shipped quickly and were packaged securely with bubble wrap. None of the lollipops were broken in transit. It turns out the costume I ordered (from another seller) didn't fit at all and was made of very cheap material so I couldn't even alter it to fit. Since I had to return the costume, I requested to return these as well. I was immediately fully refunded without even being asked to ship the lollipops back, so the five stars are so the amazing service. Now I think we'll hand out the lollipops with the rest of our Halloween candy, which I think the kids in our neighborhood will love! | I had purchased these to go along with a Candyland costume for Halloween. They shipped quickly and were packaged securely with bubble wrap. I was immediately fully refunded without even being asked to ship the lollipops back, so the five stars are so the amazing service. Now I think we'll hand out the lollipops with the rest of our Halloween candy, which I think the kids in our neighborhood will love! |
| 1186 | Being the candy-lover that I am, I wanted to buy some cute lollipops that I could pull out of my bag and enjoy whenever I felt like it. For that purpose alone, I'd give them five stars. However- at first lick, the lollipop has a slightly off taste; but this goes away after a minute and is not unbearable or disgusting in any way. I laughed quite a bit at the reviews of outraged individuals because the lollipops are 'Made in China'- I'm not dead/dying/sick. Good enough? As well, the text on the wrapper is fine- I wasn't repulsed by it and I'm not afraid to share. I'd only rewrap them if they were for presentation rather than eating. The colors are not as vivid as in the picture, and the lolipops are not glazed- so they do not have that shiny look that many others have. None of mine came broken, and they were well-wrapped. I'm happy with my purchase and plan on eating them all(minus the few that I share with friends), but I'd try something different next time. | Being the candy-lover that I am, I wanted to buy some cute lollipops that I could pull out of my bag and enjoy whenever I felt like it. I laughed quite a bit at the reviews of outraged individuals because the lollipops are 'Made in China'- I'm not dead/dying/sick. For that purpose alone, I'd give them five stars. |
| 1189 | I ordered the lollipops for party favors at my son's 1st birthday party. The lollipops are 2 inches and I used 1.5 inch "thank you" stickers on them. So cute! The description states that 16 lollipops are included in the order. I ordered 2 boxes and only received 12 lollipops in each box. I contacted the seller's customer service. I received a response and apology right away. They promptly corrected the order. I was pleasantly surprised to receive another full box of 12 and not just the 8 I expected. The lollipops are wrapped in bubble wrap. Out of three boxes only one lollipop was cracked. Not a big deal to me since I did receive an extra box. Great lollipop at a great price. | I ordered 2 boxes and only received 12 lollipops in each box. The description states that 16 lollipops are included in the order. I received a response and apology right away. Out of three boxes only one lollipop was cracked. |

| | | |
|------|---|--|
| 1191 | comical that this is considered a 'toy'. I bought these as a decoration for a circus themed baby shower and they arrived in perfect condition. I used them in vases surrounded by colored crinkle cut paper and used as centerpieces on the buffet table. Lots of compliments. I have kept them and plan to use again for future parties. these will not be consumed so no idea how they taste... | I bought these as a decoration for a circus themed baby shower and they arrived in perfect condition. Lots of compliments. these will not be consumed so no idea how they taste... |
| 1192 | Got these as part of a party favor for a rainbow birthday party, so I haven't actually tasted them. The lollipops are cute . . . the wrappers have writing on them, which I wish they didn't (would have been much cuter without the writing). They are a bit smaller than I expected (just slightly larger than a regular lollipop), and a few arrived broken, but really, they were well packaged, and looked cute for the party. | The lollipops are cute . . |
| 1194 | Anyone who has been on a low carb eating program for any period of time will tell you that it gets boring. We are new to the Dixie Carb Counters line, but I was very pleasantly surprised by the excellent taste. Some of the other low carb lines (like Atkins) have a terrible aftertaste, or require the user to have a great imagination. (Yes....this is really supposed to be a chocolate bar.) But the Dixie Carb items are great. Easy to make, nice portion size, great taste, and no imagination required. It really is a muffin! And...no sugar alcohol! My only issue is that they are a little pricey. Otherwise perfect! | Some of the other low carb lines (like Atkins) have a terrible aftertaste, or require the user to have a great imagination. My only issue is that they are a little pricey. And...no sugar alcohol! |
| 1198 | I spent the first five years of my life in Brazil and my American parents both spoke Portuguese fluently and introduced me to Brazilian food and culture. This is one of my favorite foods ever, and the lingering memory I have of Brazil. Fluffy, moist and made out of Tapioca flour, these little rolls are nothing like American cheese bread-- seriously they aren't! Its hard to describe the taste of one these hot out of the oven, and they're just as fabulous cold. Yoki is the best maker of the dry mix, and you just add eggs and oil and pop them in the oven for an easy, delicious treat or side dish. They never turn out wrong. | This is one of my favorite foods ever, and the lingering memory I have of Brazil. Fluffy, moist and made out of Tapioca flour, these little rolls are nothing like American cheese bread-- seriously they aren't! They never turn out wrong. |
| 1204 | Despite what some think there is a ton of fillers in here (see the ingredient list on the Omaha site), but.... that is not a bad thing in this case. They are not unhealthy fillers and these are very delicious. Our kids just love them. We serve one ball as a serving as that is the perfect healthy carb portion for a meal. 1 piece has the following nutrition just in case you are wondering: Calories: 120 Fat: 4.5 Trans Fat: 0 Sodium: 270 Carbohydrate: 17 Protein: 3 For our dinners we try to keep our carb side to under 5 fat & 25 carb. This fits perfectly & the taste is superb. Baked in the oven, they come out crispy on the outside and moist and tender on the inside. All with no grease. We now keep these on hand instead of french fries. I know they cost more, but they taste better and they are so much healthier. We wait for one of the sales and buy several boxes at a time. | I know they cost more, but they taste better and they are so much healthier. 1 piece has the following nutrition just in case you are wondering: Calories: 120 Fat: 4.5 Trans Fat: 0 Sodium: 270 Carbohydrate: 17 Protein: 3 For our dinners we try to keep our carb side to under 5 fat & 25 carb. This fits perfectly & the taste is superb. Despite what some think there is a ton of fillers in here (see the ingredient list on the Omaha site), but.... that is not a bad thing in this case. |

| | | |
|------|---|---|
| 1206 | For christmas I ordered some coupons from my daughters school for $30.00 off Ohama steaks. I was excited to try them as I have been bombarded with their ads for the last 2 years and I was ready to test them out. I went on-line and looked at their packages and was so looking forward to receiving my package of fine foods and cook them. I made my choice and fell for some of the last min. add-ons, by choice. I went to pay and use the gift cards and well you can only use one at a time, having 2 for $15.00 I naturally thought I was getting $30.00 off the total. With that said I was still willing to go ahead with the order. $129.00 later I had ordered one of the package deals and the add-ons. I received my order ups in 5-7 days packaged in a styro cooler. packaged in the cooler were several cardboard boxes with vacuumed packaged tiny steaks. I am a person who loves to grill and do so about 4 nights a week, so I know a little about meat, and how to cook it. First this is not high end Dry-aged meat or wet aged this is inferior to quality meat that can be bought at a good butcher. The steaks are about $30.00 a pound after shipping and the high prices. The Hamburgers are tiny frozen pucks that are dry. I am so disappointed in the quantity and quality, I really have no words to describe how disappointed I am with this whole deal. To top everything off I received a e-mail coupon for $20.00 off my next order so the coupon that I purchased was $5.00 more than on-line deals. Wow Do yourself a favor and spend your money in a good butcher shop of grocery store!!! | add-ons, by choice. I went to pay and use the gift cards and well you can only use one at a time, having 2 for $15.00 I naturally thought I was getting $30.00 off the total. To top everything off I received a e-mail coupon for $20.00 off my next order so the coupon that I purchased was $5.00 more than on-line deals. packaged in the cooler were several cardboard boxes with vacuumed packaged tiny steaks. The Hamburgers are tiny frozen pucks that are dry. |
| 1207 | These are actually very tasty. Pure potatoes with a great texture and no nasty filler "stuff." No bacon, no cheese...just tasty potatoes. They cook well in either the oven or microwave. I add a touch of either salt & pepper or fajita seasoning to spice it up. I rated 4 out of 5 stars because they could be a bit bigger portion. However, this item is a fairly good value for the money. | No bacon, no cheese...just tasty potatoes. I add a touch of either salt & pepper or fajita seasoning to spice it up. I rated 4 out of 5 stars because they could be a bit bigger portion. |
| 1215 | I was surprised at the size of these potatoes. I have bought them at my local grocery store before and was disappointed that they were so small. These are perfect!! Tasty, cook just right. Love 'em!! | I was surprised at the size of these potatoes. These are perfect!! |
| 1216 | These potatoes are good. But i don't know if I'd get them again. The garlic taste to me was off and strong. And I LOVE garlic. Hoping I just got an "off" batch. | These potatoes are good. But i don't know if I'd get them again. The garlic taste to me was off and strong. |

| | | |
|------|--|---|
| 1219 | I received 4 of these in my first ever Omaha Steaks order that I received today. I wasn't sure what to expect, but so far, I've been pleased. I tore the plastic open, put the frozen potato on a baking sheet in the oven and put it on 350. 45 minutes later it was done and turned out being delicious. The cheese filling was crispy on-top and the potato itself underneath was nice and soft. No way would they come out as good if put in the microwave, so I'd say oven cooking these is definitely the way to go. Now, you can obviously make your own stuffed baked potatoes for far cheaper than what Omaha charges for these alone, but as long as you get a good deal on the Omaha website, these simply make a great addition to any Omaha steaks order. As delicious as they are though, I wouldn't order a box of JUST these off the site due to the added shipping costs. But like I said, as long as they're part of a nicely priced packaged deal, I'll definitely take them. Actually, I probably wouldn't order any packaged deal in the future from Omaha that didn't include these. A big plus, at least for me, is if you check the ingredients list on these, there's no partially hydrogenated oils, so there's no traces of trans fats, which is very rare with stuffed baked potatoes. Also no high fructose corn syrup, which is another rarity on a food product like this and is always a plus. If you make your own or buy them frozen from your grocery store for example, chances are, the butter used, sour cream, etc. will be full of chemicals, trans fats & high fructose corn syrup. These, not so much. So there is a definite degree of quality with Omahas stuffed baked potatoes. Each potato does have 8 grams of saturated fat, which is 42% the DRV, but that's obviously to be expected with anything that contains bacon, cheese and sour cream. I was also expecting there to be no fiber, but it turns out there's 3grams of fiber per baked potato half. Another plus. Overall, the stuffed baked potato was very tasty and actually relatively healthy, being made with quality ingredients. | I was also expecting there to be no fiber, but it turns out there's 3grams of fiber per baked potato half. I was also expecting there to be no fiber, but it turns out there's 3grams of fiber per baked potato half. So there is a definite degree of quality with Omahas stuffed baked potatoes. will be full of chemicals, trans fats & high fructose corn syrup. These, not so much. |
| 1221 | I got these in the mail today, i know right, sounds so weird to say i got hash browns in the mail, haha. Come in dry ice cooler and were in box all in their own lil plastic bags. Just stick them on a baking sheet for 35 min. at 400 degrees. when you get them out of the oven you smell the cheese and it has nice crunchy outside with creamy potato inside, if you want the best side dish to your steak or other meat, hey could even use for breakfast with some eggs and sausage, your choice, this get a 5/5 for taste, 5/5 for presentation, buy these now, great price too, thanks for your time, and thank you omaha steaks, the best at great prices. | Just stick them on a baking sheet for 35 min. I got these in the mail today, i know right, sounds so weird to say i got hash browns in the mail, haha. at 400 degrees. |
| 1222 | January 3, 2011 I purchased these potatoes from Omaha Steaks online last week. I was not sure what to expect ... The au gratin potatoes I had seen and tasted before were sliced potatoes with globbs of gooey cheese sauce, and by the looks of them, this certainly wasn't it ... I opened the box and got out my skillet. The first thing that I noticed is that these things were huge ... like a gigantic tater tot. I browned them on both sides about 10 minutes each. To my surprise, they were very tasty. Texture was light fluffy and the potatoes tasted extra fresh .. not frozen or freezer burned. I liked them alot. I think these are perfect for kids ... none of the flavors were overpowering and great texture ... I give these 4 stars. | January 3, 2011 I purchased these potatoes from Omaha Steaks online last week. The au gratin potatoes I had seen and tasted before were sliced potatoes with globbs of gooey cheese sauce, and by the looks of them, this certainly wasn't it ... The first thing that I noticed is that these things were huge ... like a gigantic tater tot. I liked them alot. |
| 1223 | So so good! Delicious, easy to prepare food! I would definitely order again. Had a gourmet taste, and took only minutes to get ready. Yum!!! | So so good! Had a gourmet taste, and took only minutes to get ready. |

| | | |
|------|---|---|
| 1228 | Potatoes were good. Two 12 oz trays will be enough for 4 adults so really not worth the money honestly. $10 for two little trays is a lot even for the ease and quality. Like I said they were good and easy to prepare and thankfully only four of us for x-mas dinner today or I wouldn't have had enough. 24 oz. of potatoes sounds bigger then it is lol. (not Omaha's fault) | Potatoes were good. Like I said they were good and easy to prepare and thankfully only four of us for x-mas dinner today or I wouldn't have had enough. of potatoes sounds bigger then it is lol. |
| 1232 | I'm a big fan of Outburst Energy Bites, and the peanut ones are probably my favorite. They're reasonably priced and a great snack. Think of peanut M&M's and a coffee all at once. Since they taste so good, it is very tempting to eat the whole box. They claim it's a lot of caffeine, but it doesn't feel like more than a big coffee or a large energy drink, so I usually give in to the temptation! I highly recommend these! | They're reasonably priced and a great snack. I'm a big fan of Outburst Energy Bites, and the peanut ones are probably my favorite. Since they taste so good, it is very tempting to eat the whole box. |
| 1236 | I originally found this Roasted Garlic Juice at one of those roadside shops that sell a variety of foodstuffs, plants and ice cream. That was about a year ago and unfortunately, the place is now out of business. I was getting low on it and was glad to find it here on Amazon, as I couldn't find anything even close at any grocery store in a 50-mile radius. Store Managers were saying they never heard of pure garlic juice. I told them if they carried it, they would sell a lot. I have used this product for many dishes and marinades and the flavor can't be beat! It is pungent yet smooth and will bring out the flavor in any meat or dish you can imagine. I prefer the Roasted over the Cold Pressed, but both are great in their own way. It's nice to be able to pour or spray. Bottom line: If you are a garlic lover, buy this!!!! | That was about a year ago and unfortunately, the place is now out of business. Store Managers were saying they never heard of pure garlic juice. I told them if they carried it, they would sell a lot. I have used this product for many dishes and marinades and the flavor can't be beat! |
| 1237 | It's a great product- especially if you like garlic! No need for "slicing & dicing! (Which is a good thing when your right side is "stroke paralyzed") Just garlic too- not an "oily & salty product" Just plain or roasted GARLIC ! And it lasts a long time too! | No need for "slicing & dicing! And it lasts a long time too! Just garlic too- not an "oily & salty product" Just plain or roasted GARLIC ! |
| 1239 | I love the taste of real garlic - not the granulated or brined stuff. These are great flavoring agents, especially for popcorn as a liquid in glazes and rubs. Love the choice between roasted and raw, and a little goes a long way. I first bought this product 2 years ago. Despite using one or the other at least once a week, I am only now needing to replace them. Yum! | I love the taste of real garlic - not the granulated or brined stuff. Love the choice between roasted and raw, and a little goes a long way. I first bought this product 2 years ago. |
| 1240 | I had heard about their prickly pear tea in a forum and decided to try it since I hadn't had any since I was in Arizona. It was better than I remembered! I tried it first hot and then used the remainder for ice tea and both were really good. The company delivered super fast too which was great. I recommend this tea highly, particularly if you like prickly pear teas. | It was better than I remembered! I had heard about their prickly pear tea in a forum and decided to try it since I hadn't had any since I was in Arizona. I recommend this tea highly, particularly if you like prickly pear teas. |
| 1241 | Loose prickly pear tea makes a great iced tea but it is very difficult to find in pure form. This tea is black tea with prickly pear "flavor". The shipping cost is twice the cost of the tea. If there is a prickly pear component it is all but undetectable when I drink it. It just tastes like regular black tea. Very disappointing. | This tea is black tea with prickly pear "flavor". The shipping cost is twice the cost of the tea. If there is a prickly pear component it is all but undetectable when I drink it. |
| 1243 | I just received my shipment and could hardly wait to try this product. We love "slicers" which is what we call them, instead of stickers because they can be removed so easily. My daughter designed signs to be printed in reverse to use on her car windows. They printed beautifully (we have 'The Print Shop' program). I am going to have a lot of fun with this product because there are windows everywhere and other surfaces like tv screens and computer monitors. | I just received my shipment and could hardly wait to try this product. My daughter designed signs to be printed in reverse to use on her car windows. They printed beautifully (we have 'The Print Shop' program). |

| | | |
|------|---|---|
| 1245 | After years of drinking Red Bull, Rockstar, Monster and some others, I have found the holy grail of energy drinks. It kicks in within 2-3 minutes and it lasts an entire work day. After seven hours or so, you gradually come down. There is no anxiety or disphoria when it wears off. You just get very sleepy when you finally rest. Redline Power Rush is the very best product on the market. If it were illegal I would buy it on the black market. 'Nuff said. | It kicks in within 2-3 minutes and it lasts an entire work day. After years of drinking Red Bull, Rockstar, Monster and some others, I have found the holy grail of energy drinks. There is no anxiety or disphoria when it wears off. |
| 1246 | The normal 15oz can is too much SPAM for one person. The 7oz version is perfect for me to make two sandwiches. I cut the block in half. Each half I cut into 4 slices. The 4 slices are perfect to lay on top of a toast. With some salad green and 2nd toast, it becomes a quick and filling lunch sandwich when I hike or backpack (need sodium to replace electrolyte). The 2nd half will become my 2nd sandwich if I do overnight backpacking (for dinner). | The 7oz version is perfect for me to make two sandwiches. Each half I cut into 4 slices. With some salad green and 2nd toast, it becomes a quick and filling lunch sandwich when I hike or backpack (need sodium to replace electrolyte). |
| 1247 | Our family loves SPAM and Amazon makes it so easy and such a great deal to buy in bulk. The 7-ounce size is perfect for our use. Amazing what you can use SPAM for. Add it to all your favorite recipes in place of other meats! Super convenient to have it come in automatic shipments without having to give it a second thought! | Super convenient to have it come in automatic shipments without having to give it a second thought! Amazing what you can use SPAM for. The 7-ounce size is perfect for our use. |
| 1249 | Well worth the price. Very large chocolate truffles that taste amazing. Can't wait for Amazon to get them again. 1 January 2012. Just browsed to the truffle page and had a mini heart attack when I saw the price. They were $12.00 when I purchased them in 2011. | Very large chocolate truffles that taste amazing. Just browsed to the truffle page and had a mini heart attack when I saw the price. 1 January 2012. |
| 1250 | So disappointed with this frosting. The first time I used this frosting I was disappointed, but a year has gone by and I thought that maybe I had gotten a bad container. I really should have thought twice about buying it again, but I wanted to give Pillsbury the benefit of the doubt. Boy was I wrong in doing that. Both times that I used it, the frosting pretty much 'sagged' off of the cake! My cakes were definitely cooled. I had even put the latest one in the freezer to slice into layers. After thawing it in the fridge, I began to ice it. Sure enough after putting the frosting on it just started to slide off of the cake (again)! This product needs to either be marketed as cupcake frosting, the recipe needs tweaked, or it needs to be pulled off of the shelves all together. Shame on me for trying it a second time! | The first time I used this frosting I was disappointed, but a year has gone by and I thought that maybe I had gotten a bad container. My cakes were definitely cooled. Sure enough after putting the frosting on it just started to slide off of the cake (again)! Shame on me for trying it a second time! |
| 1257 | After you've made the customary, authentic English trifle with Bird's custard powder you might not want to go back to the usual grocery-store pudding packages. I DID purchase a large quantity of Bird's custard power, the pack of six, but the packs have a longish shelf life, and I enjoyed sending a surprise pack/container to a friend who is originally from England. At Christmas, I will also include a container of Bird's custard powder to special relatives and friends so they can learn how easy it is to make excellent trifle with this product. For my non-English family and friends, I will include laminated instructions based on my own successes with Bird's custard recipe for trifle. English trifle is so easy to make with the following: Bird's custard powder, store-bought pound cake, thawed frozen fruit, some sherry wine (or slightly sweetened juice from the thawed frozen fruit) poured over the small slices of cake. For the final touch, add non-dairy whipped "creme." Delicious and inexpensive! I highly recommend this product and am so pleased to be able to purchase it through Amazon. And the price for the six containers is so very reasonable as to almost be unreal. Go for it! | After you've made the customary, authentic English trifle with Bird's custard powder you might not want to go back to the usual grocery-store pudding packages. Delicious and inexpensive! I highly recommend this product and am so pleased to be able to purchase it through Amazon. |
| 1259 | I am from England and I was raised on this custard. If you like vanilla custard/pudding you will love this. It's rich and creamy and has lots of vanilla taste. I love that it comes in a big canister and I can make as much as I want to. I would never make a trifle with anything else. | I am from England and I was raised on this custard. If you like vanilla custard/pudding you will love this. I love that it comes in a big canister and I can make as much as I want to. |

| | | |
|------|---|---|
| 1265 | I actually use this mix to make vegetable biryani and it works well for this purpose, with some slight adjustments to the recipe. I do have one caveat about the product, but it's about the recipe given, not the spice mix. I think the amount of ghee it is suggested you use (200 grams) is too much, and you can easily use 100 grams instead. Also, I think it's easier to mix the spices and yogurts first and cover the chicken (or vegetables) with the mix to marinate than to mix it in the pan while frying. To make vegan biryani you can substitute vegetables for chicken, coconut milk for yogurt, and safflower or peanut oil for ghee. Overall this spice mix makes the tastiest biryani I've had outside of a restaurant, and even rivals some of them. And the price makes this an incredible deal--there are 2 bags per package and there are 6 packages, so this makes 12 large batches for ~$13 with free shipping. I will definitely order more when I run out. | I think the amount of ghee it is suggested you use (200 grams) is too much, and you can easily use 100 grams instead. I actually use this mix to make vegetable biryani and it works well for this purpose, with some slight adjustments to the recipe. I do have one caveat about the product, but it's about the recipe given, not the spice mix. I will definitely order more when I run out. |
| 1266 | I love this tea. It has a mild flavor and no caffeine. The only problem is that the string comes detached from the bag after about a minute in hot water. This doesn't happen once in a while, it happens nearly every time. Triple Leaf Tea, please fix this bag issue. It's frustrating to the point where I may look for a similar tea from another company. | I love this tea. It has a mild flavor and no caffeine. It's frustrating to the point where I may look for a similar tea from another company. |
| 1269 | A friend sent me two boxes of this for Christmas. I thought it an odd gift, as I can just go out and buy herbal tea. Shortly thereafter, I was flung into major stress and chaos during an extreme family crisis. I started drinking this tea to help with unexpected stomach pains and it worked! Not only that, during this time, other family members got physically ill, but I was able to carry on without catching the bug. Since then, I'm a believer. I make this as iced tea for daytime and drink a cup at night before bed. | Shortly thereafter, I was flung into major stress and chaos during an extreme family crisis. A friend sent me two boxes of this for Christmas. I started drinking this tea to help with unexpected stomach pains and it worked! |
| 1272 | I've been feeding liver biscotti for years. I was looking for a healthy treat without additives for my epileptic dog (additives can be a seizure trigger) and liver biscotti filled the bill. The ingredients are top-quality. The bite-size bits are perfect for training and don't muck up your pockets. The bite-size portions also make it possible to give rewards without adding pounds, which is a problem with other treats. And for dogs with wheat and other sensitivities, there is an anti-allergenic recipe. Enthusiastically recommended! | I've been feeding liver biscotti for years. The ingredients are top-quality. The bite-size portions also make it possible to give rewards without adding pounds, which is a problem with other treats. |
| 1274 | My 2 dogs love this treat. When my oldest (male) was younger, he would sit down, stand up, go down, roll over, etc. and do every trick in his repertoire before I even gave him a command whenever I pulled out a bag of the liver biscotti. My female also loves this but she's a little less silly. Also, this has never upset their stomachs nor caused allergic reactions. I finally had to find a place that sold this in bulk (i.e., 5 lbs. bags) since I was going to the store ALL the time to buy more of these. I also stuff their Kongs with a combo of these and their regular kibble and some pumpkin and freeze it. I highly recommend this treat. | My female also loves this but she's a little less silly. Also, this has never upset their stomachs nor caused allergic reactions. and do every trick in his repertoire before I even gave him a command whenever I pulled out a bag of the liver biscotti. |
| 1275 | Five of my five dogs agree - they'd rather munch liver biscotti than almost anything else. I pull out a treat and they come running. It cheers 'em up, encourages them to obey, lets 'em know I love 'em, and got me over some really rough training spots with my 90 pound puppy!!! And in a few instances when I've been slow producing the goodie, they've cornered me and dug in my pocket themselves! I think it's a hit! | I pull out a treat and they come running. And in a few instances when I've been slow producing the goodie, they've cornered me and dug in my pocket themselves! I think it's a hit! |
| 1287 | I have two dogs that absolutely love these treats! The 5lb bag size that I purchased is very convenient and long lasting. The vendor that I purchased them from is very thorough; several emails were sent updating me on the status of my order and it's upcoming delivery. The price was extremely reasonable. The best part is the fact that my pups adore these treats and they are good for them to nibble on throughout the day. A guilt free doggie reward! | I have two dogs that absolutely love these treats! The 5lb bag size that I purchased is very convenient and long lasting. A guilt free doggie reward! |

| | | |
|------|--|--|
| 1291 | The ultimate treat for dogs of all sizes. Our dogs are absolutely crazy for Liver Biscotti. We love the size of this treat, it makes it very easy to use them as daily treats and not worry that you are over feeding. The size is also great for using as bait for conformation showing. We love the fact that all natural ingredients with no preservatives are used. All you have to do is open the bag and smell what's inside. It smells so good, you might be tempted to try one too. We love the 5 pound bag. Having multiple dogs, this bag really is a cost saver. You'll see significant savings over buying the small 8oz bags. It also makes a great gift for your dog loving/owning friends, spread the joy of Liver Biscotti! | You'll see significant savings over buying the small 8oz bags. It also makes a great gift for your dog loving/owning friends, spread the joy of Liver Biscotti! Our dogs are absolutely crazy for Liver Biscotti. All you have to do is open the bag and smell what's inside. |
| 1299 | After a second purchase of a 12-oz Beer Nuts Peanuts 6-pack, I can level no complaints. The shipment again arrived without any adverse settling such as clumping inside the cans. Although the flavor may be a bit duller than my abiding childhood memory of them, this may be attributable instead to the diminished taste buds of a middle-ager. Nonetheless, everyone I know who has tried this product likes it. Either as a stand-alone snack or as an adjunct to a couple of beers, Beer Nuts is a tasty, if understated winner. | The shipment again arrived without any adverse settling such as clumping inside the cans. After a second purchase of a 12-oz Beer Nuts Peanuts 6-pack, I can level no complaints. Nonetheless, everyone I know who has tried this product likes it. |
| 1300 | this is the second time ordering beer nuts....i can not find them anywhere in local stores. the shipment came (6 cans per order) and 2 cans were damaged. called amazon customer service and the next day another 6 cans appeared at my door. the nuts are always great (unless can is damaged and nuts are stale) but the customer service was the shining star. thank you !! will order again | the shipment came (6 cans per order) and 2 cans were damaged. this is the second time ordering beer nuts....i can not find them anywhere in local stores. |
| 1302 | I am 76 years old and I have eaten these nuts for many years. The ones mailed to me are very tastey. The only problem is that they were jostled around and a lot of the red skins came off and went to the bottom of the can. No big deal but it would have been better if they had stayed on the nuts. I will order from Amazon again. | The ones mailed to me are very tastey. No big deal but it would have been better if they had stayed on the nuts. I will order from Amazon again. |
| 1303 | Not always available at our local stores. I love them. They are especially good watching football games, with you favorite malt beverage. This is a good deal, and super fast delivery, too. The nuts were fresh and tasty, as always. | Not always available at our local stores. I love them. They are especially good watching football games, with you favorite malt beverage. |